

A GREAT WOMAN PASSES AWAY.

Susan B. Anthony Dies of Heart
Failure, Induced by Double Pneumonia.

LIFE GIVEN WOMAN'S CAUSE.

Her Last Wish Was That All She
To It.

Rochester, N. Y., March 12.—The long and eventful life of Susan B. Anthony closed at 12:40 o'clock this morning. The end came peacefully. Miss Anthony had been unconscious practically for 24 hours, and her death had been momentarily expected since Sunday night. Only her wonderful constitution kept her alive.

Dr. M. S. Ricker, her attending physician, said Miss Anthony died of heart failure, induced by double pneumonia. She had had serious valvular heart trouble for the last six or seven years. Her lungs were practically clear and the pneumonia had yielded to treatment, but the weakness of her heart prevented her recovery.

Miss Anthony's last public appearance, which was at the National Woman Suffrage convention in Baltimore a few weeks ago, was really the beginning of the end of the great suffragist's career. Under the weight of her 85 years, and worn by the almost constant pains of neuralgia, she was ill when she left her home in Rochester for the convention city.

At Baltimore her health was little better, but it was with the greatest difficulty that her friends kept her away from the daily sessions of the Baltimore convention. She chafed under the enforced retirement of her room, and was only half content with the minute reports which reached her from the convention hall.

But even in this absence it was her mind which dominated the convention. Every piece of business transacted there was considered by her before action was taken, and it was her advice which cleared away many tangles. When the discussion on raising money for the work of the coming year was reached, Miss Anthony insisted on going to the meeting. She sat on the platform, and was the first to respond to the treasurer's appeal. She stood up and held out a purse. "I want to begin by giving you my purse," she said. "Just before I left Rochester they gave me a birthday party and a present of $8. I suppose they wanted me to do what I liked with the money, and I'd like to send it to Oregon."

It was at this convention that she publicly gave her last word to the cause to which her life was devoted. That she recognized her approaching end was apparent. It was near the close of the convention when she took the place of Julia Ward Howe, who was prevented by illness from taking her part on the program. As she came forward to speak the house rose, and applause and cheers continued for fully 10 minutes.

"This is a magnificent sight before me," she said slowly when the applause ceased, "and these have been wonderful addresses and speeches. I have listened to during the past week. Yet I have looked on many such audiences, and in my lifetime I have listened to many magnificent speakers, all testifying to the righteousness, the justice and worthiness of the cause of woman suffrage. I have met and known most of the great women who have labored for the cause. I have heard them speak, saying in only slightly different phrases exactly what I have heard these newer advocates of the cause say this week. Most of those who have worked with me in the early years of the task have gone out. I am here for a little time only, but my place must be filled, as theirs were filled. The fight must not cease; you must see that it does not."

Up until her last illness overcame her Miss Anthony looked to be scarcely 70, and except on the days when she was tormented with neuralgia, from which she suffered intensely during her later years, she possessed the endurance of a woman of 50. In her latter years, too, her liking for dainty refinement increased to a remarkable de-free. She wore soft black gowns of modish cut and had a fondness for pliable satins and soft silk fabrics.

At the Baltimore convention she wore a satin gown with white point lace on the bodice and sleeves. Her hands were ringless, but she wore a jeweled brooch and shell combs in her white hair. Her long coat was lined with white satin, and her bonnet was made by a clever milliner.

Mayor James G. Butler tonight announced that as a mark of respect to the memory of Miss Anthony the flags of the city will be displayed at half mast on the day of the funeral.

Miss Anthony was taken ill on her way home from the national suffrage convention in Baltimore. She stopped in New York, where a banquet was to be given Feb. 20 in honor of her eighty-sixth birthday, but had an attack of neuralgia on the 18th, and hastened home. Pneumonia developed after her arrival here, and on March 5 both lungs became affected.

After that she became unable to retain nourishment and showed an alarming weakness. Last week, however, she seemed to improve and her friends hoped she was out of danger. Then came the attack of heart failure Sunday afternoon, following which she sank into unconsciousness. From that time on almost the only sign of life manifested was the feeble pulse beat and the laboring breathing.

