Long-Standing

Blood Diseases are cured by the persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

This medicine is an Alterative, and causes a radical change in the system The process, in some cases, may not be quite so rapid as in others; but, with persistence, the result is certain. Read these testimonials:—

"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence st., Lowell, Mass.

Last May a large carbuncle broke out on my arm. The usual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more Wonderful Results.

Another marked effect of the use of this medicine was the strengthening of my sight."—Mrs. Carrie Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

"I had a dry scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the malady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyron, (of Fernandina, Fla.,) recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 Chambers st., New York City.

"Last fall and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stomach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Mrs. Augusta A. Furbush, Haverhill, Mass.

THE PATENT

Wire Gauze Oven Door

IS THE LATEST IMPROVEMENT ON THE

It Produces Practical Results in Baking and Roasting never before attained in any Cooking Apparatus, and will

Revolutionize the Present Methods of Cooking

ITS THEORY

Is that all Food Baked or Cooked, should be cooked in fresh air freely admitted to the oven. This is done by discarding the close oven door heretofore used, and substituting for it a door containing a sheet of Wire Gauze nearly as large as the door itself.

Through this Gauze Door the air feeds directly, facilitating the process of cooking, and producing food that is unequalled in flavor and nutrition, and actually cooked with less consumption of fuel than in an oven with a closed door.

It makes an enormous saving in the weight of meat.

It also produces larger Loaves of Bread, requires less attention from the cook, and promotes the health of the family by the SUPERIOR QUALITY OF THE FOOD COOKED IN IT.

OPINION OF AN EXPERT.

MRS. MARY B. WELCH, Teacher Domestic Economy, Iowa State University, says: "My deliberate judgment is that the oven of the Range, as compared with others, is not only more equally heated in every part—front and rear—but as a result of its superior ventilation the food placed therein is better cooked, while retaining a sweeter flavor, and a larger proportion of its best juices. I find, also the consumption of fuel in this Range is much less than any other same work.

EVENING NEWS.

Wednesday, - November 7, 1888.

A CAMPAIGN MORAL BY WAY OF THE BOSTON JOURNAL.

"I'll tell you something," says little Belle,
"If you're certain, sure, you'll never tell."

"Of course I won't," cries tiny Sue,
"Criss-cross, Hope-to-die, Black and-blue."

"Well, then," whispers the little maid,
"My papa, a great, big man, 's afraid."

"O, isn't that funny enough!" laughs Sue,
"Your papa's afraid, and mine is, too."

"Not of bears or tigers or bumble-bees;
It's something a thousand times worse than these.

"It's a terrible thing, that goes up and down
Through every city, village and town,

"And my papa says he almost knows
That things will be ruined wherever it goes."

"Yes, isn't it dreadful?" says Belle, with a sigh.

"It will swear and, papa says, steal and lie."

"I 'spect it has horns and cloven feet;
And, Sue, what do you s'pose it will eat?"

Then closer together drew each little maid,
Looking about as if half afraid

They might see this thing with cloven feet,
And find it liked little girls to eat.

And they even fancied they heard it roar,
As it gobbled them up and cried for more.

"O, it's name," cries Belle, "is so dreadful, too;
Does your papa call it 'Republican,' Sue?"

Sue shakes her head. "O, it can't be that,
For my papa calls it a 'Democrat.'"

Pleasant People.

What a boon to all his friends and acquaintances a pleasant person is, says a writer in the

It may be hard to define pleasantness, but we find no difficulty in recognizing it when we meet with it. Pleasant people are not always by any means the most admirable of mankind, nor the most interesting, for it often happens that the qualities in a man which are worthiest of esteem are, for lack of other modifying elements, the very ones which make against his agreeableness as a companion and a person who does not impress us as particularly pleasant may nevertheless interest us very much in the display of unusual mental or moral characteristics, or from a complexity of nature which seems to offer itself as an enigma we are curious to solve. Pleasant people may not even be the most truly lovable, but they are likable. We perhaps have no desire to make friends of them in the deeper sense friendship, but we are glad when we meet them, and enjoy ourselves while in their society. The tie thus formed, though slight, is a real one, and I believe we should all do well to remember, in the interest of our closer friendships, the attractive and cohesive force of mere pleasantness. The highest virtues and offices of friendship we are not called on to exercise every day, and in familiar intercourse we have not less, but rather the more, need of making ourselves pleasant, because of the times when our friends will have to answer our drafts on their patience and sympathy.

