INK Hawley is beginning to believe there is a great big hoodoo following him around this season, for nearly every time he enters a box something goes decidedly against him. Generally it is his support.

In nearly every game "Pink" has pitched, his work has been of the shut out order, but invariably his team goes back on him at the critical moment and he loses. Yesterday's contest was no exception. He pitched gilt edged ball and made them look like small marbles in a dust storm, but all to no purpose. Five hits were all the farmers got out, and yet the game was lost in the ninth inning.

Just what will be done this week is a matter of speculation at present. The White Wings game was scheduled with Park City, but as that team is not out, some other arrangements will have to be made for either they will take a lay off. Ogden will play Salt Lake at Lagoon Wednesday afternoon. Salt Lake and Ogden will play at Ogden, Saturday.

SALT LAKES DEFEAT ODGEN.
Haughty Lobsters Lead Broken by the White Wings.

Yes indeed, it was a game that caused joy and peace of mind, and Dr. Webster and his band of immaculates certainly gave the Ogden crowd a correct imitation of a Kansas cyclone toying with a load of hay. Dr. y think the home lads have been drinking ginger tea for to these many days just for the fun of it. No such. It was due them to win and it is a good thing that they did for many a Salt Lake fan backed them with his last cent. Quite a bunch of Ogden fans came down here looking for some easy money, never dreaming that their pet's luck would play truant, but it did, and they returned home some of them with a whole lot of water. Oh! the expression of unutterable woe—and of gladness too. It is estimated that fully $300 changed hands, which made the shock the greater. There was a crowd on hand and it yelled, "bawled out" hissed and danced at the slightest provocation, and as before hinted they saw a good game. Every man played it for every little point. It was clean too, and the White Wings won by superior all around work. A pleasing feature was the absence of attempted hitting. It was hit and run from Alpha to Omega. The base running was A. I. so was the fielding and the pitching was superlatively fine.

"Big Chief" Borchers was not there, but that would probably have made little or no difference for the holes in the bats of the locals have been plugged for ever and aye.

Harry Pendergast was on the slab for the visitors and when he discovered that he had a team behind him that is giving him a right kind of support, shot some of the most astounding corkers over the plate ever seen hereabouts. But if Penny pitched a great game, Elmer Meredith did even better. Meredith pitched the game down before him like nine-pins before a galling gun.

Unpopular Hausen was made to look like a small boy in the game. He never got anything that looked like even a second cousin to a base hit. Casey, Clark and Venable were on his list. The latter struck twice. It is a fact. The jobster got eight hits, Plake negotiating for three of them. In fielding Casey and Cope carried off the honors. The former made a beautiful side running stop behind first base and got his man by a back handed throw to Clark. Plake was also doing something, getting nine assists and a run out. Tommy Cope, who played short, devoted ten chances and still stood his ground enough to eat a mule stuffed with firecrackers. Meredith did not besides jitching. He stopped a couple of ground scorches, one of them from Plake looked like it had gone clean through the little south-paw. Ben Hickey was in the game and played second in the most approved style. He brought in the first run by a long fly.

MORE MISERABLE LUCK.

White Wings Went Up in the Air in the Ninth.

"An Excursion to the Clouds" ought to be the title of the little story enacted at Lagoon yesterday afternoon. Mr. Borchers pitched a wretched game from the tattered White Wings.

"It was a beautiful game," say the fans who saw it, "but it was spoiled in the last inning when it looked like another shut out for the boys in blue." The thing jumped along until the ninth inning with the Salt Lakes two to the good when the flight to the clouds occurred. Hawley pitched the ball, but got out with a single out in the neighborhood of right garden. Hawley issued a complimentary to Ancient Buck Weaver after Billy Maccauley dropped a foul. During the game that followed he performed third and was put out at home by Hawley, who flitted with a hit from Newmeyer, who went on to sack No. 2, while the venerable Buck took third. After McNeils went out Jimmy Brierly strode up and sent one out to center. It was one of those kind that start out rather low but climbs higher as it goes. Morrow didn't have a ladder handy and of course it went over and Jimmy took two cushions, while Uncle Zeke and Weaver trotted home. It was two to two when Schenck came up. His Schnablier popped one out behind Tommy Cope, who made a desperate race for it but failed. Kim should have taken it, but he didn't, and there you are. Brierly came home. He would have been very foolish had he not done so.

"Pink" Hawley pitched his usual masterly game, holding the count down to five miserly hits but lost owing to miserable support. Billy McCauley caught a great game and there were numerous errors holding the count down. Where Weaver hit one out to left which Pa Kim got after a hard run and shot to Dr. Webster, retiring Hollingsworth at first.

FOUR NIGHTS' RACING.

Salt Plaque Management Will Give $1,000 in Prizes.

This will be a big week at the salt and the riders will have a chance to win various parts of a purse of $1,000. Tomorrow evening the main event will be a fifteen-mile motor paced race between W. B. Vaughan and Charles Turville, and it promises to be a splendid scorch. Both men are in splendid condition and each is confident of carrying off first honors. There will be a half-mile amateur event for $15, $10, $5 and $2.50. Then there will be a one-mile professional for $20, $15, $10 and $5.

Taylor vs. Walworth.
New York, July 22.—Edouard Taylor, the French bicyclist, and Bobby Walworth, of Atlanta, Ga., will meet tonight at Madison Square Garden in a contest for the national paced bicycle championship. The race is expected to be close as the men are evenly matched.

Sporting Notes.

Latest—it is expected that Johnnie Green will shut the White Wings out this season. He has other fish to fry.

Members of the Ogden team were tickled almost to death yesterday afternoon when the Blue Birds trimmed the immaculates. The lobsters roared at all they were worth. They can't get over their humiliating defeat of Saturday.

Billy McCauley has done excellent work with the stick in the last two games. Saturday he bit off a nice triple and yesterday got three hits out of four times a bat. One of yesterday's hits was also a triple.

Next Friday evening W. E. Samuelson will make an attempt to lower the unplaced mile record of 1:52.4 held by the national paced bicycle champion, U. H. Smith. He is confident he will accomplish the feat and is training daily for the big effort. Last Wednesday he rode it in 1:52.4 and he believes that he can make it in 1:52 at least.

A gentleman who signs himself "Base Ballist," but who is "anti-Sunday Base Ballist," asks the "News" to tender the league management the thanks of the class which he represents for having furnished at least one crack game of base ball for those who can attend Saturday games. He refers to the contest here on Saturday last between the Ogden and the Salt Lake teams which he says have been all too rare in this city, except on Sundays, when he and others of his class do not attend the national games. The large attendance Saturday and the keen appreciation of the exciting game, he thinks, should urge the managers of the sport to repeat the program oftener.

July 27 is Eagles' day at Calder's, and the Eagles have organized a ball team which will play Sam Clark's Ora 4's. Following will be the line up of the teams:
