OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

Ogden, May 4.—One of the leading social events of the week was the wedding of Miss Pearl E. Cook, one of Ogden's most charming young ladies and Mr. J. A. Smith. The ceremony was performed at the house of the bride's parents, No. 735 Twenty-fifth street, Rev. Evans of the Baptist church officiating. Miss Cook was stenographer at the Co-operative Water & Machine company, and the groom is bookkeeper for the Eccles Lumber Co. and son of Prof. J. A. Smith of the future Mountain Business college. The affair was quiet, only the relatives and a few of the intimate friends of the contracting parties being present. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make Ogden their home, and their many friends join in wishing them much happiness and prosperity on the sea of matrimony.

Mrs. Hogan, with her children and nurse from Terrace, Utah, are registered at the Lincoln hotel. They will spend a week in Ogden, visiting with friends.

Mrs. William Rouse and Miss Charlotte Rouse, from Terrace, Utah, are visiting with friends in Ogden.

Mr. D. J. Evans, with the Studebaker Wagon Co., was in Ogden this week with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell will leave Monday to visit with relatives and friends in Indiana. Mr. Powell is traveling freeman of the Union Pacific.

Prof. Radcliff of Salt Lake is in Ogden on business.

Mrs. Hayes and children of Terrace, Utah, are guests at the Lincoln.

Mr. Wm. Critchlow, wife and daughter, Mrs. Stahr and her daughters Annie and Eva, left Thursday for a month's visit in California. They will visit San Francisco, Los Angeles and the principal cities of the state.

Mrs. George A. Kerr was in Provo the past week attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Harding.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sims are visiting in Evanston, Wyoming.

The young people of the Presbyterian church gave an entertainment at the church last evening, consisting of colored stereoscopic views of Ogden and Bear River canyon, Observatory Peak, Salt Lake City and Honolulu; there was a large attendance, and all were pleasantly entertained.

Dr. Stafford of Salt Lake City, who has just returned from Europe, was a guest of Dr. Rich.

The closing Wednesday evening dance at Christensen's was largely attended, and all enjoyed a good time. Cooling refreshments were served during the evening, and it was with regret that the dancers left for home.

The ladies of the Episcopal church gave a very pleasing entertainment Thursday evening in the Guild hall.

Miss Anna Moench, daughter of Dr. Karl Moench, was very pleasantly surprised Thursday evening at the home on Twenty-seventh street. The INTERIOR GLIMPSES OF SALT LAKE HOMES.

PROFESSOR EVAN STEPHENS IN HIS STUDIO.