If we question what it is that goes to constitute a man or woman pleasant, it appears to be a result of both temperament and character. It is hardly necessary to say that these are not the same thing, and yet they are not distinguished in common thought and speech as clearly as they might be. Without attempting any close analysis we may perhaps say that temperament is a certain combination of elements given us at birth, while character is another set of powers and dispositions slowly acquired and grown in for us; for the first, nature is responsible, our parents and ourselves for the second.

It seems easiest to describe a pleasant person by negative, although assuredly his pleasantness affects us as a most positive quality. To begin with, such a person must not be too much "shut up in his own individuality," to use the parase of an English writer. That is, he must not be very reserved and concentrated in his emotions and affections, but have a certain expansiveness of nature and openness of manner. He must not be of too fastidious, but able to take people for what they are, and what they are worth to him at the passing moment and the needs of the social hour. He must not be of too intense a nature, nor so preoccupied with the serious aspects and duties of life that he is unable to put them aside temporarily and lend himself to lighter thoughts and lighter people. One of the pleasantest men I ever met was one of the most hard-working, devoted to a dozen good causes and public interests beside his personal and professional ones. None of these were made a bore to others, and his equable and kindly disposition, his readiness to enter into other persons' ideas his interest in literature and art as well as weightier matters of politics and science, made him able to please and be pleased by men and women of the most diverse sorts. It has sometimes struck me forcibly with respect to such a man: How pleasant he must be to himself—how comfortable to live with every day!

Selecting Seed-Corn.

The greatest care and circumspection should be used in selecting and saving seed-corn, that its various qualities may be improved. The majority of farmers go to their cribs for seed, and even here if care is used in selecting seed may be kept up. One of the first, qualities to be observed is strong germinating power. Every farmer who has experienced trouble from seed failing to germinate, need not be told that this is of great importance. Seed is in its best condition for reproduction when it ripens perfectly before harvested. Grain may be better as food when harvested prematurely, but, for seed it should be ripened thoroughly upon the stalk. Now is the best time for selecting seed. The earliest-matured ears can be selected. The grains of an ear which matures early will produce plants which will mature their ears earlier than plants from the grain of a later-maturing ear. If selecting seed is deferred until the cort is gathered, we may be able to select good-looking ears, but we cannot tell whether they matured earliest, or whether they grew one or two ears to the stalk.

Select ears from stalks that have two ears. Take the top ear, if it is well matured. In so doing, the productiveness of corn may be greatly increased. Another important point in selecting seed is the cob. The quantity of shelled corn is much greater with a small cob to the quantity of the cob, than it is with a large cob. In feeding corn with a large cob to cattle, they can hardly chew it up; besides, the cattle have to eat so much cob to get a little corn. Some varieties of corn have a smaller cob than others, but in a variety of this kind, growing in the same field, there will be found ears with smaller cobs and deeper grains than others.

In selecting seed, select those ears with the smallest cob, of medium size, of good length, straight, of symmetrical beauty, grain reaching quite to the end of the cob, and easy shelled. Many stalks in a field are barren, and produce only tassels entirely devoid of ears. These are imperfect plants simply and purely males, and incapable of self-reproduction, as the perfectly-provided plants are. If in the Spring a small plot of ground were planted to select seed from, those barren stalks could be topped, and their barren nature stopped from being infused into the seed. This care in selecting seed should be used every year. It is considerable trouble to select in this way but good seed is nearly as important as good soil and cultivation to a maxium crop. B.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

The following statement from Mrs. Emeline P. Misner of Burg Hill, Ohio, will be of great interest to those who suffer from Bright's Disease or Gravel.—I have long resolved that I would express you of the deep sense of obligation which I feel. There is nothing which I now enjoy that I do not owe to the happy chance of having used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy at a time when I was suffering all that a human being could endure. My troubles began in my Kidneys over nine years ago and from which

I Never Expected to Recover.

