

NEW CAPITOL OF PENNSYLVANIA

Dedicated With Brief Ceremonies.
The President Taking an Active Part.

IT COST THIRTEEN MILLIONS.

Mural Paintings by Abbey and Oakley
And Setting of Barnard's Statues, Practically Complete.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—In the presence of the largest crowd that has ever gathered in Harrisburg, the magnificent new capitol of Pennsylvania was dedicated today with brief ceremonies which President Roosevelt took an active part.

Crowds began to gather about the immense grandstand at the West state street entrance to the capitol grounds at about 10 o'clock, and when the exercises began the place was one mass of humanity.

Before the exercises were started rain began falling and continued throughout the dedication. Thousands of people were standing in the rain, and the president's stand which was the center of the ceremonies, was a mass of water.

Most of the ticket holders were men, few of the women turning out on account of the weather. President Roosevelt arrived at the Pennsylvania railroad station at 11:22 a. m., and was met by the capitol committee and escorted to the capitol by the governor's troops.

At the capitol the president was met by Gov. Pennypacker and after the formal greetings the governor and Mayor Phillips of Harrisburg presented the president with gold medals as gifts of the state and city respectively.

President Roosevelt was given an enthusiastic reception when he appeared on the grandstand at 11:45 o'clock. All branches of the state government were represented in the grandstand, and the president was given to specially invited guests.

Following the reading of a portion of the constitution by the Hon. John H. Dillingham, a member of the Society of Friends, Philadelphia, former Gov. William A. Stone, president of the capitol building commission, in a brief address, turned the keys of the capitol to the governor, at the same time handing him a gold key.

Gov. Pennypacker accepted the building on behalf of the people, in a brief speech.

When he concluded, the governor presided President Roosevelt who delivered the principal address of the day.

The president wore a raincoat and was bareheaded on the train. The crowd, surged dangerously close to the president's stand, and several persons were injured by the stampede.

Matters as serious as this stage that Col. Joseph H. Buchanan, commander of the 10th regiment, N. G., and chief of the police, rode into the crowd with the aid of a squad of mounted men, and the people and the president were restored.

After the exercises, the president was escorted to the conclusion of his address by the Carlsberg Indian and soldiers' orphans school.

NEW CURE FOR RUPTURE

New Scientific Appliance, Always a Perfect Fit—Adjustable to Any Size Person—Easy, Comfortable, Never Slips—Costs Less Than Many Common Trusses—Made for Men, Women and Children.

I send it on Approval—You Wear it—If You Are Not Satisfied, I Refund Your Money.

I have invented a rupture appliance that I can safely say, by 30 years' experience in the rupture business is the only one that will absolutely hold the rupture and never slip and yet is cool, comfortable, conforms to every movement of the body without chafing or hurting and costs less than many ordinary trusses. I have put the price so low that any person, rich or poor, can but, and I absolutely guarantee it.

Jas. Britton, Bethlechem, Pa., Cured of Rupture by C. E. Brooks.

poor, can but, and I absolutely guarantee it. I make it to your order—sent it to you—wear it, and if it doesn't satisfy you, send it back to me and I will refund your money. That is the fairest proposition ever made by a rupture specialist. The banks of any responsible citizen in Marshall will tell you that is the way I do business—always absolutely on the square.

Here is what Mr. Jas. Britton, a prominent manufacturer of Bethlechem, Pa., writes:

"C. E. Brooks Esq. Dear Sir—I have been ruptured six years and have always had trouble with it. I got your appliance, it is very easy to wear, fits me and snug, and is not in the way at any time, day or night. In fact, at times I did not know I had it on. It just adjusted itself to the shape of the body and clung to the spot no matter what position I was in."

"It would be a veritable God-send to the unfortunate who suffer from rupture. After all could you not make the rupture appliance wear it. They certainly would never regret it. My rupture has healed up and nothing ever did it but your appliance."

Jas. Britton.

If you have tried most everything else, come to me. Where others fail is where I have my greatest success.

Write me today and I will send you my book on Rupture and its Cure, showing my appliance and giving you prices and names of people who have tried it and been cured. It is instant relief when all others fail. Remember I use no surgery, no harness, no ties. Just a straight business deal at a reasonable price.

