EXPRESSIONS FROM THE PEOPLE.

"THE FALL OF THE GREAT REPUBLIC."

"For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities. "Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double, according to her works; in the cup which she hath filled, fill to her double."—REV. XVIII: 5, 6.

The wise men of the day reason from cause and effect, while astrologers and others talk from the voice of the stars, and many predictions are put forth by men concerning the dire calamities of the last days. In a little book just published, entitled, "The Fall of the Great Republic," the writer lays much stress upon the condition of things as they exist, the state of society and the various organizations of men, resulting from hard times and want of employment, among whom are developed unions, strikes and conspiracies for the destruction of life and property. Organizations of this nature exist in various nations, under the name of Socialists, Fenians, Invincibles, Nihilists and dynamiters. The writer alluded to and many others look at these things naturally, and with apprehension reason in regard to their results, and use much force in their arguments, yet there is no God in it, according to their reasoning; and the pictures they draw are not so dark as that which was poytrayed by Jesus, as recorded in the 24th chapter of Matthew, or spoken of by John the Revelator, nearly two centuries ago.

In regard to our earth, there is a supreme, grand, governing being, who, according to the decrees of His own counsel, hath determined the times and fulness of times, and great events that should transpire; and the histories of the various nations that have existed on this earth show us clearly the cause of their downfall. They were

RIPENED IN SIN.

Sodom and the cities of the plain were swallowed up for their iniquities. The flood was sent and the earth emptied of its inhabitants because of their sins. The Roman nation arose in power, destroyed Jerusalem, in fulfillment of the purposes of Jehovah, in consequence of sins; and they, in turn, became the most corrupt nation on the earth. One can hardly read the lives of the Cæsars without shuddering at the enormity of their crimes; and so with other nations. They had the seeds of decay within themselves, and pollution was stamped in all the public and private avenues of life; and as a consequence, they fell, to rise no more. In the latter days a consumption was decreed by Jehovah, even the final destruction and overthrow of all nations; but God, in his mercy, takes compassion on the wicked, and a warning is sent before his arm falls upon them; even with a loud voice it is sounded, "Fear God and give glory to Him for the hour of His judgment is come;" "Come out of her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues."

Now let us look back at the history of our nation—one of the greatest and most blessed nations in the earth—a nation blessed of heaven—a delightful land of liberty—truly "The home of the free and the land of the brave." A little over fifty years ago, Justice reigned in all her courts, and peace prevailed in all her society organizations. From east to west, from north to south, prosperity and contentment dwelt; the down-trodden of all nations were furnished an asylum for repose, and the little song was sung in hamlet and school—all over the land:

"Come from every nation, come from every way,
Our lands they are broad enough, don't be alarmed,
For Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm."

Free religious liberty was tolerated, as Jehovah had for a wise purpose designed, that men of all creeds might worship as they chose. A man could worship the sun, moon or stars, or anything else he pleased, so long as he did not interfere with the rights of others; and for a wise purpose in the Creator, for this was the nation—and the only nation on the earth—in which the kingdom of God could come forth and be fully organized.

Now mark the change. When the way was prepared for the Gospel to come forth, then persecution arose; teachers and preachers headed mobs; a little band of six were to be destroyed; thousands of ministers were alarmed because

GOD SPOKE FROM THE HEAVENS.

The rise and development of the Church of Jesus Christ, and the hatred and persecutions that followed from the beginning, are matters of history, and have been published to the world so many times that I will not repeat them; but the secret of why things exist as they do to-day, is that the people have sinned, and their sins have reached unto heaven. The Prophet Joseph Smith, inspired by the Lord, predicted that the people of this nation "should have mobs to their hearts' content," they should "have strife and contention until they were utterly wasted away." This nation has been fully warned; for a generation, as men count time, has the voice of warning been sounded in their ears; they have shed the blood of innocence; they have mobbed, robbed and plundered the Saints many times; and they have for lo these many years refused to redress these wrongs. They are adding insult to injury; they have sought and still seek by every means in their power to destroy this people; they have legislated away the bulwark of freedom; they are tearing plank after plank from the Constitution. Is it any wonder, then, that anarchy reigns? "For her sins have reached unto heaven," and God hath heard the prayers of his servants, and He will speedily avenge and redress their wrongs. Unless this nation speedily repent it shall be utterly wasted away. Judgments are going abroad, and no power will stay the hand of the Lord. There shall be none to deliver them from these afflictions. We, as a people, are sorry, for we know what will soon take place; but our sorrow will not save them. They have sinned before high heaven in the course they have pursued towards God's people. They know not what they do; they are making strong the bands to bind themselves in bundles; they are preparing themselves for their own destruction; "double unto them," for all they are doing to the Latter-day Saints.

The men who made these laws against our liberty, and the men who are enforcing them, are they know not where their portion will be, but God hath said: "They shall be cast into outer darkness, where there is weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth." This is the fiat concerning the wicked; surely they shall not escape the damnation of hell. When our nation fills up its cup, its time will come. They are hastening the day when that shall be fulfilled which is recorded in Rev. xix: "And I saw an angel standing in the sun: and he cried with a loud voice, saying, to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God; that ye may eat the flesh of kings and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great."

Such scenes of distress will overtake the wicked that it will pain the heart to read the report, for God hath said so, and the righteous will barely escape. Judgments will begin here, but we need not be troubled about these things, only dare to do right, honor God, and all will be well.

MARCUS.

Success.

There are a great many young men and young women graduated from our public schools and colleges, a great majority of whom must go to work at once to earn a living. Many of them have already selected their vocations. Others have not made a decision, and have no outlook. Most of these young graduates are more or less anxious concerning their future. All of them desire to be of the happy number who succeed in life.

It is a great thing to succeed. A fair success in business is worth all it commonly costs of devotion and industry. And there is, at least, one way by which success may ordinarily be attained; and that is by learning how to do something that people want done; by doing it well; and striving each day to do it better.

If you are a doctor, you should seek to be the best doctor in your neighborhood. Even if you sell fish, you must be sure to deliver them fresh, in nice order, at the most convenient time, and at a fair price. Yours should be the neatest store, where the promptest attention is given to customers, and where the greatest variety of fish sold in your neighborhood can be found.

Sixty years ago, Peter Cooper kept a little grocery store in Bowery, New York, within a few yards of the spot where the Cooper Institute now stands. A man came into his store one day and said,—

"I built a glue factory for my son. He can't make it go. I will sell it to you for two thousand dollars."

Upon inquiry, Peter Cooper found that all the best glue came from Russia, and brought a high price, while the glue made in New York was very poor stuff, and was sold at a rate which forbade all chance of profit. He said to himself,—

"Why can't glue be made as good in quality here in America as in Russia? I think it can be. I will try."

He bought the factory. Then he commenced studying the processes by which glue is made. He tried endless experiments; superintending every boiling himself; kept trying for years, always improving his product, until Peter Cooper's glue commanded the highest price, and literally ruled the market.

What Peter Cooper did with his glue, Gillot did with pens, Jonas Chickering with the piano, Fairbanks with the scales; and if you succeed fairly and handsomely, you must do with something.

BROTHER GARDINER ON STRIKES.—"Hadn't a laborin' man orter hev fa'r wages?" demanded Brother Jinkins.

"He had," replied the president, "He orter hev $5 a day, but he can't get it. He put his skill or muscle up to de highest bidder, and he mus' stan' by de bid. Brudder Jinkins, let me make a few remarks in your ear. De man who pounds his thumbs doan' spite de hammer. De condishuus of bizness fixes de rate of wages. You may kick, but it will simply result in batterin' yer own toes. Bekase I can't get a dollar for whitewashin' a ceilin' I'm not gwine to frown away de 50 cents offered.

"You kin take yer seet, Brudder Jinkins. Any principle am all right on a full stomach. Any theory am all right if you have a bigfwoodpile at the doah. De orator who declar's dat you orter hev twelve shillin's a day won't go hungry on account of your strike. We like sugar in our coffee, but we am idiots to frow away de coffee kase we can't get de sweetnin.'"—Detroit Free Press.

AN ACCOMMODATING JUDGE.—One of the keenest things ever said on the bench it attributed to Judge Walton. While holding a term of the Supreme Court at Augusta he sentenced a man to seven years in prison for a grave crime. The respondent's counsel asked for a mitigation of sentence on the ground that the prisoner's health was very poor. "Your Honor," said he, "I am satisfied that my client cannot live out half that term, and I beg of you to change the sentence." "Well, under those circumstances," said the Judge, "I will change the sentence. I will make it for life instead of seven years." It is needless to add that the respondent agreed to abide by the original sentence, which the Judge permitted him to elect.

THE WORK OF A MOMENT.—Did you never write a letter, and just as you were finishing it let your pen fall on it or a drop of ink blot the fair page? It was the work of a moment, but the evil could not be entirely effaced. Did you never cut yourself, unexpectedly and quickly? It took days or weeks to heal the wound, and even the scar remained. It is related of Lord Brougham, that one day he occupied a conspicuous place in a group to have his daguerreotype taken. But at an unfortunate moment he moved. The picture was taken but the face was blurred.

Do you ask what application we would make of these facts? Just this: "It takes a lifetime to build a character; it only takes a moment to destroy it." "Watch and pray," therefore "that ye enter not into temptation." "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."—Selected.
