

GOSHEN TALKS TO GRADUATES.

Delivers Wholesome Address to Those Leaving Gordon
Academy.

ARE ADVISED TO HELP OTHERS

Says There Never Was an Age When
Manhood and Womanhood Were
More Than They Are Today.

Hammond Hall was crowded last evening by the friends and patrons of Gordon academy in attendance on the 25th annual commencement of the institution. The platform was profusely decorated with plants and flowers, and the piano was almost concealed behind large potted plants. The graduating class sat in front of the platform, five girls handsomely attired in white dresses, and on the stage were Principal Jogen and Rev. E. I. Goshen, the orator of the evening.

After the invocation, Miss Judith E. Evans, favored the audience with a Hungarian Dance by Brahms, on the piano, which was given with artistic effect and good interpretation. Then Rev. Mr. Goshen delivered an address in his characteristic style. He said in part: "I congratulate you, young graduates, on having arrived at the conclusion of your secondary studies. What the years that are to come will mean, will depend upon you. Consecrated purpose marks all worthy achievement in the world's history. If your motives are lofty, you will build character and genuine worth for yourselves; while if your aim be low, you will erect a structure which men will pass by without notice. The parents of some of you have labored hard that you may receive an education, and men and women in poverty have labored to maintain this and similar institutions.

SOUND ADVICE.
"Go out with this thought that you must sacrifice for some one else. Cause others have sacrificed for you. Go forth to help, labor and to serve. You have come into a stage in the world's history that is the greatest the world has ever known. There never was an age when manhood and womanhood counted for so much as they do today. A tremendous age this is, an age that will go down in history as one of revolution."

Mr. Goshen here referred specifically to that point in English history when the home weaving industry was destroyed by the invention of spinning machinery, and a revolution followed in industrial and commercial life, an illustration of the advance and growth of economic conditions which at times occur with such force as to overturn existing conditions, and may occasion widespread distress until society can readjust itself to the new conditions. "Such changes have strongly marked this age. Before you reach the middle age," continued the speaker, "you are going to look into new individual conditions. Back of history is the eternal God, and if you work in harmony with all that will achieve glorious results. All that has been accomplished in history has been the result of your God-given labor, and labor is the language of creation, it is the first great question the fine qua non of success.

SELECT THE BEST.
"If you go to college select the best. Books, clothing and food are the same practically everywhere; tuition varies but little. Go to the best institution if it takes twice as long to get there as it would to go to an institution of less repute. Hundreds of young men and women are working their way through college today, and these will compose the sons and the sires of the coming generation. You will be asked to go out and cover the faults of humanity; go forth and be liberal. Think differently from others, and yet respect the opinions of others and their reasons. Go appreciate that beautiful word charity, the finest garment that can be worn. Keep before you the beautiful gem of a high ideal, the purest flower, God gave to you. Look up to the heights from which come all good. The portals of a new century have just opened; go out through those portals with the benediction of parents, friends and school. Go forth to count no labor too low or too menial as long as it will work for the benefit of your fellow man, and sure as God lives, not one of you shall fail."

CERTIFICATES GRANTED.
At the conclusion of the address, these pupils of the eighth grade lined up in front of the platform to receive their certificates: Florence Van Ness, Margie Blyd, Margaret Richmond, Leola Kneib, Ollie Naylor, Birdie Langston, Catharine Irvine, Albert Baldwin, Charles Davidson, Wellington Davidson, Hugh Williams, all of this city except Miss Irving who comes from Proctorville. Principal Jogen gave the eighth graders some very good advice, urging them to look beyond their present educational status, and enter into the highest, best and noblest aspirations for the future. That, he said, might be the better fitted to come off conquerors in the struggle of life.

DIPLOMAS TO GRADUATES.
The graduating class then lined up on the platform to receive their diplomas. They were: Jessie M. Allen, Wells, Nev.; Eva Eusebia Johnson, Salt Lake City; Margaret E. Johnson, Salt Lake City; Vera Hagerman Shav-

THE HISTORIC JOHN T. CAINE HOME.

Fine and Picturesque Residence Purchased Last Week by Dr. Joseph S. Richards.

The above is a reproduction of the picturesque old John T. Caine residence on B street, sold to Dr. Joseph S. Richards last week. It was built 25 years ago, and at that time was one of the most substantial and handsome homes in the intermountain west. Time has scarcely left a mark upon it, and it is still considered one of the choicest of homes. In the days when its builder and owner, Hon. John T. Caine, was Utah's delegate in Congress, which was for a greater period than that of any other man, it was the scene of many a brilliant social function. The sale, which was made through the firm of Tuttle Bros. & Woolley, is one of the most noteworthy realty transactions of recent record.

Dr. Salt Lake City; Anna C. Sorenson, Salt Lake City.

Principal Jogen, in distributing the much desired and much dreamed of "sheepskins," urged the young people to make of their lives each, a complete and well rounded whole. "Life is not made up of sudden changes or transformations," he said. Mr. Jogen congratulated them upon the faithful and enthusiastic work which they had completed their school course, but added: "He who putteth his hand to the plow and looks back is not fit for the serious things of life. Do right no matter what it costs. The saddest thing in life is to see young men and women waiting for some one to tell them what to do, and then push them into their opportunities."

