young ladies by the instructions given in the college. Brother Isaac Hayes expressed his pleasure in representing his fellow students, the young men of the college. He stated that he had mayle personal inquiries as to the continuents and feelings of the gene sentiments and feelings of the gen-tlemen students, and they had ex-pressed themselves as pleased and grateful, even for the reproofs they had received from the instructors, and especially for the teachings they had heard, which they all testified were in accord with the principles of honor and morality. He expressed the wish in behalf of the gentlemen students that they might become an honor to Zion. The instructors gave a brief report of their labors during the term.

A vocal solo, "Song of Triumph," by Miss Libby Bitner, with chorus by the choir, was followed by re-marks by the Principal, who an-nounced that the following students of the Intermediate Department had passed in most of the higher hranches in that grade, and would be advanced to the academic grade: Carl Bassett, Zina Bennion, Luella Bitner, Ida Savage and Luella Bitner, Nellie Wallace.

Dr. Talmage then read the following Principal's Report:

Total..... 278 Soon after the middle of the term all seats were filled, and since that time the inconveniences of inadequate room, with which we became so familiar during the preceding year, have been repeated. During the first part of the term, however, the attendance was comparatively small, owing to the very early be-ginuing; and this fact has proved to us a matter of serious import. More than half of the students now in attendance entered several weeks after the opening of the term, and many of them have expressed sad regrets at having to begin their studies at advanced stages. Such during the early part of the term by conditions are disadvantageous to all students, and even the most perse-vering pupils demonstrate the 11 results by their comparatively slow progress and the retarding influence which they exert upon the others. I sincerely trust that, in future, the school calendar will be so adjusted as to enable at least a majority of the students to enter at the beginning of the term.

According to their places of residence, the students are registered as follows:

There are in all 16 academic classes holding 68 weekly sessions. The academic department room is entirely inadequate in its accommodations, a number of academic students being compelled to take places among the members of the lower department.

THE THEOLOGICAL ORGANIZATION.

Our. theological 'exercises have been conducted on essentially the same plan as in former terms. Class recitations in theology have been held daily in each department, ac-cording to prearranged courses of study. In addition to the standard works of the Church, which have formed the established text books in these classes, we have found the series of leafiets on Bible subjects, published hy the Descret Sunday School Union, to be of inestimable service. Indeed we wish that our work in all theological classes could be facilitated by similar synoptical aids.

Once in two weeks the theological class in each department has been conducted as a testimony meeting, and students have been free in expressing themselves regarding the pressing themselves regarding the school and their religion. On the morning of the first Thursday of every month a fast meeting of all students has been regularly held, and a deep and pleasing interest has been manifested on all such occasions. A Priesthood meeting has been convened at intervals of two weeks, and here foluntary and appointed addresses have been made, instruc-tions given, and incidental questions answered on matters pertaining to the duties of the Priesthood.

The last formal exercise of the week has been a general theological class, at which a varied programme has been rendered.

The labors of each day have been propared and supplemented with singing and prayer. According to their Church standing our students have been classified as follows:
