EVENING NEWS

Tuesday, August 30, 1887.
AN ELDER IN NEW ENGLAND.
Fervency of the People—The Ho-san Tunnel.
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., August 19, 1887.

Editor Deseret News:
Having been requested to visit some parties in this and also in the New England States, I left Pittsburgh, Pa., on the 7th of July via Washington, D.
C. Baltimore and Philadelphia and came to New York, where I had the pleasure of meeting Elder James Hart, Jr., and a few Saints. After spending a few days in Gotham, I went from there to Tarrington, Conn., where I had relatives who made me welcome, but my religion they did not want.
The people in these Eastern States are in their feelings against anything "Mormon," as the following will show: I was making a short Sabbath day journey on the 24th day of July, when I met a company with two religionists, and as it was very warm we walked slowly covering on various things and in the course of a few minutes we came in sight of a beautiful church in the town of —, Conn. I learned from the people that it was a man who was born and raised there, and had become a rail road engineer. "But," said one of my companions, "we may as well have no church, for the people here are all against us." I inquired the reason and was told that their minister had left them for better pastures (a greater salary) and they had been unsuccessful in getting another. "Well," said I, "this is a fine business and I will preach the Gospel for them as cheap as anybody they can get." "What will you charge?" asked they. "The Gospel should be free to all, and I would be glad to preach to you free, for a few evenings at night, and if we are agreed on this matter, I will be the same time while I am in these parts." They thought it a fine chance and they would see the trustees and have the arrangements made. But they began to think that the people would like to hear of denomination or sect I belonged to. As soon as I had told them,

THEIR MANNER CHANGED and one said: "If you should preach in this town you would not get anybody to come and hear you." "Why I ask, 'Because we have had so many men and women lecturing against us for years.' " "Did they get any one to come and hear them?"
"Yes, crowded houses!" "Did they have any large commission fee, and make lots of money out of their lectures?" "Yes, to be sure, they did." After getting related to me some of the old newspaper stories that they had heard, I pointed out to them the inconsistency of the whole trash, and said: "You are all wrong. I have been promised to try and get me the position, or a chance for at least one meeting, and write me when to come.
But I have heard no more from them.
During the next two days I was refused.

FIVE SCHOOL HOUSES, and several other places. One man said I could preach in his house, but his wife immediately said that it should not be, and of course I did not settle the business.
From here, after visiting with my relatives in various parts of Connecticut, I went over into the State of Massachusetts, where I found the same kind of opposition. I was invited to preach at the name "Mormon." I went to Springfield, thence to Fitchburg, thence to Lowell.
HOOSAC TUNNEL.
To Pittsfield, Mass. This tunnel is the largest in the United States, being 25,000 feet, or 4 1/2 miles long. It was first proposed in 1839, chartered in 1848, commenced in 1850, and completed in 1875. The highest summit under which it runs is 1,715 feet. There were excavated 1,000,000 tons of rock. From 800 to 900 men were employed in its construction. It is 90 feet above the tide. There were 20,000,000 bricks used in arching. It cost $14,000,000, and 195 lives were lost in its construction.
This great tunnel is 126 miles from Boston.
I had many persons earnestly engaged in getting up genealogies of families, and I have found this rather more of a pleasing and satisfactory labor than I had supposed. There is no trouble to get access to the oldest records in these ancient towns, all though the records were better preserved. Yet those that are of the New England stock of one hundred years ago can find valuable records in the New England States.
I am enjoying my labors very much, and although not making any money in public halls, for the reasons above stated, I am preaching to small audiences in private houses, and trust that some good is being done and some prejudice laid.
Your brother in the Gospel,
P. W. I.

MORGAN STAKE CONFERENCE

The Morgan Stake conference convened in the Stake Tabernacle at Morgan City, August 20th and 21st.
The meeting was called to order at 10:30 Saturday morning by Counselor Samuel Francis.
Present on the stand were the Presidency of the Stake, President W. W.
Cliff, Samuel Francis, Robert Campbell, of Salt Lake City and local members of the Priesthood.
Counselor Samuel Francis gave the opening address in which he exhorted the Saints to be more diligent in their labors in the kingdom of God. He was followed by Elders Charles R.
Clark and W. B. Corbett.
In an address Elder Gibson A.
Condie, a returned missionary, gave a very able and interesting report of his labors in North Carolina. He said he had gone through a great school of experience, in which he had been much tried and hoped he had benefited others.
President W. W. Cliff gave a brief account of a short visit to the Sandwich Islands from whence he had just returned. Portrayed the good effect brought about by the Elders among the natives of those islands. A very material improvement in their morals is visible.
The greater part of Sunday morning was taken up by reports from the Bishops, which were very gratifying.
After the reports short addresses were given by Elders Anthony Heiner and Robert Campbell.
The afternoon was taken up by the reading of the quarterly statistical report of the Stake and addresses by the Presidency.
The conference was brought to a close at 4 p. m. and the people left for their homes, having had a good time and receiving much valuable instruction.
ALONZO FRANCIS,
Stake Clerk.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

FAULTLESS FAMILY MEDICINE
"I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my only Family Medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it. It is a good medicine, and I recommend it for any disorder of the system, and if used in time is a great preserver of health. I often recommend it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."