MUSICAL NUMBERS.
Besides the number given by Miss Evans, the other musical numbers were a finely rendered quartet, "When Winds are Raging," from the First Congressional choir, and a soprano solo, "A Gypsy Maiden," by Lillian Schaeferberger, which was deservedly well received. After the benediction the audience waited to examine the specimens of drawings on the walls by the pupils of the school under Miss Klock, the professor of drawing. These drawings were all from still life—no copying, and were of the most praiseworthy character both in outline and shading. Noticeably the latter. The evening closed with a reception in the girls' boarding hall.

That tired Feeling!
If you are languid, depressed and incapable for work, it indicates that your liver is out of order. Herbine will assist nature to throw off headaches, rheumatism and ailments akin to nervousness and restore the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard, Temple, Texas, writes, March 2, 1899: "I have used Herbine for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. When I feel bad and have that tired feeling, I take a dose of Herbine. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever. 25 cents a bottle. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept."

TWO IN ONE.

That is the Proposition That Will be Considered by Baptist Churches.

An important meeting will be held this evening at the First Baptist church at 8 o'clock, to act further on the invitation to the East Side Baptist church to join the First church in its efforts to increase the usefulness and importance of the Baptist denomination in Salt Lake City. At that meeting, a committee consisting of C. J. McCall, Everett Hiner, Jr., and Dr. E. D. Hammond, was appointed to draft suitable resolutions, embodying these arguments, to be presented at a subsequent meeting of the church for its consideration and ratification. The committee will present the resolutions this evening, and it is desired that every member of the church be present that the action may be unanimous.

JUMP KILLED HIM.

Man Injured Sunday Night Dies at the L. D. S. Hospital.

Alfred Stoops, who was injured by jumping from a Lagoon train Sunday night, died at the Groves L. D. S. hospital last evening of concussion of the brain. Mr. Stoops undertook to get off the train at Fourth North street near his home while it was going at a pretty lively rate and was thrown violently against a telegraph pole and rendered unconscious. He was removed to his residence and attended by Dr. Baldwin, the company surgeon. Later he was removed to the hospital but he never regained consciousness. The deceased was about 42 years of age and came here about two years ago from Colorado Springs. He was engaged as foreman at the Morrison, Morrill & Co. lumber yard until about a month ago when he went to the Taylor Romney company as solicitor. He leaves a wife and one son. Arrangements have not yet been made for the funeral.

SUGGESTION FOR GOOD READING

To the Editor:
To people with the reading habit, there are, no doubt, many different literary appetites. But aptness for reading, like the desire for eating, should be properly cultivated. News generally is looked upon as coming from calamity, desperate deeds, accidents, distressing sensations and the unsavory side of life. The thoughtful reader, if not the ordinary mind, looks for this low grade furnishings, and sometimes, if he fails to find this class, he is liable to exclaim, there is no news today. But the most wholesome news, on the profitable and practical things of life, items for enterprise and instruction, substantial food for reflection, something of value and profit to the thoughtful thinker is often overlooked—the sensational never. For the beautiful and sublime, that graced the columns of this paper of June 3, notice the baseness and sensationalism delivered to the students of our famous colleges, by Bishops Whitney and Spaulding. "WHAT A CRIME!"

To Talk About Coffee.

To an ambitious student an ailment that interferes with school and study is very hard to bear. A bright young girl in Detroit who had been poisoned by coffee, is now pursuing her studies in perfect health. Probably the coffee she drank had also should have continued to suffer and kept on with the coffee, but now and then there are self-willed creatures who insist on getting well by leaving off coffee, deserting the "topers' ranks" and joining the Postum army. "From early childhood till a year ago I was in the habit of drinking three or four cups of coffee every day. As I grew older, the bad effects began to show themselves, although I had no idea that it was coffee that was doing the mischief. I became very nervous, and suffered so much from severe headaches that I lost much valuable time from my school and studies. The doctor could give me no relief—he probably did not suspect the coffee any more than I did. "One day I went to visit a friend, and the coffee they had on their table tasted so good that I asked what kind it was, and they told me it was Postum Food Coffee. My friend said that her mother had been a nervous wreck from drinking the old kind of coffee, but had been restored to health by quitting it and drinking Postum. The whole family were enthusiastic about Postum and advised me to try it. "I am glad they did, for it has given me back my health. At first we did not boil it enough and did not like it, but we soon learned how to make it, and now we all prefer it to the old kind. I have discovered that to stir a beaten egg in the warm milk we use instead of cream gives a most delicious flavor to Postum Food Coffee. "From the first day I began to use Postum Coffee (I quit the old kind altogether) my health began to improve. My headaches ceased on the third day and have never returned, my nervousness has completely disappeared, my brain seems invigorated and strengthened, and I am now able to study from 4 to 5 hours daily, outside of school, and feel no bad effects from it. "My aunt was sick for five years from coffee poisoning. It was hard work to get her to give up the beverage, but when she did and began to use Postum Food Coffee, she got well almost at once, and is now enjoying fine health. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "Ten days' trial proves. 'There's a reason.'"
