CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Presidential Election Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, 25. — Thurman moved to amend so as to provide for the appointment of two tellers on the part of the Senate instead of one; agreed to. He also moved to amend so as to provide that certificates of the electoral votes shall be opened, presented, and acted upon in the alphabetical order of the names of the States, beginning with A; agreed to. Several other amendments, mostly merely verbal, were agreed to. A long discussion ensued upon the general provisions of the bill. At five p. m. Morton said that, to test the sense of the Senate, he would move a recess till 7.30 p. m., with the understanding that the bill should be finished to-night.

Edmunds said that when this bill was disposed of he proposed to move to take up the civil rights bill, and suggested a programme for the consideration of the bill which would close the debate at 5 p. m. to-morrow.

Thurman objected to agreeing to any such arrangement; he hoped when the present bill was finished that the Senate would take up the steamboat bill, otherwise it would be lost.

Edmunds said there was nothing left but for the Senate to go on and do the business before it.

Morton withdrew his motion for a recess, and the discussion of the bill was continued, Merriman speaking in opposition to it.

Edmunds offered, as a substitute, the bill introduced by him last January; rejected.

Eaton moved the indefinite postponement of the bill; rejected, yeas 14, nays 31. Finally the discussion closed and the bill passed, 28 to 20, Carpenter, Conkling, Edmunds and Jones voting with the democrats in the negative.

On motion of Edmunds the civil rights bill was taken up, and it was agreed that the general debate should close on the bill at 2 p. m. on Saturday.

Sherman gave notice that he would call up the tax and tariff bill on Saturday after the disposal of the civil rights bill. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

The Force Bill.

Eldridge's motion was defeated, yeas 85, nays 161, and the bill was then taken up and read.

Niblack made a point of order that as the bill provided for the creation of new officers it should be first considered in committee of the whole. The Speaker refused to entertain the point, and Niblack appealed. Conger moved to lay the appeal on the table; carried, 142 to 56.

Cobarn, at 4 p. m., rose to open the debate, but said that on account of the lateness of the hour and the weariness of the members he would yield to have some amendments offered. Amendments were thereupon suggested by Cannon, Hawley, of Ill.s, and E. R. Hoar. Hoar's amendment was to strike out the first, second and third sections, and Cannon's to strike out the 13th. The House then adjourned.

EASTERN.

A Lengthy Fight Probable.

WASHINGTON, 25.—It is probable that the fight over the caucus force bill will continue till the 4th of March.

Officially Announced.

Burke, Zacharie and Leonard, the committee representing the conservatives of Louisiana, have informed the House select committee on Louisiana affairs of the acceptance of the plan of settlement proposed by Wheeler, of the latter committee, on two conditions, first, that the members of the select committee shall act as arbitrators; second, that there shall be an extra session of the General Assembly of Louisiana on or before the fourth Monday in March next, to give practical effect to the award when made, and to consider and pass upon certain reform measures absolutely essential to the peace and prosperity of the State. In announcing the acceptance they state that it is given under protest, and that they have been reluctantly forced to the conclusion that no other terms could be obtained.

Damage by Flood.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., 25. — The river is forty feet above low water mark, and is rising rapidly; mills and bridges have been swept away in all directions.

A Sad Accident.

NEW YORK, 25.—The wall of the store on Duane street, burned a few days ago, fell, this evening, on, and crushed through the roof of, St. Andrews church, which was filled with people at vespers; six were killed, and twenty-five seriously injured.

Still Wrangling.

NEW ORLEANS, 25.—An effort in the conservative caucus to reconsider the vote of yesterday accepting the Wheeler compromise, failed. Speaker Wiltz entered a protest against the conservatives returning to the hall of the house from which they were driven by hostile bayonets, until they can do so without stultification or any concession whatever; about thirty members afterwards signed the Wiltz protest, adopting its sentiments.

FOREIGN.

FRANCE.

Public Powers Bill Passed.

PARIS, 25.—In the Assembly, today, the bill for the organization of the public powers was passed, 436 to 262.

A New Government Wanted.

President MacMahon has sent a despatch to Buffett, president of the Assembly, calling him to form a new ministry. Buffet is now in the Vosges, and if he accepts the task, the organization of the new government will be delayed a few days until his return to Paris.

