HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 20. Wilson, of Ind., from the judicial committee, reported a resolution for the impeachment of Judge Buxton, of Alabama, for high crimes and misdemeanors.

Ceasura presented the minority report. Both were ordered printed. Lamar, from the election committee, reported a resolution authorizing the issuing of a subpoena duces tecum, to John McEnery, of Louisiana, and others, requiring them to produce the original election returns before the committee on elections, on or before the first Monday in December next; adopted.

The Speaker presented a message from the President calling the attention of the House to the low rate of interest in the bill to provide a government for the District of Columbia, on the bonds to be issued for the debts of the District, and suggesting that the rate be increased in order to insure the file of the bonds at par.

EASTERN.

RAILROADS.—The House bill passed the Senate on the 19th inst., for the relief of the settlers on railroad lands, is in lieu of the bill which recently received much attention from the California press; the danger apprehended from its passage had been averted by the adoption of two amendments by Hager, and supported by Sargent, providing that neither mineral lands nor lands reserved on any land grant, made for railroad purposes, should be taken in lieu of settlers' lands relinquished. The bill also contains provisions that its privileges shall not, in any manner, be construed to enlarge any railroad land grant.

The House bill, subjecting all railroad lands to local taxation has been reported by Hager from the committee. The amendment is in the nature of a substitute, declaring that all portions of the Union and Central Pacific Railroad and their branches upon which trains have been run during the last year, are hereby accepted as complete within the meaning of the 3rd section of the act of July 1st, '62, and directing that patents shall issue for all lands granted in aid thereof as rapidly as the U. S. surveyors can complete the surveys, shall be made at the cost of the government, the requirement of the act of July 2nd, '64, that the grantees shall pay the cost of surveys being hereby repealed. The argument for reporting this substitute instead of the House provisions, is that patents shall be offered to railroads and, in case of a refusal to accept local taxation, might be based on the certified lists furnished by the land office to the governors of the respective States or Territories, is substantially as follows: by the act of '62, all lands remaining unsurveyed three years after the completion of the road were to be opened to homestead and pre-emption settlement; by the act of '64 the railroads were required to pay for the survey when they appropriate lands; and that by giving them the power to postpone the issuance of patents by refusing to accept the survey, they are enabled to appropriate lands without paying for the survey, and the Secretary of the Interior withhold the further issuance of patents until the lands before the patents were issued. The provision in favor of the settlers in the act of '62 will be defeated if left optional with the government to accept the patents; or if the department order withholding the lands remains in force the States and Territories would be defrauded of the lands. The provision in the substitute, therefore, it is claimed, will remove all obstacles and accomplish the objects desired.

Busted to be impeached, &c.
The Senate has agreed to the following amendments to the sundry civil bill: increasing the sum for a survey in Oregon from $40,000 to $60,000; for machinery and fitting up the new mint at San Francisco $8,000, to be made available immediately; and for fitting up the refinery in said mint $34,500; for repairing and fitting up the old branch mint at San Francisco for a sub-treasury and other government offices, $20,000; for a United States mint at Carson city, $15,000.

Oakland Harbor to be Improved.
In the Senate, Mr. Sargent moved an amendment to the river and harbor appropriation bill, appropriating a hundred thousand dollars for the improvement of the harbor at Oakland, Cal., according to the plan reported by the government engineers; agreed to.

Appropriations for the Apaches Bill Signed.
NEW YORK, 20.—The only feature of importance in the conference committee's report on the deficiency appropriation bill is a recommendation to fix the amount of the deficiency appropriation for the Apaches of Arizona and New Mexico at $500,000 instead of $200,000 as passed by the House and $500,000 as increased by the Senate.

The President has signed the bill providing for a new government for the District of Columbia.

Last Night's Dispatches.

SENATE.
WASHINGTON, 21.—Spencer called up the House bill relative to the circuit courts of the U. S. in Alabama, which was discussed at some length and passed. The Senate then, at 3:30 a.m. on Sunday, adjourned.

EASTERN.

Executive Clemency—Status to Bunyan, &c.
NEW YORK, 21.—Louis M. Van Eaton, of Wall St., sentenced in March '71 to nine years' imprisonment in Sing Sing, has been pardoned by Governor Dix, and it is reported that he is to come before a grand jury here in N. Y. or West Chester.

An attempt was made at Greenwich, Conn., on the Boston and New York Railroad, to throw a passenger train from the track by means of an immense boulder placed on the track in a covered bridge; the pilot was smashed, but no other damage was done.

The English papers of the 11th inst. report the unveiling of a statue to Bunyan at Bedford, the previous day, by Lady Augusta Stanley, the Duchess of Devonshire, and an address on the life and times of Bunyan.

The Belgian elections show a net gain of four members to the Liberal party in the Chamber of Representatives, and three in the Senate, reducing the government majority to fourteen; the minister of public works has lost his seat.

San Diego Harbor—P. O. Abuses.
In the Senate, last night, Hager submitted an amendment appropriating $50,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary, for the protection of the harbor of San Diego, Cal., by turning the San Diego river into the false bay. He spoke of the harbor as being "a cesspool," and of the necessity for protecting it, unless something should be done the harbor would be filled up with sand from the interior. The harbor was one prepared by nature, and it was being destroyed for want of a few thousand dollars to protect it. The amendment was agreed to, June 23, next.