I was compelled to use a cane when I walked, and I finally got so weak that I could not stand alone. In a few months my physician said I had Bright's disease, which was indeed alarming information. To add to my affliction after I had been ill about two years, I had a bad attack of Gravel. Six years ago, last June, how well I remember the day, I saw Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy of Rondout, N. Y., advertised in our paper. After using one bottle I threw away my cane and went to New York on a visit, and three bottle cured me, this was six years ago. I have never had a return of gravel, nor of the pains or weakness in the back, and though I am over sixty years of age

I am Now Vigorous and Strong

as I was in my prime. I do all my own work, and rarely know what it is to be tired. I keep the medicine in the house and give it to my grandchildren, and recommend it whenever I can. What physicians and all of the many remedies I had taken could not do, Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy did; it stayed the disease and made me a strong, vigorous woman.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

Of Salt Lake City Bonds of 1880.

To whom it may concern:

IN PURSUANCE OF LAW AND BY virtue of authority vested in me by a resolution of the City Council of Salt Lake City, adopted October 30th, A. D. 1888, I, Francis Armstrong, Mayor of Salt Lake City, do hereby notify and inform all persons owning or holding any of the coupon bonds of Salt Lake City Corporation, bearing date of June 1st, 1880, Series B, numbered from 51 to 400 inclusive, of the denomination of $500 each, and drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, that each and all of said bonds have been called and required for redemption by the City Council of Salt Lake City, and that the principal thereof will be paid in full on or after the 1st day of December, A. D. 1888, upon presentation of said bonds at the Deseret National Bank, Salt Lake City, Utah Territory, and notice is hereby given to all persons interested that all interest upon said bonds will cease and determine and the coupons attached thereto (except coupon number 17, for interest for six months ending December 1st, 1888) will become void and of no value from and after said date.

Witness my hand and the corporate seal of said city this 30th day of October, A. D. 1888.

FRANCIS ARMSTRONG, Mayor.

Attest:

HEBER M. WELLS, [SEAL.] City Recorder.

EXECUTOR'S SALE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, THAT in pursuance of an order of the Probate Court of Salt Lake County, Territory of Utah, made on the 29th day of September, 1888, in the matter of the estate of Charles S. Harmon, deceased, the undersigned executors of the said estate, will sell at private sale, to the highest bidder, for cash, gold coin of the United States, and subject to confirmation by said Probate Court, at 12 o'clock m., on Saturday, the 10th day of November, 1888, at the office of J. H. Moyle, 49 Main Street, Salt Lake City and County, Territory of Utah, all the right, title, interest and estate of said Charles S. Harmon, at the time of his death, and all the right, title and interest the said estate has, by operation of law or otherwise, acquired other than or in addition to that of the said Charles S. Harmon, at the time of his death in and to all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in said Salt Lake County, Territory of Utah, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Commencing forty-eight (48) rods north of the southeast corner of the west half (½) of northwest quarter (¼) of section twenty-seven (27), township one (1), north of range one (1), west Salt Lake meridian, and running thence north forty-eight (48) rods, thence west thirty-two (32) rods, then south forty-eight (48) rods, thence east thirty-two (32) rods to the place of beginning, containing nine and three-fifth (9.3 5) acres of land. Terms and conditions of sale: Cash, gold coin of the United States, ten per cent of the purchase money to be paid to the executors on the day of sale, balance on confirmation of sale by said Probate Court. Bids for said property will be received in writing at the said office of J. H. Moyle at any time after the first publication of this notice until 12 o'clock m., on the said 10th day of November, 1888.

IDEAL BROILING.

Broiling can be done in the oven of the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door, more perfectly than over the live coals.

Lay the steak, chops, ham or fish on a wire broiler or meat rack, placing it in an ordinary bake pan to catch the drippings.

Allow it to remain in the oven with the door closed 15 or 20 minutes. No turning is required. At the end of this time it will be found nicely cooked ready to serve.

THIS IS THE IDEAL WAY TO BROIL MEATS.

There is no taint of coal gas or smoke, and the meats are more tender and better in flavor than those broiled over the coals. The convenience of broiling in the oven will be appreciated by every housekeeper, and adds another to the many reasons why the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door should be preferred to all others now in the market.
