A MISLEADING DISPATCH. THE Salt Lake Scandalmonger publishes the following as a dispatch to the Chicago Troune, and heads it "The Same Everywhere:"

CARTERVILLE, Ga., Nov. 16. In a small, two-room hut in the southeastern portion of this city Dessie Shelley yesterday breathed her last. Fourteen menths ago her uncis, Bilt Williams, a Welshman and a Mormon, succeeded in getting Dessie's mother to consent to the girl going to live at his home, near Rockmart. The promise of an education was what induced the old wows to consent. mise of an education was what induced the old woman to consent. It was not long after the girl was under his roof when the old rascal tried to lead her from the path of virtue, first by persuasion, then by threats, and at last by force he accomplished his object. By threatening to kill the child it she exposed his villainy, he succeed in keeping his crime secret for a time, but when he discovered that she would soon become a mother he drove her Before leaving the house she wrote to her mother, who was living at Anworth, telling of her situation, and begging pitifully for her to come to her rescue. Mrs. Shelley, completely weighed down with her daughter's shaine, brought her to this city last August. Thursday morning a child was born. Puerperal fever followed and resulted in her death. The infant. a girl, is still living. The wretch who committed this crime has gone to Utah. When upbraided by the mother of his victim, he did not deny the charge, but attempted to justify himself, and began proaching the doctrines of Mormonism to her.

"polygamy," you know. It is not "unliawful cohabitation" you see. It is not a feature of "Mormonism," you understand. It is a "Gentile indiscretion" and one of those kind of things that should be covered up. Grand juries and other bodies and persons should "ignore" such things as among the "necessary evils" of modern so-clety.

That is why the Tribune of this city which foully, slandered fand, brutally blackguarded four petit jarors, because they only went by the evidence before them and did as they were charged—

The reason for reproducing this dispatch is contained in the statement that "Bill Williams," whoever he may be, is a "Mormon," that "he has gone to Utah" and that he "attempted to justify himself by preaching the doctrines of Mormonism." If it had not been for these references to "Mormonism" there would have been nothing singular in the dispatch, and it is safe to say for a certainty that it would not have been copied by the sheet aforesaid. Seduction, adultery and kindred crimes are common enough all over this "Christian" land, and there is not a day when cases of that sort do not appear in some of the public prints. But this dispatch alleges that and shame about some alleged member the chief criminal is a "Mormon," and of the Church at Glenwood, with the that gives it singularity and offers an

We do not know whether or not the "Bill Williams," who is alleged to have committed this beinous crime, is a believe it. Did not the lies about El-"Mormon." The mere statement to der Palmer and his marriage to a wothat effect in the dispatch is no evi- man who never came to Utah at all dence at all. Reports have been made proceed from the same source? Such of this character before, which have dirty stories, supported byficarsay and turned out to have no foundation in fact. We do not know of any "Bill ed gossips, often fabricated in the Williams, a Welshman" from Georgia, minds of their authors, are just the who has come to Utah, but we know kind offpabulum fitted for the columns that if he has committed the offense of the Tribune. They are sweet morcharged in the dispatch, he is not en- syls for its scribes and spicy relishes titled to the name of "Mormon," nel- for a certain class of its readers, No ther would he be permitted to retain his standing in this Church, if he was ever connected with it. Judging from other stories which have been published and repeated in the same way, representation, their salacious flavor is we are justified in concluding that the "Mormon" part of it has been manu-character may afterwards be exposed, factured to fester the anti-"Mormon" prejudice existing in the South.

There is nothing in "the doctrines of How"h Mormonism" to which the criminal it not? could refer in any way justifying or palliating his crime. On the contrary, every doctrine of this Church touchpronounced in opposition to all illicit deadly sin.

But many of those who help to spread this untruth know better. They foster the falsehood because it suits their flendish purpose. It helps to increase prejudice against a faith which they cannot overthrow by proper methods.

"Grand Jury" presented the following We challenge the world to produce anything from "Mormon" doctrines' which in any way justifies or excuses such atroclous conduct as that described in the above dispatch.

Suppose, now, that instead of the term "Mormon" was substituted that of "Free-lover," and for "Mormon-ism" the word "Free-loveism."

Would not the dispatch then be a little September Term, 1884. more consistent and in second with ftequent occurrences in this anti-"Mormon" country? There are hundreds of thousands of people in the United States who entertain the view that the natural inclinations of men and wo-should be left free from all restraint, and that sexual indulgence is all right, without any respect to marriage relations, so long as it is not made public.

This we consider abominable. It is corrupt, anti-Christian and beastly. But what paper could contain accounts of all the filthiness which is the result of that licentions doctrine in the United States? And if the cover was taken off the deeds and doings of the canting hypocritis who cry out against "Mormon" marriage, it would be found that the most scrive opponents of pinral marriage are themselves steeped in sexual crime and wallowing in iniquity. Every man who has traveled with his eyes open, and mingled with the multitude in the civilized 'nations of the earth, knows that society is sodden with corruption and rotten at the heart.

Let those who know no better than to think "Mormonism" teaches or permits hungroper familiarity between the sexes, make a note of this and find out the facts; and let those who un

We have nothing more to say about this at present. We merely note it as an indication of the sentiments of certain parties and the "elevated morality" of anti-polygamist scribes and grand jurors.

