Wheelwright's store and Weatherly's butchery, and Downs, Lowe and Crosbie held up the Chinaman a few evenings ago. This is a list of the raids which the boys have admitted, and it is believed they are guilty of others. Crosbie and Brotherington have both been at the reform school and were out on parole.

According to the statements they have made to the police, these youthful criminals all congregated at a Twenty-fifth Street cigar store where they played cards and smoked cigarettes, and it was at this place they organized into the gang of hold-ups and burglars, and laid their plans. The plunder they obtained from the various stores was taken to Butte, Montana, by Brotherington, who was an extra mail clerk running on the Oregon Short Line, and sold by him there. The proceeds would be brought to Ogden and divided among those who took part in the respective burglaries.

All of the boys are from Ogden and have parents or other relatives living here. They have been very bold in their operations, but being acquainted with all the members of the police force, and the various business houses, were able to escape detection through having some one on watch to give signals while perpetrating the crimes. The police will also further investigate the statements that one of the back rooms of a cigar store was the gang's place of meeting and the proprietor may be brought to book for conducting such a place, where young boys can meet and learn to smoke, gamble and concoct other crimes.

WANTED FOR FORGERY.

Philip Spear Cashes Spurious Check And Leaves for Parts Unknown.

LEHI.

William Butt Killed by a Cave-In—Two Funerals.

Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., Dec. 28.—The body of William Butt, the 18-year-old son of Frank Butt, one of the prominent citizens, was brought in from Simpson Springs this morning at 6 o'clock, where he was killed by a cave-in at noon yesterday. The young man, with his father, was at Simpson Springs doing assessment work on some mining claims owned there by his father and others. While near one of the claims part of a ledge fell over on him, crushing him down and breaking his back and hip. The Anderson boy who was with him had to go four miles to Simpson for a wagon and return to the young man died while they were four hours out on the road. His death is a great shock to the family, and friends who knew him. No arrangements as yet have been made for the funeral.

Funeral services over the remains of James E. Campbell, who died in Salt Lake City, Dec. 22, from a paralytic stroke, preceded by pneumonia, at one of the hospitals, were held from the Congregational church here, Dec. 24, at 1 p. m., under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, Rev. Gordon W. Provo officiating. The house was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives and there were many beautiful floral tributes. Mr. Campbell was born in American Fork in 1844. He married Rachel Evans of this place. Was the father of four children, three of whom are now living. Until the past few years Lehi was his home, from where he moved to the sugar company there until this year, when he went to Ely, Nev., where he located some very valuable mining claims, which will amply provide for his family in the future. He was a staunch and true friend, and was highly respected by those who knew him.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Mary Jackson, who died here in her eighty-seventh year Friday last, were held from the First ward meetinghouse Sunday afternoon. The speakers were Bishop Andrew Field, Reuben Davis, Sr., Elsie Davis, William Southwick, Mrs. A. R. Anderson, Mrs. Margaret Davis and A. R. Anderson, who spoke of their acquaintance with her and of her faithfulness. Deceased was born in England. She leaves a numerous posterity: was the mother of 10 boys and four girls, five boys and two girls are now living; also 76 grandchildren, 50 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren. Her husband died 30 years ago.

Spear has been living in Ogden more than two years, and was employed reporting on all the local papers, but for several weeks past was clerk in Mr. Kadish's office, where he had access to the check book of the Utah Smelting Co. Monday he stole four checks from the book, made one of them payable to himself, forged the manager's name, and cashed it, leaving Ogden for the east. Just as soon as the forgery was discovered, the officers were notified, but have been unable to locate him.

FUNERAL OF HUGH MCKAY.

All that was mortal of Hugh McKay, who died Sunday morning, aged 63 years, was consigned to rest in the Willard cemetery yesterday afternoon. Bishop William J. Facer dedicated the grave.

The funeral services over his remains were held at the Willard tabernacle. The ward choir sang several choice selections, and a duet, "O My Father," was sung by Walter and Margaret Call. The speakers were Elders E. P. Cordon, John Ingles, David Eccles, Wm. M. Dalton, Wm. Lowe, Bishop Facer and Patriarch David McKay, who testified to the true worth and integrity of the deceased as a citizen and Latter-day Saint.

