CLUB CHAT

Some of the women's clubs of Massachusetts have taken the hint embodied in the statement of Prof. Fernald of the Agricultural college at Amherst, who says: "The co-operation of the members of the women's clubs will practically exterminate the browntail moth." The nests of eggs of these pests are already to be seen on the trees, and clubs interested in fighting the creatures should not long delay opening the campaign. It is suggested either that clubs co-operate with the officers of the municipalities small or great, or, if it is preferred to do the work alone, in almost any community is to be found a sufficient number of small boys who will collect the nests for some kind of reward. A price may be paid per dozen or hundred, or the boy collecting the greatest number may be awarded a prize. The important matter is to get to work promptly.

The effort of the Twentieth Century club of Detroit, through its department of philanthropy and reform, has accomplished important educational and preventive work in the public schools by the formation of anti-cigarette leagues. At the beginning, the co-operation of the school board, city principals, and teachers was secured and a campaign of education begun. The club spent a hundred dollars on the work last year, distributing literature and supplying a silver badge of membership. Leagues have been formed in 15 of the schools, and several thousand names are enrolled in the membership list. The club regards the work as having been highly successful so far, with the promise for the future. It is said that the attitude of the boys towards the cigarette habit, in the districts where the leagues exist, has entirely changed.

The next number of the Clubwoman will be a California number in honor of the biennial meeting.

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers met on Monday at the home of the president, Mrs. Annie T. Hyde, and an interesting session was held. The society badge was adopted, the design consisting of the pioneer scene on the monument at the head of Main street. Mrs. Alice M. Hone presented a draft of genealogical certificates for membership which was accepted. Other business was transacted, after which the society adjourned to meet on Friday, April 11, that date being the first anniversary of the founding of the D. U. P. The event will be celebrated in a social way chiefly, and the meeting will be held at the home of the founder, Mrs. A. T. Hyde.

The meeting of the board of directors of the Utah Federation of Women, held on Monday at the home of the president, Mrs. Annie T. Hyde, was changed to April 5, at the Ladies' Literary clubhouse, at 1:30 o'clock.

The Reviewers' club met on Monday afternoon with P. A. Vincent, the program consisting of a paper, "Some Minor Poets," read by Mrs. W. F. Adams.

The Utah Woman's Press club will meet at the Exposition office at 3 p. m., Monday, March 31. An interesting talk by Mrs. E. B. Wells about her visit to Washington will be given. Mrs. Lydia D. Alder on Paris in the exposition year, and current events by Mrs. Ida Haag will be features of the program.

Mrs. L. L. Carpenter entertained at luncheon on Thursday in honor of Miss Etta Keith.

The Wednesday night soiree this week at Christensen's was well attended and enjoyed. As the dancing season draws to a close, and fewer large events are given, the soirees become more popular. The number attending is usually made up of several small sets, and the dances are interspersed with social chat. It is Mr. Christensen's purpose to start the soirees earlier next season.

From reports of the committee having the affair in charge, the Battery A. N. C. U. dancing party to be given next Tuesday evening at Christensen's, promises to be an unusually successful one. It is expected that Gov. Wells and staff will be in attendance and lead the grand march, which will be an especially pretty feature of the evening.

The last U. of U. dancing parties for the present school year, will be given next Friday evening, April 4, at Christensen's academy. Every effort is being made to make this event excel all previous ones.

The Opal club held their regular bi-monthly social in the Ladies' Literary hall last Thursday evening. The first part of the evening was devoted to cards, 43 being the game. Prizes were awarded Miss Sara Henderson, Mr. E. M. West; Miss Nellie Geary and Mr. M. Keyser. Delicious punch and cakes were served in the lower hall at evening. The event closed with dancing, interspersed with several piano selections by Mr. Chester Ames.

It has been decided by the members of the Opal club to discontinue the socials at the literary hall for the balance of this season, and as a substitute attend the regular Wednesday night soirees at Christensen's every other week. The club will be in attendance at next week's soiree.

The board of directors of the State Federation will meet at the Ladies' Literary club house on the 6th of April at 1:30 o'clock.

The Poet's Round Table will meet on Monday with Mrs. Arthur Brown. Mrs. Dale will be chairman. Owen Meredith the poet for the day.

WALKER'S STORE.

SPRINGTIME NEEDS AND THEIR PRICE ADVANTAGES THIS WEEK.

SPRING IS HERE. No matter what the weather vagaries—rain, sleet, snow, all three of which our kindly weather clerk is prophesying for us—'twill be but temporary. Easter day marks the passing of winter, the sun has wended his way to the other side of the equator and the lion will lie down in lamb-like gentleness. Forgetful, then, of the past let us on to the new. Spring needs. The Walker Store is marvelously complete with new stocks in all of its sixteen departments. Besides it has developed some

THE FOULARD SILK SALE CONTINUED. OTHER GOOD SILKS AT IMPORTANT SAVINGS.

Spring went off in its reckoning last week—slipped back into midwinter and spoiled our sale of Foulard Silks. No sooner did we blaze forth in a lavish expenditure of printer's ink than on that day it snowed, sure. Never mind, though, we'll brave it out to the end, rain or shine. The silks are good and will be wanted for months to come. Selection, however, will dwindle. Better hurry here now. The weaves are luxurious, the pattern designs handsome—the highest fashion efforts of the season. The collection at the beginning was tremendous, and so variety is still remarkably broad. Again on Monday and the week, the opportunity to select from these distinguished kinds—$1.25, $1.50 and $1.75 at—$1.00 a yard.

MOIRE VELOURS TO $1.40—$1.00.

Extremely popular fabric for waists. These are in solid blacks and all white; rich, elegant weaves; 21 inches wide and $1.40 a yard quality. Monday and the week—$1.00.
