MILLARD STAKE CONFERENCE.

The regular quarterly conference of Millard Stake of Zion was held at Scipio, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 25th and 26th, 1892. Present, Apostle F. M. Lyman, the Presidency of the Stake and all the Bishops and other leading Elders of the Stake.

Saturday, 10 a.m.

After singing and prayer, President I. N. Hinckley said he had nothing but good to report about the condition of the Stake and the feelings existing between himself and his brethren who were laboring with him; had visited all the wards in the Stake since last conference, and found the Saints willing, as a general thing, to hearken to the counsels of the Priesthood.

Bishop Joseph D. Smith, of Fillmore Ward; Bishop A. A. Kimball, of Kanosh Ward, and Bishop Jos. S. Black, of Deseret Ward, gave encouraging reports of their wards, after which Elder John Cooper delivered a spirited discourse, touching upon many points of vital importance to the people.

After singing and prayer, Bishop H. B. Bennett, of Meadow Ward; Bishop D. R. Stevens, of Holden Ward; Bishop Peter Anderson, of Oak Creek Ward, and Bishop Thos. Yates, of Scipio Ward, reported their wards in a prosperous condition. After which, Elder J. L. Robison addressed the meeting in an interesting manner, on the first principles of the Gospel, and also spoke about the two opposing powers of good and evil which he saw would soon be made manifest as they never have before.

Apostle F. M. Lyman delivered a discourse replete with philosophical reasoning on what the Gospel will do for the human family if they will obey its teachings.

Sunday, 10 a.m.

After singing and prayer, President Daniel Thompson spoke about the power of God which had been made manifest in behalf of His people and would be again; also of the necessity of being united that we may have strength with the Lord.

President Joseph V. Robison said the first important thing for us to learn is that this is the work of God, then we need have no fear or doubt about the outcome. Spoke about the harmony existing between our religion and true science.

L. Brunson, President of the High Priests, spoke on the duties of the brethren bearing the High Priesthood.

Apostle F. M. Lyman then presented the general authorities of the Church and the presidency of this Stake.

C. C. Anderson presented the rest of the local authorities, and all were unanimously sustained, including the filling of vacancies as follows: Samuel W. Western, second counselor to Bishop Black, of Deseret, in place of Hyrum Dewsnap, who is on a mission; J. L. Robison, president of the Elders in Millard Stake, with N. S. Bishop as his first and P. E. Olson as his second counselor; F. A. Robison, superintendent of the Y. M. M. I. Associations, with Joshua Greenwood as his first and J. L. Robison as his second assistant; Delilah Olson, president of the Primary Associations.

Apostle F. M. Lyman then referred to the many and varied organizations in this Church and how they should work harmoniously. Explained how the different quorums of the Lesser Priesthood should be organized and each quorum presided over by a president and two counselors of their own number, and all be presided over by the Bishop and his counselors in their respective wards. The Bishop of a ward presides over every member in that ward, and no authority is exempt from his jurisdiction; and when the Bishop or his counselors visits the meetings of the various associations in their ward, they should be respected; and the same should be the case with the higher authorities when they visit the Bishops' meetings. No presiding officer should be exposed or sat down on in public, but should be told of his errors in private, and then let him correct them himself. We should have proper regard for each other's feelings.

Sunday, 2 p.m.

After singing and prayer the sacrament was administered.

Elder C. Anderson spoke on the necessity of obeying all the principles of the Gospel, commencing with faith and repentance and continuing onward and upward, they are all revealed for the salvation and exaltation of the human family.

Prest. I. N. Hinckley expressed his satisfaction with the many good things which he had heard during their conference, and hoped that we would all treasure them up and profit thereby, be united, live our religion and trust in the Lord.

Apostle F. M. Lyman read from the book of Doctrine and Covenants, Sec. 68, commencing with the 25th verse, and spoke with much earnestness about the duties of parents toward their children, etc. This people have been gathered from 25 different nationalities, and are of the most independent and determinate class of people, having embraced the Gospel, unpopular as it is, of their own free will and choice in the face of great opposition, and showed what kind of children can be expected of such parents. Conference adjourned for three months.

MORGAN STAKE CONFERENCE.

The Quarterly Conference of Morgan Stake of Zion was held Nov. 18 and 19.

Present on the stand: Presidency of the Stake, High Council, Bishops, Presidency of quorums, etc.

Saturday, 10.30 a.m.

President Robert Hogg, of the High Priests' Quorum, and Elder James Carrigan, addressed the Saints on humility, obedience, the keeping sacred our covenants, faithfulness to God's Priesthood and kingdom. Our happiness depends not upon our wealth, but upon our faithfulness. The best thing to be, is to be honest.

Apostles F. D. Richards and H. J. Grant now arrived; and Bishops Turner, Dickson and Porter were called upon to report their wards.

Saturday, 2 p.m.

Bishops or their counselors were called upon to represent the condition of part of the remaining wards, after which President W. G. Smith represented the condition of the Stake, giving a brief account of its organization. It compared favorably with other Stakes in some particulars but was behind in others.

Apostle H. J. Grant said we should preach by example if we wish to make progress. Do we show to the world by our works that we have something better than they have? Believed the spiritual death was as possible as the physical, and re-urrection almost as rare. In receiving spiritual food much depended on the healthiness of the appetite and the soundness and activity of the digestive organs. Gave powerful exhortation in regard to the Word of Wisdom, attending to our meetings and prayers; and said our records should be such as to secure to us the blessing we crave.

