SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Annual Conference Held in the Tabernacle Yesterday.

A MOST INSPIRING SIGHT.

Morning Meeting Attended by Between 5,000 and 6,000 Children—Remarks and Other Exercises.

One of the most inspiring sights seen at the Tabernacle for a good while, was that which presented itself yesterday morning on the occasion of the Salt Lake Stake Sunday school conference. The entire 33 schools of the Stake were represented, these filling up the main floor of the spacious edifice and numbering between 5,000 and 6,000 souls. The gallery was thrown open to the general public and by 10 o'clock this, too, was crowded to its capacity. Seated on the stand were President John R. Winder, Supt. George Reynolds, Thomas C. Griggs, Levi W. Richards, James W. Ure and Seymour B. Young of the General Sunday School board; Presidents Angus M. Cannon and Charles W. Penrose of the Salt Lake Stake, and in the afternoon President Joseph E. Taylor and Patriarch John Smith.

The assembly was called to order by Supt. Josiah Burrows, and after the calling of the roll by Stake Secy. Jos. V. Smith, the schools sang, "Welcome, welcome, Sabbath morning," and prayer was offered by Supt. Arnold H. Schulthess of the First ward. The congregation then rendered "Sweet Sabbath School," after which Supt. Burrows made a few opening remarks. He said he considered it a pleasing and inspiring sight to see so many happy and intelligent faces present. It has been two years since such an assembly had been brought together in this Stake. During that time six new Sunday schools had been organized and their numbers had increased materially. He congratulated the officers and teachers of the Sunday schools on the good work they had accomplished, and thanked for sympathy and assistance the Presidency of the Stake, the Bishops of the different wards and the Sunday school missionaries. He admonished all to be up and doing for the future and felt confident that the advice of our late lamented Superintendent George G. Cannon, not to rest until all available material had been brought into the Sunday school, was being followed.

The schools then recited in concert "O my Father," the recitation being under direction of Miss Maud May Babcock. This was followed by a duet from the Misses Enid and June Edmunds of the Eighteenth ward. Then came a report of the Twenty-second ward Sunday school by Supt. William T. Aikin. This school is but six months old, but its condition is such that highly satisfactory answers were given to the 21 Sunday school questions, these covering department, attendance and the general observance of Sunday school discipline.

Supt. George H. Wallace then conducted a recitation of the Word of Wisdom, and the schools presented a play, "The Word of Wisdom," which was sung by the congregation, after which the second intermediate department of the Seventeenth ward school gave a class exercise on the "Law of Galilean Ministry." Miss Minnie Margaret conducting it. The class gave evidence of having been well trained, although the exercise was hardly long enough to be heard by all present. The juvenile choir then rendered as a chorus, "The Holy City."

Elder George Reynolds of the general Sunday school board, who presided at the exercise, expressed his pleasure and gratification with the exercises of the conference. He demonstrated clearly the progress that was being made, and the efficiency of those engaged in Sunday school work. The schools of the Salt Lake Stake showed an average attendance of about two-thirds the enrollment, and the speaker thought that the Salt Lake Stake should furnish at least 10,000 of the total number.

Elder Thomas C. Griggs of the general Sunday School Union board next spoke. The school presented figures showing the standing of the Salt Lake Stake Sunday schools among their neighbors, and made a few remarks on the clean city movement, urging upon the children the additional duty of checking profanity and holding the name of the Lord sacred.

Elder Seymour B. Young, also of the general board, congratulated the schools on the excellent exercise of the morning. The entire program as prepared had been carried out and this to the speaker was very pleasing. He offered a little friendly criticism on the making of the children to the conference and urged for the future decorum and better conduct in this respect. Elder Young said that the order that should be observed in the home of God, and stated that this could be brought about only through regard for the principle of obedience, the first law of heaven.

Supt. Burrows thanked all for their efforts in behalf of the conference, after which the schools sang, "Today," and benediction was pronounced by Pres. John R. Winder.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
 At 2 p. m. the conference reconvened. The choir and congregation sang, "How firm a foundation." Prayer was offered by Elder J. Percy Goddard. Singing, "We thank Thee, O God, for a Prophet."

Stake Secretary Joseph V. Smith presented for the vote of the conference the general authorities of the Church and the general and Stake authorities of the Sunday schools. All were unanimously sustained. The Sunday school authorities were as follows:
 Sunday School Union Board—Joseph V. Smith, general superintendent of the Deseret Sunday School Union; George Reynolds, first assistant general superintendent; Joseph M. Tanner, second assistant general superintendent.

Members—Joseph F. Smith, Thomas C. Griggs, Francis M. Lyman, Hugh J. Cannon, L. John Nuttall, William B. Owen, Jr., Henry Peterson, George Reynolds, Joseph W. Summerhays, Haber J. Grant, Andrew Kinabill, James W. Ure, Seymour B. Young, Andrew H. Lund, George M. Cannon, Joseph M. Tanner, Levi W. Richards, George Teasdale, John W. Taylor, John F. Bennett, George D. Pyper, John B. Winder, Horace Cummings, James E. Talmage.

Secretary—George D. Pyper. Treasurer—George Reynolds. Stake Presidency—Angus M. Cannon, president of the Salt Lake Stake; Zion: Joseph E. Taylor, first counselor; Charles W. Penrose, second counselor; Alister, Lena B. Davis, R. Elmer Caldwell, D. O. Willey, Jr., Katherine V. Morris, Joseph A. West, Olive L. Der, Lorraine, Kate McAllister, Donetta S. Keeler.

Supt. Willard C. Burton was the first speaker. He referred to the inspiring nature of the morning exercises and said it was an inspiring sight to see so many little folks assembled together. The faithfulness of the officers and teachers engaged in Sunday school work in this stake was touched upon, and the parents of the children were urged to give what aid they could by an occasional attendance at their meetings.

Pres. Angus M. Cannon spoke of his early association with Church Sunday schools, the same dating back to 1858. He referred to the growth of Sunday school work in this stake which had been added to little by little until today, notwithstanding the organization of two new Stake schools of this day Sunday school had a total enrollment of 9,255 souls. Pres. Cannon touched upon the blessings of the Lord unto His people, and thanked God that He had moved upon His servants to inaugurate such a movement as that of the Sunday school. The speaker reminded those present to sustain with their faith and prayers those who presided over them in their respective localities.

"The Nations Bow to Satan's Thrall" was sung by the choir. Mrs. Lizzie Thomas-Edwards singing the solo, which Elder Charles W. Penrose referred to the morning meeting as a magnificent spectacle. It was a great argument as to the high morals of the children. Elder Taylor had evidence of the work that was going on among the children. Those connected with the Sunday schools were engaged in a labor that would bring forth results in time.
