Five Pocattello Men Who Found
The "Pettibone Hell Fire Dope"
Summoned to Boise.

VERIFIED BY STEVE ADAMS.

Courts Busy in Gate City—Activity in Mining—Thrilling Accident—
Various Notes.

POCATELLO, May 9.—Five Pocattello citizens have been subpoenaed to attend the Haywood trial at Boise, namely: Ex-Chief of Police Charles S. Smith, George McConkey, Thomas McConkey and James and Dan O'Meara. These men were the principal witnesses in finding the "Pettibone Hell Fire Dope" in a barn here last year, and verified by Steve Adams, who pointed out to the officers where he had buried the same some years ago, after failing to blow up a train load of "Cour D'Alone" miners on their way to break the miners' strike in Colorado.

Encouraging developments are being made in the copper mines in the Fort Hall district, situated seven miles east of here. Supt. Palmer came down last Thursday, bringing with him some new samples which were exhibited at A. C. Cook's drug store. A party of interested citizens and stockholders composed of Mose Cardon, J. M. Hiscille and H. A. Jacobs returned with him to see for themselves how things looked. They found a big chamber in the drift, eight feet wide, nine feet high, and 25 feet long, showing rich, heavy copper on all sides. The last blast of the night before disclosed seven and a half feet of solid ore, while the dump is filled with shipping ore.

Christian J. Johnson has bought of Walter E. Slater one-half interest in the Last Chance and Oakley mining claims in the Fort Hall district. The transfer was recorded last week.

The groom is a member of the team of Zweigart Brothers, proprietors of the White Palace meat market on West Center street. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Pauline Gray, and came from about two years ago with her mother from Mayfield, Rockingham county, North Carolina. A reception was held at the home of Miss Thora Rose. After the wedding Mrs. Zweigart will be at home at 244 south Main street.

DOCTOR INJURED.
Dr. Wm. A. Wright, the railroad physician at this point, is laid up by reason of injuries he received last Wednesday while riding on a Pullman-bound train, when he slipped, fell and bruised his hip and leg. He was en route to Nevada, accompanying Supt. A. B. Stephenson, but by the time the train arrived at Ogden he was forced to be abandoned. The doctor went as far as Salt Lake, however, and received treatment there, his wife and son were taken and all returned Saturday evening.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.
Miss Birdie Hendricks, 14-year-old daughter of Bishop and Mrs. Milo A. Hendricks, had a thrilling experience Saturday afternoon. While assisting in hitching up the family horse, the animal started from the barn at the gallop, and before she could get the reins the horse dashed out of the yard and down the street for town, half a mile distant. In its run, however, the flying animal kicked one line up in the air, which the girl caught and held, and then stepped over the dashboard and succeeded in getting the other reins, and speaking to the horse, calmed him down, turned him about and arrived home safely. The distracted mother could scarcely believe her eyes having witnessed the whole incident.

BIG LAND PURCHASE.
Mrs. Ida Mackley of Soda Springs filed a deed with the county recorder last week for the purchase and transfer of 1,980 acres of land formerly belonging to Edward J. BLACK ON TRIAL.

The arrangements to have the body shipped to North Carolina having failed to materialize. The same evening, however, the body was exhumed for an autopsy to determine the angle of direction of the bullet as a proof to determine actual self-defense, this evidence was thought to be of vital importance at

A BARONESS CONVICTED OF MURDER.

Baroness Anisia Louise de Marry has been convicted in New York City of the murder of Gustave Simon, a business man by whom she had been employed for a short time. The circumstances surrounding the crime were mysterious but the jury found her guilty of manslaughter in the first degree, which carries with it an extreme penalty of 20 years' imprisonment. The case is the most interesting one since the trial of Harry Thaw.

The coming trial. More information as to the details of the tragedy and the characters of the men are being brought to light and it appears as though Plack will be able to establish a case of genuine self-defense, it is claimed that Hassell had acquired the habit of removing cartridges from the weapons of those whom he wished to provoke to quarrel and he would then make a demonstration of knife play. But according to the trial, he would not work this time as the other fellow was on to the game and carried loose cartridges and stood his ground.

Sheriff David Quigley has received a letter from C. R. Thomas, justice of the peace at Pleasant View, Oneida county, Idaho, saying that Hassell was a bad man. The trial has been in progress since day before yesterday and may possibly end tomorrow.

ELK POACHERS.
The case of the elk poachers Binkley and Purdy came for trial last Monday before United States Commissioner Fred Caldwell.

The former was able to pay the $200 fine and will have to go to Wyoming and answer before Commissioners John W. Melchum of the Yellowstone park to the charge of killing elk in the park. Purdy was unable to pay his fine and cannot be released until he has served his sentence and complied with the judgment, which he expects to do sometime next month, when he, too, will go before the Wyoming courts on the same charge as his companion.

An error in the new law regulating school elections has invalidated the election held last April and Miss Grace Lauchman has been advised by the county attorney to hold a special school election next month to harmonize the legal differences.

A teachers' examination for Bannock county will be held in this city May 23rd for all grades.

At the Pocattello General hospital, the first person to be operated on was Mrs. J. S. Morgan, who was suffering from an injury received through a bad fall. Chas. Lamoreaux, a printer, for an injured hand, and Mrs. Dora Hunsuit, suffering with appendicitis, were also operated on.

WOMAN TELLS WHY TRAVELING PUBLIC SUFFERS.