The House postal committee, late last night, submitted a report on the abuses and irregularities said to exist in the post office department in relation to certain mail contracts, payment to contractors and contracts for temporary service. The committee, after an elaborate report, recommended that the bill be passed, and that the committee be authorized to insert the word hereafter, and that amended the bill was passed.

WASHINGTON NOTES.
HOUSE, Washington, 16. — Mr. Smith, (N. Y.), from the committee on elections, reported a bill declaring the qualifications for territorial delegates in the House of Representatives. (The bill provides that no person shall be a delegate who is not twenty-five years of age and has seven years residence in the United States, and when elected an inhabitant of the Territory from whence elected, and no person guilty of bigamy or polygamy shall be eligible.)

Mr. Smith said the legal effect would be to disqualify the suggestion of Mr. Cox consented to insert the word hereafter, and that amended the bill was passed.

Washington, 16.—The House under the leadership of Mr. Smith, without considerable opposition, passed a bill declaring that polygamy shall render a delegate ineligible. The bill was passed, and the word "hereafter" was inserted, which exempts Mormon apostles from the operation of the act. —Cleveland Herald.

The impression seems to be gaining ground that Congress will not be ready to adjourn on Monday next, for the reason that there is much business of importance before it, and that they will be unable to dispose of by the time mentioned. Among the important measures remaining to be acted upon are the currency, moiety and several appropriation bills, also the bill to provide a government for the District of Columbia. All of these measures will evoke considerable discussion, and it is doubted if they can be disposed of as early as Monday next. A strong effort will be made, however, through night sessions and extra adjournments, to get the business on hand for an adjournment on that day. —Washington Star, June 15.

Washington, June 15.—Hundreds of visitors are now here between the two houses, and either in public meetings or in the privacy of their homes, they are daily to be found at the doors of the two houses and in the corridors of the Capitol, all the time being called out in response to their cards, while not a few receive important visitors at their residences. —New York Herald.

Military Lawlessness.
General Morrow, commanding at Camp Douglas in Utah, seems disposed to discount the Poland bill before it becomes a law, and apparently assumes that the municipal government of Salt Lake City, being Mormons, have no right to maintain order in their streets. A soldier belonging to his command was arrested by three for being drunk and disorderly within the city limits, and very properly looked up. General Morrow, indignant at the rebellious spirit thus manifested, ordered the soldier to be taken to the prison door, and meeting with no resistance, carried off the prisoner in triumph.

If General Morrow committed this outrage on his own responsibility, he should be tried before a court martial and punished; but if, as is asserted, he acted under instructions from the Secretary of War, that official should be made to understand that his action is illegal. The Territory of Utah, under regular government, is duly authorized and recognized by the United States; and it is the province and the duty of the local officers to deal with disorderly persons who commit outrages within their precincts, whether they are soldiers or civilians.

Ever since Grant has been in power a disposition has been manifested on the part of a certain class of army officers to conduct themselves as if they were superior beings to the laws of the land, and the sooner all concerned, from the President and the Secretary of War down, learn that the military are answerable to the civil authority, the easier it will be for them to recede from pretensions which cannot be tolerated. This case is a notable example of the existence of a privileged military class. —New York Sun.

Put Yourself in Their Place.
During the last few days we have been receiving extraordinary intelligence from the capital of Utah. The procedure there by the military was so unexpected and extraordinary, that, leaving out of the question all consideration of the relative merits of the "Gentile" and "Mormon" cause, we will review briefly the clash between the United States military forces and the civil authorities of Salt Lake.

"Placing ourselves in their place," let us suppose, for example, that the following item of news had appeared in the daily papers of yesterday (Friday) evening: "We will leave out of the question the military and national headlines, and proceed:

"A soldier came into the city last night from the Presidio, while going along Kearney street, having become drunk in the meantime, he committed a breach of the peace, for which he was arrested by the police and locked up in the city prison. Early this morning Lieutenant Howe, from the Presidio, made a demand for the surrender of the soldier, which was refused. This refusal being made known to Col. Brooks, the commander at the Presidio, Major Stewart, with a full company of infantry, was dispatched to take the soldier at all hazards. The squad came in armed with muskets and their ordinary side-arms, and halting in front of the city hall, they formed in line and proceeded to load their guns. Meantime the news spread like wildfire and an immense crowd of people gathered in front of the city hall. Major Stewart entered the City Hall and asked for Chief Cockrill, but he was not in his office and could not be found anywhere. Major then demanded that the imprisoned soldier should be delivered up to him for trial by the military authorities, but the demand being again refused, Major Stewart led his command down through the basement, and breaking an entrance into the prison, took the soldier into the cell where he was confined, amid deafening cheers and shouts from the troops, who then, placing their rescued comrade in the center, marched out of the city hall. Presiding the walking singling with cheers."

Editor Deseret News:
At 12 o'clock on the night of the 17th (last Wednesday) the majority of the people were awakened from their peaceful slumbers by a rumbling sound followed immediately after by a hard earthquake as has ever been experienced in these valleys, so hard in fact, that it was a wonder that the house hanging on the side of my house at least one foot from the wall. A door standing in Bishop's street was thrown from its hinges and was done to our legs shattering by shaking the door out. The shock passed from East and lasted about one minute.