Miss Anthony herself had believed that she would recover. Early in her illness she told her friends that she expected to live to be as old as her father, who was over 90 when he died. When she realized that her life could no longer continue, Miss Anthony evidently was disturbed by a desire to express some wish with regard to her will, and on Wednesday last, she said to her sister:

"Write to Anna Shaw immediately, and tell her I desire that every cent I leave when I pass out of this life shall be given to the fund which Miss Thomas and Miss Garrett are raising for the cause. I have given my life and all I am to it, and now I want my last act to be to give it all I have—the last cent. Tell Anna Shaw to see that this is done."

In compliance with Miss Anthony's request, Miss Mary Anthony wrote immediately and within an hour after the letter was sent Miss Shaw unexpectedly arrived at Miss Anthony's home. On the following day, when she was permitted to see Miss Anthony for a few moments, Miss Anthony repeated her request, and with evident emotion told of her great love and longing for the success of "the great cause that underlies all reforms, the greatest boon of all—freedom."

She urged Miss Shaw and her sister to see that her wish was carried out at once. She had no thought but for her life's work and the workers, declaring that both were now, as ever, dearer to her than her life.

Rev. Anna Shaw said: "On Sunday, about two hours before she became unconscious, I talked with Miss Anthony, and she said:

"To think I have had more than 60 years of hard struggle for a little liberty, and to die without it seems so cruel."

"I replied: 'Your legacy will be freedom for all womankind after you are gone. Your splendid struggle has changed life for women everywhere.' "She replied: 'If it was, I have lived to some purpose,' and she begged me to promise that I and her niece, Miss Lucy Anthony, would stand together until the end of our lives and work faithfully for the cause, as she and her sister Mary had."

"Miss Anthony said of all workers: 'Their faces pass before me one by one. I cannot even recall their names, but they are a host of loyal, splendid women, and I love them every one. How good everybody has been to me. I wonder if we shall know each other in the hereafter. If we do, I shall be with you when you win Oregon and in every campaign for victory.' "

"Then she added, with a smile: 'Perhaps I can do more over yonder than I did here.' Her work was her one thought."

WILL RAISE MINERS' WAGES. Marquette, Mich., March 12.—The mining companies operating in the Lake Superior iron region, it was learned today, have voluntarily agreed to readjust all wages. The schedule is understood to be a material increase over present wages.

LOOKS LIKE A STRIKE. Indianapolis, Ind., March 12.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, returned to Indianapolis today to preside at the national congress of miners, which will meet Thursday.

When asked concerning the refusal of the anthracite operators to grant the demand of the miners, he said it looked very much as though the operators "are looking for a strike."

Mr. Mitchell explained the hope that the bituminous situation would be clarified by the coming congress and conference. The national executive board of the miners will meet here Wednesday.

Washington, March 12.—President Roosevelt is taking no part in the pending negotiations to prevent a coal strike. Recently the president wrote an identical letter to Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Robins, urging that a further conference be held, but since writing the letter the president has taken no steps in the matter.

SHERIFF SHOTS AND KILLS A HORSE THIEF.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 12.—Logan Blissett, a fugitive convict, was shot and killed today by Sheriff John Owens of Newcastle, Wyo., one mile south of Kimball, Neb., when resisting capture. Blissett, who was 19 years old, was wounded several weeks ago while endeavoring to escape with stolen horses. He escaped from the deputies while being taken to the penitentiary.

LUSH NEEDS NEW SCHOOL.

Lusk, Wyo., March 12.—The need of a new school building is being urged here, and the question will probably be submitted to the electors at the annual meeting of the district the first Monday in May. Lusk has a growing population, and the present building is entirely inadequate to the needs of the community.

DOG WELL PROVIDED FOR.

Chicago, March 12.—In a will filed for probate today, George C. Watts, a contractor and board of trade operator, left $20,000 to provide a home for his fox terrier "Bill" and $300 a year for the care of his riding horse "King."