C. E. Brooks, 1336 Brooks Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

passed in review before the president. After the parade the president and his party were afforded an opportunity to inspect the capitol. This was followed by luncheon at the executive mansion in honor of the president at which 40 guests were present.

The new capitol of Pennsylvania, which was dedicated today, is one of the most beautiful and imposing buildings in the United States, not only in its architecture, but also in its interior decorations and furnishings. Thus far the building and its furnishings represent an expenditure of about $13,000,000.

Except for the hanging of the mural paintings by Edwin A. Abbey and Violet Oakley and the setting of the statues of George Gray Barnard, the sculptor, the capitol is practically complete. The building is a Roman-Corinthian in its general design and is faced with Barre granite. It covers a trifle more than two acres of ground and stands on the site of the capitol destroyed by fire in February, 1897.

The building was constructed under the supervision of a commission of which former Gov. William A. Stone was president and was furnished under the direction of the board of public grounds and buildings.

Including some preliminary work it cost $4,000,000 to erect the building and $9,000,000 to furnish it.

The $9,000,000 spent in furnishing the building has been made a campaign issue by the state fusion candidates who are opposed to the Republican candidates. The board of public grounds and buildings, which expended the money for furnishings, is composed of Gov. Pennypacker and Auditor General Snyder (Republicans), and State Treasurer Berry (Democrat). Although he was a member of the board by virtue of his office, Mr. Berry was the first to publicly criticize the expenditures and the two members issued a statement in reply in which they justified the cost of furnishing the capitol. The state treasurer alleged there were gross overcharges in the purchase of the furniture and other furnishings.

"The public ownership and corporation of public utilities in nation, state and city."

"Eight hours for labor, protection of women and children against overwork, trial of facts by jury in equity cases involving labor injunctions."

"Equal taxation."

"Drastic law against private monopoly, with imprisonment penalties only."

Reciprocity and tariff revision; free hides, free coal, free lumber, free iron and free wood pulp.

"Stringent laws to the raising of the price of necessities by conspiracy or other unlawful methods, with imprisonment penalties only."

"Laws providing imprisonment penalties for willful negligence of public officials."

"The nomination of all candidates for elective offices by direct vote."

The Bryan plank called forth a burst of cheers.

As the Herriot paragraph was being read there was some cheering, but almost immediately hoots and hisses predominated.

Chairman Peasey pounded his desk, but delegates shouted "strike that plank out." "Bryan, Bryan!" A viva-vote on the adoption of the committee's report resulted in the chairman announcing that the ayes had it.

Favors Central Bank of Issue or Enlargement of Nat'l Bank Privileges.

New York, Oct. 4.—Either a central bank of issue to be established and controlled by the government or a simple measure enlarging the present issue privilege of national banks in such a manner that their right of issue shall not vary with the ownership of United States bonds, are the methods favored by the special currency commission appointed by the chamber of commerce last March to inquire into the condition of the currency and suggest desirable changes.

Third Annual Convention Began In the Federal Building This Afternoon.

Address of Welcome From Governor Cutler—Speech by U. S. Senator Sutherland.

The third annual convention of Utah postmasters was to have convened this morning, but owing to a mistake in the circular calling the meeting, the first session was postponed until 2 p. m. One part of the announcement circular located the place of meeting in the city and county building, while in another the federal building was given as the place. The result was that part of the postmasters went to one place and the rest to the other. So it was thought best not to attempt any session then at the federal building, where it had finally been decided on as the place of meeting, and the time for opening the convention was set for 2 p. m., in the circuit court room, federal building.

The program for the afternoon includes an address of welcome from Gov. Cutler, with response by Postmaster Odell of Logan, reports from officers of the association, admission of new members, an address from United States Senator Sutherland, a paper on the rural free delivery system of state by Postmaster James Clave of Provo, discussions of postal questions. In the evening will come the annual banquet at the Kenyon hotel.

Tomorrow's sessions include an address by Congressman Joseph Howell, discussion of postal questions, a paper on experiences of the country postmaster by Postmaster Peters of American Fork, short address by Inspector Durand, an address by United States Senator Smoot, and election of officers for the ensuing year.