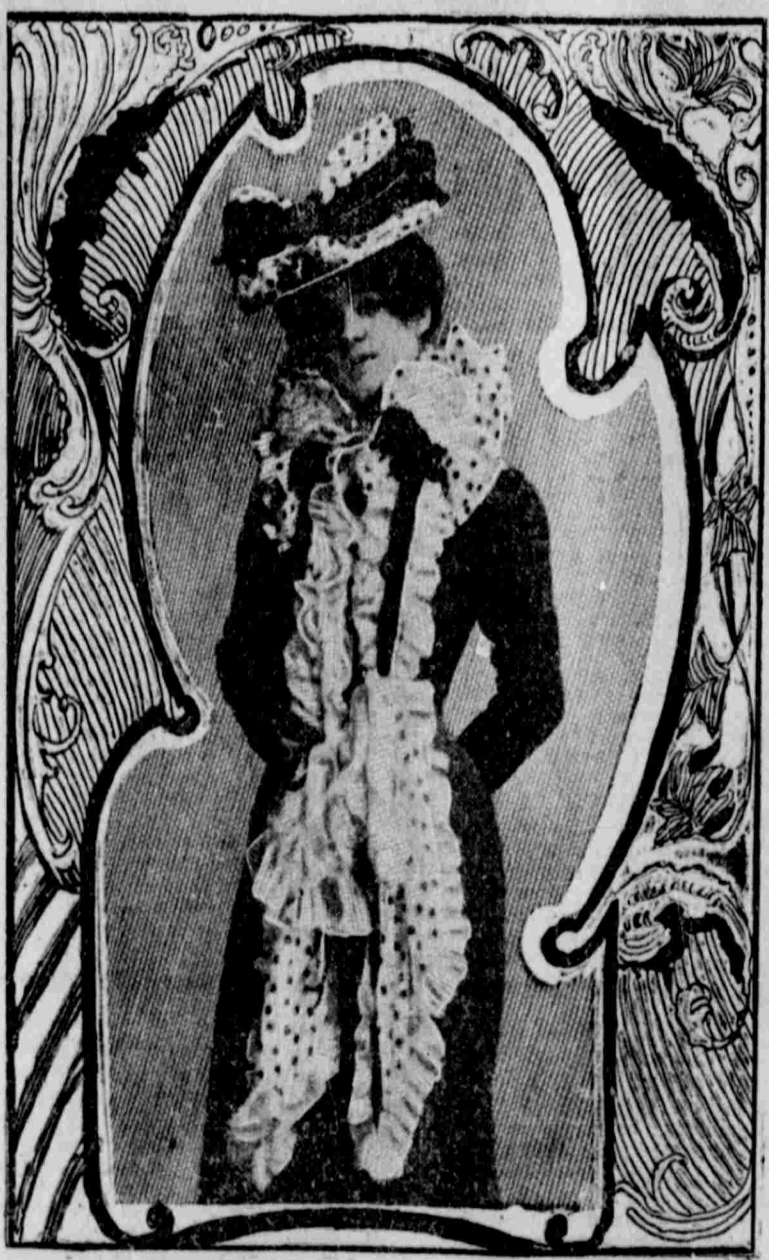

The central figure of the above cut will readily be recognized as Prof. Evan Stephens. He is seated composedly in his beautiful studio, which he almost converts into his living room. On crossing the threshold one feels at once that he has entered a musical atmosphere. Here is where the professor does the arranging of his choir music. For several hours every day he can be found here surrounded with music and manuscript working absorbingly on his new compositions. He loves to sit at his piano and run through his favorite airs. The room is cozy and genial, partaking of the nature of the spirit that presides in it. Unlike the studios of other musicians no private lessons are given in it. The room is rendered very attractive by flowers, palms, souvenirs of all descriptions, and pictures of friends, and of the world's most eminent musicians. Another attractive feature of the room is an aquarium with three gold fish in it.

SARTORIS WEDDING IN WASHINGTON.

Miss Vivian Sartoris, the granddaughter of General Grant, will soon marry Archibald Balfour, a member of the eminent English family. Miss Sartoris is now in London preparing her trousseau. The wedding will probably take place in Washington.

HAT AND BOA TO MATCH.

Hat of white neapolitan straw, trimmed with white tulle with black polka dots, and two handsome curving quills. The veil is edged with fringe of white chiffon and has rose-tinted and ends of black-velvet ribbon.

The dearth of social events during the past week can be attributed largely to the prevalence of spring renovating in the majority of households, the usual epidemic having taken hold upon a large number at the same time. The remaining weeks of the month, however, are destined to be busy ones, the heavy list of spring weddings beginning with the coming week.

One of the most elaborate and delightful social functions of the season was given yesterday by Mrs. P. T. Farnsworth in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Bathsheba Smith. Mrs. Farnsworth's residence on East South Temple street was beautifully decorated with flowers, flags and historic pictures, the parlor and library in sweet peas, the dining room in red and white roses and carnations, and the hall in pink and white carnations. A delightful feature of the occasion was the music. Prof. Jos. Anderson and Prof. A. C. Lund, two of Utah's most gifted musicians, rendering several selections from the masters in a truly artistic style.

The receiving party consisted of Mrs. Bathsheba W. Smith, Mrs. Zina D. H. Young, Mrs. Jane S. Richards, Mrs. E. B. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Horne, Mrs. D. S. Merrill, Mrs. D. R. Allen, Assisting in the dining room were: Mrs. Geo. H. Horne, Mrs. Geo. M. Mershall, Miss Genevieve Ellerbeck, Miss Clara Clawson, Miss Mabelle Snow, Miss Florence Scholes, Miss Alice Farnsworth, Miss Florence Farnsworth. The ushers were: Misses Lacy Farnsworth, Mary Horne, Venice Farnsworth, Amy and Athene Farnsworth.