TORTURED BY ITCHING SCALP

Eczema Broke Out Also on Hands and Limbs—Suffering Intense—Doctors Said Too Old to Be Cured—An Old Soldier of 80 Years Declares:

"CUTICURA TREATMENT IS A BLESSING"

"At all times and to all people I am willing to testify to the merits of Cuticura. It saved me from worse than the tortures of hell, about the year 1900, with itching on my scalp and temples, and afterwards it commenced to break out on my hands. Then it broke out on my limbs. I was advised to use salt and water, which I did, to no effect. I then went to a Surgeon, who commenced treating me with a wash of borax. This treatment did me no good, but rather aggravated the disease. I then told him I would go and see a physician in Erie. The reply was that I could go anywhere, but a case of eczema like mine could not be cured; that I was too old (80). I went to an eminent doctor in the city of Erie and treated with him for six months, with like results. I had read of the Cuticura Remedies often. I was strongly tempted to give them a trial, so I sent for the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent and continued taking the Resolvent until I had taken six bottles, stopping it to take the Pills. I was now getting better. I took two baths a day, and at night I let the lather of the Soap dry on. I used the Ointment with great effect after washing in warm water, to stop the itching at once. I am now cured."

"The Cuticura treatment is a blessing and should be used by every one who has itching of the skin. I can't say any more, and thank God that He has given the world such a curative. You can use this letter as you please. A very much benefited man, Wm. H. Gray, 3303 Mt. Vernon St., Philadelphia, Pa., August 2, 1905."

Bodies of Victims of Recent Massacres In China Arrive in Manila.

Manila, March 12.—Two Catholic clergymen have arrived here from China with news of the bodies of the priests who were murdered in the recent massacres.

They are en route for Barcelona, Spain, where the remains will be interred.

Three small sealed caskets contain portions of the bodies and ashes. One, containing trinkets of the dead priests, is addressed to the pope.

The battleship Ohio, with Admiral Train aboard, arrived today.

KILLING MORO WOMEN.

Resulted From the Moros Using Them As Shields.

Manila, March 12.—Maj.-Gen. Wood, who has arrived here, has announced that he assumes full responsibility for the fight against the Moros at Dajo hill near Jolo. He said that there was no wanton destruction of women and children in the fight, though many of them were killed by force of necessity, because the Moros used them as shields in the hand-to-hand fighting. Maj.-Gen. Wood declared that many of the women wore male attire and their sex could not be distinguished. Another confusing cause was the desperation with which the women fought, the priests having worked all of the Moros to a religious frenzy. Many of the Moros feigned death and butchered the American hospital men who were relieving the wounded. Gen. Wood said "neither in this nor in any fight has an American soldier killed a woman or child, except in a close action when it was impossible to distinguish sex."

Are Patent Medicines Frauds?

We are often asked the above question, and our answer has invariably been that no medicine that gives satisfactory results could be fraudulent. We could not afford to sell fraudulent medicines. Our business depends on pleased customers—in fact any business does. Therefore, we would take an enormous risk did we not fulfil every promise made our customers. We are very careful of what we guarantee, and when we do guarantee an article we must know it pretty well—what it contains and how it is made. We have in mind the Rexall line of remedies, particularly Rexall Mucu-Tone, of which we are selling large quantities at this time of the year. Mucu-Tone is one article that we can recommend over our counter and know that ninety-eight per cent. of its purchasers are going to be benefited and will return to our store pleased customers. Mucu-Tone is a positive cure for internal scrofula or what is commonly called Catarrh. It is without a doubt the peer of all tonics for any one who is suffering from a run-down condition, can't work, feels constantly tired or suffering from the more plainly described symptoms of Catarrh—such as stopping of the nose, cold in the head or bad cough."

It must be remembered that Catarrh is not confined to the nose and throat. It usually starts there, but it leads more often to serious trouble, particularly the wasting of tissues, as in the case of little Miss Dillon, of Albany. Here is a letter from her father:

"My little girl had catarrh so badly that the disease had begun to eat into the cartilage of the nose. Snuffs and instruments failed to do more than give temporary relief. I saw the advertisements of Rexall Mucu-Tone, but I could not believe that anything taken in the stomach could cure the sore membranes of the nose. However, I took advantage of your free trial offer and my girl began taking your remedy according to directions. I want to say right here that Mucu-Tone is certainly the greatest medical discovery of the times, and to thank you for the liberal offer that first induced me to give it a trial. Mucu-Tone has cured my daughter's catarrh completely. The discharge has stopped altogether, and her breath is as sweet as can be. Again thanking you, MATT. DILLON, 24 N. Swan St., Albany, N. Y."

We are selling a large trial bottle of Mucu-Tone for fifty cents on the famous Rexall guarantee of your money back if you are not satisfied. We promise that one bottle will put flesh on your bones and bring new vitality to your system.