Dr. Adelaide Wallerstein, of New York, has come to the front to tell about metropolitan transit from a feminine viewpoint. She has made a careful study of the matter and concludes that the present conditions are a menace to health as well as to life and limb. Particularly she dwells upon the contagion of tuberculosis and demands the right for all women to cause the arrest of any person who expectorates in a public place or vehicle, she says that the conductors are dirty in their persons, immodest and regardless of the comfort or welfare of passengers and demands that they be examined daily from a sanitary standpoint. Her initiative is likely to be adopted by many other New York women and the metropolis may soon witness a revolution in its transitory facilities.

Henry Smith of the twelve and Seymour B. Young of the presidents of seventy. A large attendance of people was also present, and all were filled with timely instructions. The meetings on Sunday were overcrowded, many being unable to secure even standing room. The subjects treated were of a religious nature, and the education of the youth, and the desirability of selecting good literature for family reading. Dr. Young recited the story of Daniel and Pharaoh, and moralized upon it during Sunday afternoon.

A meeting was also held Sunday evening, which was well attended. On Friday the third stake quarterly conference was held at Rigby. A number of people from the Relief society, including members of the Relief society, attended.

BOISE WELCOMES THE BUSINESS MEN

Portland Merchants Out on a
"Get-Acquainted" Trip
In Idaho.

BURN THOUSANDS OF TREES.

Fruit Inspection Law Is Being Enforced Most Vigorously by State
Horticultural Officials.

BOISE, Id., May 9.—Boise welcomed within her gates last evening 75 prominent business men of Portland, who are out on a "get-acquainted" trip to 35 different cities of eastern Oregon and western Idaho. These were received at the Commercial club last evening by the representatives of Boise and tendered a smoker, at which many art and appropriate speeches were made by parties from both sides. Christian's orchestra furnished the music. Our guests are "taking in the town" today and will leave this afternoon at 3 o'clock for Huntington.

BURN FRUIT TREES.
The fruit inspection law of this state is being enforced most vigorously by the state horticultural inspector and his efficient deputies.

State Inspector A. F. Hitt reports wholesale destruction of infected fruit trees in different parts of the state. In district No. 6, comprising Kootenai, Bonanza and Shoshone counties, 7,000 fruit trees have been recently dug up and burned by order of the horticultural inspectors because of their being so infested with insect pests as to be a serious menace to the fruit industry. The owners seemed to be converted to the idea and are now hastening to conform to the instructions of the inspectors.

Mr. Buckley, the northern Idaho inspector, also reports having destroyed 5,000 fruit trees out of one shipment, on account of their being so infested with insect life and San Jose scale as to become a menace. In another instance he held up two carloads, containing 17,000 trees, and had them thoroughly fumigated with hydrocyanic gas at the expense of the shippers.

John A. Wain in Falls, Inspector of district No. 4, has just reported having burned two lots of trees, one of 5,000 and another of 2,500, which were infested with scale.

LEASING STATE LANDS.
State Land Appraiser George A. Day has just returned to the capital with a glowing report of vigorous work accomplished during the last month in looking up state lands and leasing them for grazing and agricultural purposes.

Over 60,000 acres of land have been granted the state, besides the regular school grounds, the revenue from which has been very low in the past on account of the great free range and the sparsely settled condition of the state. The state is looking more and more settled and the great free ranges are narrowing down into mere pastures, people are looking toward the state for a very reasonable figure. They are being paid for the land, and the state is looking toward the state for a very reasonable figure. They are being paid for the land, and the state is looking toward the state for a very reasonable figure.

EXPRESS COMPANY MUST PAY.
An interesting decision was handed down from the supreme court yesterday, in the case of J. M. Pratt vs. Northern Pacific Express company. The court decided in favor of the express company, in ownership of property shipped out of express lines.

The circumstances were rather unusual. A mail at Coeur d'Alene, in Nez Perce county, carried some money to his brother in Lewiston. He had about $600 in cash which he deposited with the express company, paying the charges and receiving a receipt. That night, within a few hours after he had deposited the money, thieves broke into the office and stole the $600. In due time the consignee brought suit against the company, producing his receipt as evidence.

The question has been taken up in various forms in other states, courts holding both ways. For Idaho, however, the supreme court has written by Judge Ainslie, says that the consignee is the one who actually owned the money, and that the company shall pay him.

KILLED BY WOOD ALCOHOL.
A. H. Patterson, a well known abiding man at this district, died last evening as the result of drinking the excess of wood alcohol which he drank.

Patterson was committed to the hospital a few days ago for drunkenness, and when he was watching him across the hall and secured the door containing the wood alcohol and drank about six ounces of it, which resulted in his death a few hours afterwards. The case looks very much like suicide, as he had been warned by the nurse once before when found in the act of taking some of the contents of the bottle, that it was wood alcohol and very poisonous. He leaves an invalid wife and two children.

All the laws passed by the last legislature are into effect today, except those that had the emergency clause attached, which will take effect immediately after receiving the signature of the governor. The laws which did not have the emergency clause attached, but are in the hands of the legislature, will be in effect on the 15th day of May.

FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE.
From the secretary of state and the attorney general it is learned that the most inquiry comes for information about the Monday next law, house bill 15, by Johnston of Blaine county. This bill provides punishments for horse racing, to be the same as for betting, and also for running the track, betting, and other things. It also provides for a fine of $500 for the sale of goods, wares or merchandise, except restaurants, undertakers, newsstands or places for the sale of non-taxable goods, or for the sale of tobacco, a fine from $25 to $100. The law goes to the common school fund. Officers who receive or neglect to produce a license are subject to a fine of $25 to $50, and may be thrown out of office. This measure, which caused the legislature to a most vigorous attack, is now in effect under the new law.