Apostle F. D. Richards spoke upon our natural rights. The Lord sometimes permitted us to be brought near to the wall, but an opening was always found when necessary, and He is now keeping His own counsel in regard to the eventual mode of His people's deliverance. Let us make His will our will, for he sanctifies our enemies' schemes to our benefit, and gives us grace to meet our real troubles, but not our borrowed ones.

Saturday, 7 p.m.

A priesthood meeting was held, and the evening occupied by Prest. Smith, and Apostles Richards and Grant, in giving profitable counsel to all, particularly the young.

Sunday, 10.30 a.m.

Bishops Hopkin and Hall reported their wards, and Brother Hall, as Sunday school superintendent, reported an encouraging progress in that direction.

Presidents Samuel Francis and Richard Fry and Apostle Grant spoke upon the force or righteous example; the necessity of being practical men and women; of being in a constant state of preparation; the word of wisdom affecting others than ourselves; living so that the reproof of God's servants will not personally apply; God's blessings not being always measured by herds or lands, but by peace, joy and happiness, the increase of which is ample compensation for kindness done.

Sunday, 3 p.m.

After the administration of the sacrament and reading of the state report, the general and local authorities were presented and unanimously sustained; during which Samuel Carter was nominated and sustained as Bishop of West Porterville, in place of Thos. Brough, deceased, and Andrew Nelson as a member of the High Council in place of Thos. Thurston, moved away. Brother Carter was then ordained under the hands of Apostles Richards and Grant and the Stake Presidency.

Apostle Richards gave valuable instruction in regard to Ward records, showing the great necessity of their being kept faithfully and correctly, explaining and enumerating the various items these records should contain; should take note of everything in the proper time that loss may not place them out of our reach. Spoke on tithing, showed the inestimable worth of such measures as truth, affection and intelligence. Guide carefully your children until they are old enough to follow the law of the Lord from choice.

Apostle Grant added a few interesting remarks on tithe-paying, and generosity of feeling, and the rich reward accruing from the same. Criticise yourselves more closely, and your friends and neighbors less. Benediction by Patriarch Alma Porter.

CASTLE DALE,
November 20th, 1892.

Editor Deseret News:

We are having beautiful weather for this time of year. The railroad is pushing along to completion. The husbandman is getting sale for some of his grain at living figures, four and five cents. Our grist mill is a great blessing to the people of this valley, and is kept running night and day. Our crops the past season were far ahead of any we have had since this valley was settled. There is a new industry being opened up in our canyon, that is coal, some splendid veins, running from 10 to 20 feet wide, having been opened about 12 miles from this place, of a good bituminous quality. The discoverers claim that it is the best coking coal this side of Pittsburgh—we only hope it is. The miners are very reticent as to who are the parties opening this coal up. We are using it here and it is giving good satisfaction, as it burns all away to ashes, no slate being found in it.

Now that railroads are all the rage, we are looking forward to the time, and that not very distant, when we will have a railroad running to our coalbeds.

The health of the people at this place is good; no sickness whatever. Our settlement has had an acquisition in the form of a new settler—Brother Robert Logan and Sister Logan, old residents of Manti, Sanpete County, who have moved to this place to spend their last days with their only child, Robert B. Logan, of this place. There is room here for a great many new settlers, there being plenty of water and land to make thriving settlements, all we lack is more men and means to help build up the waste places of Zion, having considerable musical talent in this place, Brother Samuel R. Jenkins was chosen to gather it together, and we now have a brass band which made its first appearance in public on election day discoursing some very good music for a new band, most of the performers having played in bands in some of the older settlements. Our election passed off without any disturbance, this precinct polling a unanimous vote of 84 for John T. Caine, and thus we hope it will ever be. No ill-liberal Liberals for us; they are too liberal by far. From

ARIZONA ELECTION.

LIVELY ACCOUNT OF SOME CIRCUMSTANCES AT ST. JOHNS.

Our racy St. Johns, Apache County, Arizona, correspondent, "Amram," has furnished the following, under date of Nov. 3d:

Since last writing our election has come. It is stated that in Winslow, where less than 20 names were registered, they voted over 100 persons. There is some talk of a contest case being brought before Judge French. On election day the morning was clear and fine in St. Johns, nature seemed to be in one of her pleasant moods, and your correspondent wended his way, with others, to the polls to vote the "Democratic ticket." It took some little time for the judges to organize, and by this time quite a number of "Mormons" and Mexicans were assembled within ten feet of the polls. By the window sat Mr. Gonzales, a rather short, stout young-looking Mexican, who represented the "People's Party." Also Mr. Morris Barth, a rather pale, goodlooking Jew, who represented the "Democrats." The polls being declared open, M. P. Romney offered his vote and was promptly challenged by the eloquent Mr. Gonzales, on the grounds of polygamy. Mr. Romney stated that he was ready to take the oath required by the statutes of Arizona. The oath was administered and the judges ruled out the challenge. Then commenced a rather noisy scene, as each party were eager to get their voters forward to the polls. Still for all that the day passed off peacefully, and towards evening nature seemed to tire of her smiling countenance, and sent a cloud of dust over the mixed group surrounding the polls. About 12 o'clock p.m. the votes were all counted, the People's Party having about four votes majority. When the announcement was made, our good natured opponent, Gonzales made a "roaring little speech," and immediately a rattling of firearms commenced outside, that reminded one of "Bedlam let loose." However, this is the custom of the country in showing joy, as well as shooting "devils away" when a person is sick among the Mexicans.

JUDGE PORTER.

The day before election, Judge Porter arrived in town with a letter of instruction to Bishop Udall from Judge French. In the evening he gave vent to his eloquent sentiments, and at the close of a concert in the "Mormon" schoolhouse again spoke and told of deeds of glory in future in which he was to figure conspicuously. During the day of election he was all
