

never been viewed at night, and the electric lights will shine upon a vast concourse in a manner at once pleasing and effective.

The concert promises to be an entertainment of a high order. A number of our leading vocalists and instrumental performers will assist, the selection of pieces is excellent, and those who attend will enjoy a pleasant evening while their presence will contribute to the support of a most worthy institution. The occasion is of so much importance that half fare rates have been granted by the local railroads to people at Provo, Ogden, and intermediate places, who wish to attend the concert.

We direct attention to the posters and programmes for details of the entertainment, and can safely promise all our friends a musical treat and the thanks of the hospital association, as well as the satisfaction of having performed a good deed, if they purchase tickets and attend the concert. THE UTAH JOURNAL.

The new Logan paper has just come to hand. Its first number was published on Tuesday, August 1. It is a semi-weekly paper, of eight columns, and is the same size as the DESERET EVENING NEWS. It has a neat, clean, new appearance and looks like a live journal, one that will win its way in the struggle for existence and eminence. The editorial columns are marked with vigorous yet tempered utterances, and its news department is full and varied. Local interests very properly engage a large share of its attention, and correspondence from adjacent settlements is made a prominent feature. The selected matter is readable and unexceptionable. Its advertising patronage appears to be good and its prospects excellent.

The company engaged in the publication of the Utah Journal is thus organized: Directors: Moses Thatcher, W. B. Preston, Geo. W. Thatcher, John T. Caine, Jr., E. B. Burnett, B. F. Cummings, Jr., John P. Smith. The directors have elected as officers: President, Moses Thatcher; Vice-President, W. B. Preston; Secretary, John T. Caine, Jr.; Treasurer, E. A. Stratford; Business Manager, E. B. Burnett.

The motto of the paper is, "The highest possible liberty to man and woman." Its policy may be understood from the following extract taken from the introductory editorial:

As far as space may permit, the columns of the Journal will be open to all, to advocate or defend the rights of man, regardless of creed, color or profession. We have our ideas of religion. We shall contend with all the force we have against those who may seek to deprive man or woman of that free agency with which the Creator has endowed them. We shall sustain all in the exercise of their civil, religious and political rights, holding that none should infringe upon the liberty, peace and happiness of others in so doing."

We bespeak for the Utah Journal the patronage of the people of Northern Utah and Southern Idaho and the encouragement and assistance of all promoters of progress and the diffusion of intelligence in this mountain region. And we wish it all the success—financially and editorially—which its projectors and their associates can reasonably hope for. It is needed in Cache Valley, and we have no doubt will prove of inestimable benefit to the people who have made their homes in the favored valleys of the north.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 4.

Bundle Found.—A bundle containing a pair of new overalls and a duster has been picked up between the Theatre and Bank corner. The owner can have it by calling at this office.

Northward Bound.—This afternoon Presidents John Taylor and Joseph F. Smith and party, numbering about twenty in all, left the city for the north. They will proceed to Logan, and after remaining a few days there, will probably go to Bear Lake Valley.

A Watch Case.—Randall and Parraut were carousing together yesterday, and while the latter was asleep the other relieved him of his watch. Randall was arrested and examined to-day, on a charge of stealing, when he excused himself on the ground that he had taken so much of the brain-stealing stimulant he didn't know what he was doing, and had no intention of committing a theft. Justice Spiers held him in $300 bonds.

Bear Lake Valley Afflicted.—Somebody has started a saloon in Paris, Bear Lake Valley, and the respectable citizens of that burg are accordingly indignant. The evil effects of the drinkers' den are already apparent. Attempts to establish a place of that kind in Paris have hitherto failed. It is opposed to the sentiment of the great majority of the people of the place and, being a source of evil, should not have a long life.

Stolen Property Recovered.—The statement made in the NEWS of Wednesday, regarding the arrest of three bootblacks at Ogden on suspicion of stealing a quantity of books and other articles lead to the recovery of the property by the owner. The goods belonged to Mrs. E. B. McKee, now residing in this city. They had been temporarily stored at the Ogden wagon depot of Mr. H. Sebree, from which establishment they were carried off by the thieves.

Visit to Pleasant Grove.—Yesterday Sisters E. R. S. Smith, Zina D. H. Young and E. B. Wells, visited Pleasant Grove, Utah County, and attended a conference of the Relief Society and Primary Association. They were met at the depot by a host of little children, who sang for them and escorted the visitors to the school house, where they were greeted with music from the juvenile martial band, the members of which were decked in a neat uniform. The meetings were profitable and interesting.