The Closing Debate.

During the closing debate in the Assembly to-day, on the public powers bill, many amendments were moved by the legitimists and Bonapartists, to gain time and to put off the day of dissolution, but all were voted down by the majority, which remained solid to the last. The firmness of the coalition was sharply tested when the clause fixing the seat of government at Versailles was reached, but the Left yielded, in order to avoid any appearance of disunion, and the clause was adopted without debate. Before the final vote on the whole bill was taken the legitimist deputies presented a formal protest against its passage. M. De La Rochette warned the house that there would be a terrible struggle between the republicans and conservatives, and declared that the monarchists would unceasingly combat the new institutions.

CORRESPONDENCE.

About the Nephites.

NEPHI CITY, Feb 21, 1875.

Editor Deseret News:

It is some time since we were heard from in the NEWS, and your numerous readers may soon begin to ask, "What has become of the Nephites?" I think they are all in deep study, having but little to say at present, and much to think of.

Our city is becoming notable in proportion to the advancement of civilization among us. For example, we already notice in this small village three "saloons," where spirits are materialized almost daily, to such an extent that no one doubts any longer the possibility of spirits of different grades appearing to us in almost every imaginable form, from the human to the brute. It may be argued that the cause of this and other evils among us is attributed to our not having fortified ourselves sufficiently in proportion to the progress of this advancing un-civilized immigration upon us, but whatever the case may have been, these evils should be met by every person, with determined efforts to eradicate them.

Although the majority is and has ever been in favor of establishing and supporting all good principles of morality, and opposing everything contrary, yet it cannot be denied that there is need of a reformation in this matter, more especially with the youth, and that their moral and intellectual training is of late sadly neglected. With due respect to all parents, it might be added that this reformation should begin first with them; otherwise, who shall the teachers be? Drunkenness, profanity, hideous nocturnal howlings, fighting and many other evils are becoming annoying here, showing that the germs of the world have been sown among us. We have also a professor of modern liberal views, who advocates, earnestly in private, but indignantly denounces in public, a system of reform which, when analyzed, is not unlike that reported of an orator of Plymouth church celebrite. His prelude softly begins, as with many melodious accords from a silver-tongue organ, followed and intermixed with fascinating accents, which soon modulate into that Christian free love, generally terminating with a treacherous and fatal blow to the virtue and morals of his proselytes and victims. His visits are professional, not pastoral, at an hour when the husband is not at home, which displays good taste for his semi-intellectual faculties.

On Friday last, having heard of a case wherein another "Gentile" person brought a suit against a "Mormon" involving the title of disputed property, I hastened to the temple of justice, Squire Ord presiding. I found one S. Gilson, who occasionally sends "waste paper" to Salt Lake City, defending counsel for the first party. He was then advising the Court to have the sheriff instructed to so select jurors as to empanel three "Mormons" and three "Gentiles," so that the end of justice might not be defeated in the case. His honor overruled, replying that our statutes required to provide good and lawful citizens, such as the law directs, irrespective of any religious belief. After usual examinations and challenges by counsel, a jury was empanelled, consisting of six "Mormon" citizens. But watch the result! They unanimously agreed on a verdict in favor of the "Gentile" party. I am of the opinion that hereafter this legal luminary will prefer the same kind of citizens to decide all his important cases.

CAMERA.

PITTSBURG, February 9.—In the United States District Court, Dan Rice, the well known clown, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. He gave a list of creditors, with liabilities ranging from $5 to $20,000, making a total of about $100,000. Dan placed his assets at $75, which covers a suit of clothing, exempt under the law. Rice is a resident of Girard, Pa., and is evidently preparing for the next summer campaign.—Cincinnati Times.

Catholicism and Protestantism seem to have entered upon an internecine conflict in various parts of the world. In Germany it is a political fight. In England it is both a religious and a political contest. In Italy it is partly political and partly a conflict of ideas. In France it is religious. In Mexico it is personal. In the United States it has not yet assumed a clearly defined shape.

A pocket edition of the Bible is published in London, consisting of eleven small pocket volumes, the text printed in large type and on good paper.
