The beautiful new club rooms fitted up by the Ogden Lodge B. P. O. Elks. located in the Masonic building on Washington avenue, were dedicated last evening for lodge usage. The rooms are elegantly furnished. The members can go there and spend a few hours in quiet, and read the daily papers and magazines and take life easy. The dedicatory exercises were conducted by Dr. R. S. Joyce, P. E. R., assisted by Rev. E. I. Goshen of Salt Lake City as chaplain. The affair was one of pleasure. The ladies had been invited to attend and were present in large numbers. An excellent musical program was rendered, interspersed with speechs. Delicious refreshments were served. There was a large attendance and all enjoyed a very delightful even-

DIVORCE AND PROBATE MATTERS The divorce suit of Fannie B. Withee vs Ulysis Withee was called before Judge Rolapp yesterday afternoon. The deposition of the plaintiff who resides in New Jersey was read in court setting forth that the defendant deserted her and has failed to provide her with the common necessities of life. The defemiant did not resist the action and a decree was entered in favor of the plaintiff, Both parties to the action are well known in Ogden, the defendant being the manager of the Great Western Salt & Soda works. The first action filed by the plaintiff made some grious charges against the defendant, but she was permitted to file an amendd complaint, which eliminated the

BRIGHAM CITY. DEATH OF PROMINENT PEOPLE

Second Ward Love Feast-Little Snow in

Mountains. Special Correspondence. Brigham City, Boxelder Co., Jan. 28.— We have been having some very cold nights for two weeks or more, but the days have been warm and sunny. There is no great fall of snow in the mountains and as yet the prospects for a good supply of water for next season are not flattering.

Last week we had two deaths in our quiet city. The first was that of Mrs. Henry Kotter, Jr., of blood poison Mrs. Kotter was an amiable and loving wife and devoted mother, a true Latter-day Saint and faithful workers among the young people. She was idolized by her husband and beloved by her many as-sociates and friends. She died Wednes-day, 20th instant, and was buried Saturday from the Fourth ward meetinghouse. All the speakers referred to her honesty, her devotion, her love for the truth and hope for the future. Sister Kotter leaves a husband, four children, the youngest two months old, many relatives and unnumbered friends behind The second death was that of Made line Wixom, the little eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wixom. She was the flower of the family. She was studious, intelligent, vivacious and in every way a lovable child. She was attacked with brain fever, and died Jan. 21, 1904. The services were held in the Second ward meetinghouse Sunday noon.

Tuesday morning of this week the wife of Elder Nephi Anderson passed to the other side after an illness of some weeks. The funeral services will be held in the stake tabernacle tomor-

SECOND WARD LOVE FEAST. Last Thursday afternoon the married people of the Second ward had one of the finest sociables they have had since the ward was organized. There was a fine program of speeches, songs and music, and everything went like clock-work and without a single hitch. Elder Thomas H. Blackburn, while making a short address, presented Bishop Val-entine with a purse containing $96, together with a list of the names of the donors. In the evening there was a free dance in the opera house; and the little folks had a dance Friday afternoon.

He did not reach camp, and next morning when search was made for him his body was found on the hills where he had perished from cold.

Mr. Leuman was over 70 years of age and for the last year has been failing both physically and mentally, which explains why he so easily succumbed to the cold. Deceased was at the time of his death engaged in surveying for the govern ment upon four townships which he had contracted to finish. His time expired on the contract on the first of the year, but through the leniency of the surveyor general the time had been extended until July of this year.

Before his late failure in health, Mr Leuman was a very successful sur-veyor, and always gave the best of satisfaction in this line of work. He was at one time of his life United States leputy surveyor general for Colorado. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

A Most Profitable Occasion - Hunter Purr I 'to : Nu, flat se

Special Correspondence. West Weber, Weber Co., Jan. 26. Last Sunday, the 24th, a Sunday school convention was held here. The two schools of the ward met at their respective places in the morning and the usu-al exerciss were carried out. First Assistant Stake Superintendent C. J. Ross and Judge H. H. Rolapp visited the north school, and R. L. Taylor and An-nie McKay of the stake board, visited the south school.

After the schools were dismissed the officers and teachers held a short meeting and Supt. Ross offered many valuable suggestions.

According to previous arrangement made by the two schools every family in the ward had been visited, urging upon the parents the necessity of their being present at the parents' conven-tion, which was held in the afternoon and evening.

Supt. H. B. Hawkes of the north school presided over the exercises in the afternoon. The Primary children of both schools furnished the singing for the afternoon, After the administra-tion of the Sacrament Supt. C. J. Ross made a few opening remarks in which he thanked the parents for their attendance, when instructive addresses were made on the following subjects:
"Who These Children Are," by Annie McKay: "Sunday School Outlines," by R. L. Taylor: "The Sunday School of Today," by H. H. Rolapp. Each of these subjects were handled in a very intelligent manner, The singing in the evening was furnished by the ward choir under the leadership of E. W. Clayton. C. J. Ross and H. H. Rolapp each spoke on the necessity of home preparation by the teachers, parents, and children. Superintendent of the south school one, not so very cold and very little storm, just enough snow for good sleighing, but not enough as yet to fur-nish our water supply for the coming season.

As a result of the united effort of he officers of the Mutual Improvement associations under the direction of the Bishopric of the ward to bring about reformation in the nature of amuse-ments for both the young and the old and supplant the dance with other forms of amusement, a social party was given in honor of the retiring officers of the Young Ladies' M. I. A. The hall was very nicely and tastefully decorated. A nice program was given, consisting of short addresses, toasts, vocal and instrumental music, pleasant games, all arranged and car-ried out in a creditable manner.

OLD FOLKS' ENTERTAINMENT. Following up the same line of thought the officers of the Relief so-clety arranged a party to which were invited the most aged, the infirm, the widow and the wives of the missionar-les, also the members of the presidency of the stake and those who had former been associated with the Bishopric of the ward. An appropriate program was carried out with precision and dispatch, after which a sumptuous banquet was enjoyed, closing with a few

A CURE THAT IS GREWSOMELY SUGGESTIVE.

SLEEPING IN "GRAVES" FOR CONSUMPTION.

A New Jersey physician has a sanitarium for consumptives at which he is using a new and at first sight rather startling nature cure. This consists in nothing less than placing the patient literally in his "grave." The excavation, of course, is shallow; and the earth covering placed over the patient's body is only a few inches in thickness. Before being "buried" the victim is rubbed from head to foot with moist clay. He is left in his temporary tomb only a few hours, but is required to sleep out of doors on the grass, unless he prefers to sleep in his "grave," in which case he is permitted to do so.