The "Instructor."—We have received No. 15 of the current volume of the Juvenile Instructor. It is as usual very interesting. The contents are:

The Hippopotamus (Illustrated), by W.; Honesty, by J. W.; History of the Church; Jottings of a Young Missionary, by Streben; Baptism for the Dead, by James A. Little; Who Knew Best; Topics of the Times, by the Editor; Editorial Thoughts; The Art of Conversation; The Simple Secret; Scenes in Germany (Illustrated); Internal Evidence of the Book of Mormon, by G. R.; Catechism on the Lord's Supper, by E. E. B.; Letter to the Young Folks, by Hannah T. King; Chapter for the Little Ones; Proverbs, by J. L. Townsend; Scriptural Enigma.

Accident at Butte.—The Miner of yesterday says: On Tuesday afternoon about 3 o'clock, a very serious accident happened at the Anaconda mine. Dan Sullivan and a man whose name is unknown were at work in the stopes on the 200 level. We could not exactly learn how it happened as Sullivan was too seriously injured to talk about it, yet he lost his left eye entirely and the right one is seriously hurt. His face shows the marks of the gravel and there is not a spot on his face and neck the size of a quarter of a dollar which is not badly bruised. Upon the question being asked by one of the physicians, as to how much powder there was, Sullivan replied "a stick and a half," yet this is hardly believed, for that amount of giant powder would have torn him all to pieces, for the marks on his face and neck attest that he must have been very close to the shot.

A Barefaced Robbery.—Yesterday a man named Green was discussing some matters in a small crowd. He was induced to offer a bet of $20 on some subject, and took out his pocket-book containing over a hundred dollars, for the purpose of putting up the money. In a twinkling, a person in the crowd knocked it out of his hand to the sidewalk, and another of the roughs immediately kicked it out toward the water ditch. A general scramble followed, when one of the parties picked up the pocketbook and fled.

Green and his friends started on a hunt after the thief and his accomplice, and succeeded in capturing them. The police were called, but as soon as the officers appeared one of the prisoners broke away from his captor and ran. A policeman pursued him and secured him in McKimmin's livery stable, whither he had fled to hide himself. The two were finally lodged in jail.

Western States Mission.—President Joseph F. Smith has received a lengthy letter from Elder William M. Palmer, President of the Western States Mission, in which he gives an account of the condition of the work in that part of the country. He gives an interesting report of the manner in which the Lord opened up his way in providing the means to enable him to travel 2,836 miles.

On the 9th of June Elder Palmer arrived at Sylvester, Neosta Co., Mich., where, during his stay, a lady, 76 years old, was added to the Church. He met six Elders in that place, when it was decided to withdraw the missionaries from the State, excepting one, who was left in charge to strengthen the scattered Saints. This action of the brethren was caused by the rejection of the Elders, the doors of the people being almost universally closed against them.

Elder Palmer next went to the southern part of Michigan, where he baptized his father's sister, to whom he had previously preached. She had been praying during the winter for him to return and baptize her. The members of her family were bitterly opposed to her joining the Church.

Brother Palmer proceeded to Covington, Indiana, where a conference was held on June 17th and 18th. It was decided at this meeting to withdraw the Elders from the State of Ohio, because of the unyielding prejudice existing among the people of that section. Visiting some other portions of Indiana, in company with other brethren, and preaching the Gospel, seven new members were shortly added to the Church by baptism through those labors.

Elder Palmer quotes from a letter to him from Elder D. Jensen, who had traveled to the Dakota line, where the people received the Elders warmly, treating them with much hospitality, and stated that the teachings of the brethren were what they had been looking for. Elders J. L. Jensen and — Belnap reported similarly, with two baptisms and prospects of more additions at an early day.

Brother Palmer concludes: "since my arrival in the mission this time, on May 6th, 1882, we have organized two new branches and three Sunday Schools, and have baptized thirty-two persons."

A note received subsequently by President Smith, from Brother Palmer, dated July 17th, states that reports from Elders in different parts of the mission since his letter was mailed, state that four more baptisms had occurred, with more likely to take place soon, and the brethren were receiving communications from different parts conveying invitations for them to visit various places and preach. Brother Palmer himself was on the eve of starting out on horseback to go a distance of forty miles to respond to an invitation of a similar nature. His health was very poor, but he was filled with a determination to do his duty in spreading the Gospel.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 5.

Off For Home.—Brother N. P. Beebe formerly of Provo and now of St. David, on the San Pedro River, Arizona, who has been on a visit here lately, left for his southern home to-day. He goes by way of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Yuma to Tucson, going within half a mile of his place by rail.

Celebration at St. John.—We have received an account of the celebration of July 24th, (Pioneer day), at St. John, Arizona. Owing to the lateness of the reception of the report and its being quite lengthy, we do not give it in full. The exercises appear to have been of the same character as are general in other places, composed principally of music, speeches, recitations, dancing and feasting. Everything, according to the report, passed off satisfactorily.

Serious Accident.—About seven o'clock yesterday morning, Chas. Smith, who has charge of the U. & N. R. R. telegraph repairs, left Battle Creek, Idaho, northward bound, accompanied by two men on a hand car. When about three miles had been run, the car jumped the track. Smith, who was sitting in front being thrown off, his right leg passing between the car cog-wheel, completely crushing it and exposing the bone. W. K. Morrison, one of the men pumping, was thrown on his back and received considerable muscular injury. The other man fortunately escaped injury.—Utah (Logan) Journal, Tuesday.

Railroad Accident.—On Monday afternoon last an accident occurred on the Sanpete Valley Railway by which two men were injured. The regular train stopped at the gravel beds on the "divide," to pick up some loaded flat cars. In switching, the loaded cars ran down with such force against some empty flats on the rear of the train that the draw heads broke, and one of the shifting cars rose on to the platform of the caboose. The conductor, Jas. Collard, was putting on the brake and he was caught between the end of the flag and the caboose. No bones were broken, but he received severe internal injuries. Another young man who was standing on the platform was severely bruised in the back.—Territorial Enquirer.

A Richfield Shooting Affair.—A Richfield, Sevier County, correspondent of the Enquirer, writes to that paper as follows:

The notorious whisky vender, Bill Anderson, of this city, has just ended a week's spree by shooting A. L. Farnsworth, who arrived from Arizona, last evening. The ball cut across the latter's nose just below the eyes, and the pistol was held so close to the face that the left eye and face were considerably burned with the powder. This same Anderson has been in the habit of shooting prominently in the town, without hindrance heretofore for some time. He now lies in jail awaiting examination, which takes place on Monday morning. Several persons, male and female, were abused yesterday by this first-class specimen of professed liberalism.

Railroads in Utah.—There are of standard-gauge railroads in Utah: Union Pacific, main line, 78 miles; Utah Central branch, 280 miles; Salt Lake & Western branch, 55 miles; Echo & Park City branch, 27 miles; Central Pacific 148 miles; total standard gauge, 588 miles; narrow gauge, Utah & Northern branch, Union Pacific (in Utah) 75 miles; Utah & Nevada branch, Union Pacific 37 miles; Sanpete Valley Railway, 28 miles; Utah Eastern Railway, 28 miles; Denver & Rio Grande Western, Bingham branch, 16 miles and 8 miles tramway; Wasatch & Jordan Valley branch, 7 miles and 7 miles tramway; main line to Denver, 90 miles (to summit of Wasatch); Pleasant Valley branch from Tucker to Scofield, 20 miles, total narrow gauge, 301 miles; total tramway, 15 miles; total both gauges and tramway, 904 miles.—Utah Commercial.

Spreading the Gospel.—Elder Edwin Eyre, laboring in the Lincoln district of the Nottingham (England) Conference, wrote to the Millennial Star on July 4th. We present an extract:

During the past winter we distributed tracts and articles of faith, and preached wherever opportunity was presented. We had houses opened for us to preach in, and were also fed and assisted by members of the Wesleyan Church. Some of the people in this place are investigating the truth, some have joined us, and others are favorably inclined. I think there have been sixteen added to the Church in this district of late. I have baptized nine, seven of them since the 1st of June. We have also removed prejudice from the minds of many concerning us as a people and the doctrines we teach, and I can truly say I have enjoyed my labors among the kind-hearted Saints in this region. I have had the privilege of preaching in two Methodist chapels, and a class leader at the close of one of the meetings said in his prayer: "We thank thee, O Lord, for what we have heard; we cannot deny it, Lord, for it is scriptural and true." Still they are not willing to obey the Gospel principles.

Elder Eyre also relates two instances of the manifestation of the healing power.

A Raving Maniac.—Last Monday night, at the reception given by Governor Murray and others to the members of the Illinois Press Association, one of the party, Mr. E. M. Stevens, editor of the Paxton, (Illinois) Publishers' Record, manifested striking symptoms of lunacy, and has ever since that time been a raving maniac. We learn from the Denver Tribune that on the arrival of the party in that city, on Wednesday night, he was immediately placed in the county jail.

The same paper says: He is now a confirmed musical lunatic. It appears that during the

Gov. Murray reception the party sang several songs. Later in the night, when a friend went in search of Stevens, he was found isolated from the party, singing away like a canary bird; that is to say, he insisted that he was singing like a bird. From that moment his condition grew worse, until, in a fit on Sunday, he demanded that somebody give him a six-shooter. It was then feared that he would become homicidal, and he was manacled. Subsequently, straps were made to bind him, and tied up in these he arrived last evening.

It has been intimated that the stronger symptoms of lunacy were the result of Mr. Stevens listening to the speech of General M. M. Bane. At any future receptions of the kind attended by the ludicrous extremist, it may be advisable to secure the presence of an antidote.