EDWARD BOVIER, JOHN CAMPE. COUNTY JAIL.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 19th, 1884. of Grand Jury, September

The committee on the county jail beg leave to report as follows:

If there is one redeeming feature about or in connection with this institution, your committee has been untuing to the county of where tution, your committee has been un-able to ferret out its source, or wherein it lies.

Upon the lith inst., this grand jury, armed with a one-cardle power light, proceeded to the basement of the County Court House, and found four single and two double cells, which constitute this so-called county jail. To alleviate the nauseating odors arising from this infamous a bode for criminals, about seven or eight bushels of lime greeted us in the corridor, whether for the purpose of alding us in our investigation, I will allow you to judge. Upon inspecting the several cells now occupied, (of which there were four,) they were found exceedingly damp on all sides, to such an extent that security was a thing of the past, as the testimony of Jallor Burt before this jury admits.

The mattresses in use are in such a jury admits.

The mattresses in use are in such a state of decay that portions of one gave way upon being raised from the stone floor; the straw once contained therein was musty and mildewed in the extreme. No barred windows were found in two of the cells occupled, by which the light of day could be greeted by the occupants; on the contrary, the damp and clammy atmosphere prevaded in these cells and could not have been otherwise, when human excrement remained so closely confined for a period of 24 hours, and, too, in a vessel without any cover whatever.

hatever. Redsteads are not furnished for rea-Bedsteads are not furnished for rea-sons as given by Jailor Burt—that por-tions thereof would be used in pro-moting means of escape through the so-called prison wans; the above named gentleman further stated that with the aid of a broom handle a crimi-nal could easily make his escape through the walls in three hours, and your committee does not question this ar committee does not question this

The prisoners are supplied with two meals daily, viz: Breakfast (from 7 to 8 o'clock) and dinner (about 1 o'clock), consisting of pork, meat, potatoes and bread. A specimen of the first two shown us, we consider as being far from palatable, not because they were produced from beneath the kitchen floor, and lying in paper upon the ground, easily accessible to all vermin that haunt such piaces, vermin that haunt such places, not because such meats were not properly seasoned by the back-yard durt that would naturally accumulate apon the boots of those who entered the kitchen door and screened through upon the same, but because of the impression apparently harbored upon the minds of the pupchaser of such meat and pork that fat must necessarily fatten, and lean meat cause emaciation.

It is the earnest desire of this entire body to see the present county jail (?) It is the earnest desire of this entire body to see the present county jail (?) abandoned and immediate provisions made to erect one where the tentacles of death will not overpower a criminal upon his incarceration.

Finally, your committee cheerfully pray that this report will receive the attention of the court, and not be cast aside like unto the numerous similar reports drafted by our predecessors filing like positions. All of which is respectfully submitted.

POOR HOUSE.

The committee appointed to report upon the condition of the County Poor House beg leave to submit the follow-The present condition of the buildings is good. The several inmates (18 or 22) express themselves as being satisfied with their quarters, that they were provided with good substantial food and ample clothing. Some of the sleeping apartments were not properly ventilated, more particularly two rooms which are occupied by sick persons. This improvement is recommended; not only would it benefit the health of those confined in such rooms, but in all probability would have a tendency to lessen the number of inmates, as well as the present expense of the county.

Attention is called to a lady inmate of this institution whose mind is bordering on lunacy. The lady in charge (our informant) stated that she was frequently compelled to call upon the former at all hours of the night and entreat, her to desist from making night hideous with her boisterous chattering. We consider this person a proper subject for the Insane Asylum and recommend that she be sent there at once. All of which is respectfully submitted.

vict labor could be used advantageously in preparing material for building a new pennentlary. The majority of prisoners would hall with delight anything that offered a relief to the enforced idleness as now endured. The reports or suggestions of other grand juries have, we believe, been entirely unheeded, and apparently all suggestions in regard to the Utah Penitentiary have been wasted. We are particularly earnest in the desire that you draw the attention of the Court to the necessity of a new penitentiary, and the other suggestions of this committee.

CITY JAIL. We were shown through the city tall by Martial Phillips and Jailer Aird. We found its condition to be cleanly and secure. There were confined there is males and one female. The bed clothes were ample, the food wholesome and sufficient. In separate and comfortable quarters a number of bunks had been fitted up for tramps and others having no place to stay over night. This provision for the unfortunate is worthy of all praise. The condition of the city jail reflects credit on Marshal Phillips.

the city jail reflects credit on Marshal Phillips.

We earnestly recommend that those employed on the regular police force of Salt Lake City be dressed in uniform. Persons charged with resisting officers have frequently claimed there was nothing to distinguish the police from other citizens or from any one who might make an unjust attack and be resisted in self-defense. As questions of veracity are; constantly arising on this score, doubtless injustice is sometimes done which could be obviated by adopting a system which we believe obtains in most other cities of this country, and is probably destined to meet the approval of experience and yet become the universal custom.

Chief G. M. Ottinger showed us through the Fire Department and gave us a good deal of interesting information. The men of this department are thoroughly drilled and the sagaclous hlack horse understands his duties. At the sound of alarm he left his quarters, placed himself beneath the shafts of the hose-cart, and was hitched up ready for "the start," in an incredibly short time. We are decidedly of the opinion that the chief of this department is the right man in the right place.
