Police Captain Browning and Special Officer Pickering had an encounter Saturday night which they would not care to repeat, as a result of which Mrs. Pearl Padgett is now at the city jail under arrest, and the charge of assault with a deadly weapon may be placed against her. When the soldier train going east arrived in Ogden Saturday evening Mrs. Padget with another girl were seen hanging around the depot waiting room attired in soldier's uniforms. Depot Policeman Fowler saw the two and told them they had better go home, whereupon they abused the officer, using vile language, but at last started for their hom on Pacific avenue. Officer Fowler tele-phoned to the police station and Capt

As the girls observed the officers they ran into the house and the woman put on her own attire and soon come out again with a shot gun in her hand and pointed it at Pickering and would no doubt have shot him had not one of the soldiers knocked the gun down. In the meantime Miss Ward ran down the street but was overtaken by an officer and brought back to the house. Mrs. Padgett was taken to the police station, but the girl was per-mitted to remain at the house with a little sister. At the police station the woman refused to be placed behind the bars, and not until main force was used, could she be locked up. The girls have been mixed up in several notorious dealings during the past few notoriety.

Monroe, Sevier Co., Nov. 22, 1901. Editor Deseret News:

I wish to ask space to correct the re-port of my lectures on Socialism given by the "News" correspondent from Junction. Under date of Nov. 14 he states that in explaining the Socialist doctrine I announced that "under Sodoctrine I announced that "under So-cialism women rearing families need not work," and that "a Socialist con-gress would abolish the Constitution of the United States." Both statements are utterly foreign to the economies of Socialism and were never uttered by

MAMMOTH'S WATER FAMINE. For the first time in its history this camp was last week threatened with a water famine. The scarcity of water, which was caused by the clogging of the Cherry Creek pipe line, ended last Wednesday, but while it lasted caused little inconvenience to the people of Mammoth and Robinson. Almost all the water used in operating the mines in this section and also for culinary purposes comes from the large reservoir near Cherry Creek, about twenty miles to the westward and when this flow was stopped it caused the closing down for a short time of the Old Colony, Ajax, Mammoth and Black Jack mines to say nothing of the inconven-ience to the many families dependent upon the system. Some people attri-bute the clogging of the pipes to the recent earthquakes which have been felt more or less in all parts of the state. The main pipe was in some manner disconectedn from the reservoir and then filled with rock and dirt. Immediately after the accident workmen were at work digging up and cleaning the pipes, but it required twelve hours time for the water to travel the distance from the pumping station to Mammoth and it is needless to say it vas a welcome arrival. ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Andrew P. Neilson who attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor has been taken to his home at Spanish Fork. He will doubtless recover. Domestic trouble is said to have caused Nellson to make an attempt upon his life.

Of Diphtheria-Funeral of James C. Henry - Hoodlums Fined.

Special Correspondence. Vernal, Uintah County, Nov. 22 .- The present is a time of much sickness among us although the weather is fine, the air full of sunshine and warmth.

On Wednesday morning the Stake house was filled with people from Vernal and the surrounding wards to at-tend the funeral services over James C. Henry, the young man who so sud-denly and unexpectedly died, as a result of an accident at James Griffin's saw mill. The day before his death he was well enough that a number of his school mates and friends were in to see him, and he got up, dressed him-self and went out of doors. The next day at evening he complained some of his head, but not seriously and a few hours later fell into a heavy sleep from which he never awale.

which he never awoke. Yesterday the five-year-old son of Or-son B. Calder was burled under very distressing circumstances. The doctor in the earlier stages of the malady, pro-nounced it tonstilitis, but after the death of the child, put out the diph-theria flag and placed the family under quarantine. Consequently there was only a short service at the cemetery, Other members of the family are sick and some have been attending school all the time and there is fear that the contagion may spread. The school house has been thoroughly disin-fected and the school discontinued for a few days and it is hoped that the