The large attendance of relatives and friends indicated the high esteem in which he was held by those among whom he had lived for over thirty-five years.

SMITHFIELD.

Hadfield Child Died of Pneumonia—Roller Skating the Rage.

Special Correspondence.

Smithfield, Utah, Dec. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. John Hadfield's little daughter, Owen, died of pneumonia last Saturday. The parents of the little one had just come down from Taylorville, Canada, on a visit. Her mother arrived last Wednesday evening and her father did not arrive until the evening that she died. The deceased was born in Taylorville, Canada, Jan. 25, 1904.

The funeral was held today in the first ward meetinghouse. Consoling remarks were made by Bishop W. L. Winn and E. R. Miles, Jr., and Elders Samuel Nelson and George Doane. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of a host of friends.

Geo. Y. Smith's wife presented her husband with a fine baby girl, Dec. 24. Wm. F. Harper and James V. Allen returned last Friday from a visit to Teton Basin, where they spent two weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Roller skating is all the rage here now. Richard Lower had the misfortune yesterday while skating to break his arm and sprain his wrist.

R. J. Hammer went to Farmington last week. He expects to be gone about six weeks and when he returns will bring a wife with him. They will reside here.

SPRINGVILLE.

James Mendenhall, an Early Settler, Laid to Rest.

Special Correspondence.

Springville, Dec. 26.—Funeral services over the remains of James Mendenhall were held today in the meetinghouse, Bishop O. E. Huntington presiding. The deceased was born in West Chester, Penn., and was one of Springville's early settlers. He died at his ranch home near Mona, Juab Co., Sunday, Dec. 23, at the age of 59, after a long spell of sickness. The remains were brought to Springville for burial.

PIONEER LAID TO REST.

Mrs. Jane Stewart Closes Honored Career at 89.

Special Correspondence.

Circleville, Plute Co., Dec. 26.—Impressive services were held today over the remains of Mrs. Jane Stewart, wife of William A. Stewart who departed this life Dec. 23. She was born in Adams county, Ill., Aug. 14, 1817, came to Utah in 1853. She was married to Mr. Stewart in 1838, and is the mother of 11 children, 7 of whom are now living. She has 25 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. She and her husband were early settlers of the Plute country, moving to St. George in 1860, but on account of ill health they were released to return back to the north, when they settled at Central, Sevier county, in 1870, where they resided until moving to Circleville. She was in the presidency of the Relief society for 20 years prior to her settling here, and was a faithful Latter-day Saint, loved and respected by all who knew her. The speakers were Sarah A. Merrill, Mrs. Adeline Richy, Elders J. P. Jensen, Jas. Munson and Bishop Jas. E. Peterson, all of whom cu-logical the life and character of the deceased. Christmas was celebrated in a splendid gathering at the amusement hall at 10:30 a. m., where a nice program was rendered consisting of speeches, songs and recitations.

BAKER CITY, ORE.

SHOCKING GUN ACCIDENT.

Particulars of the Fatal Shooting of Myron Eardley.

Special Correspondence.

Baker City, Oregon, Dec. 26.—The most deplorable and shocking accident in the history of this community occurred yesterday afternoon, in which young Myron Eardley, the 13-year-old son of James W. Eardley, lost his life. Young Eardley, with a companion about his own age, named Harry Bell, had gone up into the hills hunting early yesterday morning. Myron carrying a pump shot gun, and Bell a heavy 44-44 Winchester rifle. The boys were returning home about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and were carrying their guns over their shoulders, Eardley being on the right side of Bell as they walked down the Sumner Valley railway track. The rifle Bell carried was an old model and the lock became entangled in the Bell boy's clothing, as he tried to disengage it from his clothing forcing the trigger back and the gun discharged, emptying the deadly charge into young Eardley's left breast. The bullet penetrated the heart, part of the lung and came out on the opposite side between the fifth and sixth ribs killing the boy instantly.

The Bell boy, frantic with grief when he realized what had transpired, rushed out to a wagon load of people passing on the road and asked them to assist him, but they inhumanly refused, and drove on; another team passing stopped, but when the occupants saw what had happened, also drove on, and it was sometime before word could be gotten to the nearest ranch and assistance phoned for. The body was brought to Baker city, where an inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was rendered. What makes the accident more deplorable is the fact that young Eardley's father was away at the time in Salt Lake. He was telegraphed for and will arrive here tonight.

PIMA, ARIZ.

Hon. Joseph K. Rogers' Fatally Injured By a Streetcar.

Special Correspondence.

Pima, Ariz., Dec. 24.—Another pioneer has departed this life. Hon. Joseph K. Rogers, who met his death by accident in Pima, Ariz., on the 17th inst., was buried here yesterday. The funeral services were conducted at 10:30 a. m. by Bishop Philomen C. Merrill, who also spoke. Other speakers were President Wm. D. Johnson, Patriarchs Samuel Clardige, John Taylor and President Kimball.

Elder Rogers was away from home working, his family residing here, which has been their home from the early settlement of the town.

It appears that he was riding on a street car, and on leaving it was struck by the car and thrown beneath it, the wheels passing over his body. His son was in attendance at the hospital, where he died; his wife, who was with him, reached Douglas until after he passed away.

Mr. Rogers was a prominent figure in the building of these settlements and the establishment of Graham county. He was the son of Ross R. and Helen Curtis Rogers, and was born in the state of Indiana, Dec. 20, 1841. His parents were members of the church and emigrated to Utah in 1850. They came to Arizona in 1873. After living a while in Shawlow, northern Arizona, they came to this valley, being among its first settlers. Elder Rogers was the first presiding elder of all the scattered saints in this section. Later, when Pima was organized he became its first Bishop, serving in 1881 and 1886. During the first term he was father of the bill that created Graham county.

Mr. Rogers has a numerous family, 23 children in all, 19 of whom survive him, and 17 grandchildren.

Stops earache in two minutes; toothache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; hoarseness, one hour; muscle ache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours; Thomas Electric Oil, monarch over pain.

LAYTON, ARIZ.

Denise of Mrs. Alma H. Bennett, a Respected Pioneer.

Special Correspondence.

Layton, Ariz., Dec. 24.—Yesterday at 2:30 p. m. the services over the remains of Mrs. Bennett, widow of Alma H. Bennett, were held in the Layton ward meetinghouse. Bishop J. R. Walker presiding. The speakers were Elders Andrew Kimball and Chas. M. Layton of the stake presidency, and Bishop J. R. Walker. Mrs. Bennett was 71 years of age, she with her husband being among the pioneers of Utah and Arizona. Always on the frontier, their life was practically one of pioneering. They were among those who settled on the Gila River in early days, and among the first settlers of this valley.

Mr. Bennett was a member of the board of supervisors of this county, a member of the high council, and died about a year in advance of his companion. He was a devoted patriot. Bennett was a modest, retiring, sweet wife, and mother. They had a large family, but, however, survive their parents, William, who returned from a mission in Great Britain in time to see his mother alive, and father dying during his absence, and Mrs. Wm. Nelson, a respected citizen of this place.

SHOSHONI, WYO.

A Series of Misfortunes in the Family Of George Terry.

Special Correspondence.

Shoshoni, Wyo., Dec. 24.—On the 10th inst. the eldest daughter of George Terry died of scarlet fever. She was 16 years of age. The only remaining child of the family, aged 5 years, is now slowly recovering from the same dread malady.

Mr. Terry has had a run of misfortune and bad luck. Not only has the family been quarantined for several weeks, but their barn was burned some time ago, in which four horses perished and the winter supply of hay was destroyed. The fire was caused by tramps sleeping in the barn.

A report is in circulation in central Wyoming to the effect that the Central Wyoming Land & Irrigation company, which contracted with the state to construct the irrigation works on the Shoshoni reservation, recently through open tendering, has decided to give up the task and withdraw from the state after spending more than $50,000 in preliminary work.

Local agents of the company, which is composed of wealthy men of Chicago, state positively there is nothing in the report, and that the company will go ahead, reclaim the lands and fulfill its contract with the state.
