FOURTEEN OUNCE POUNDS OF BUTTER

Senator Seely Would Have Them Used to Lubricate Jail

FINES AND IMPRISONMENT.

He Would Provide Both for Manufacturer of Short Weight Goods and For Dealers Selling Them.

Senator Seely, the rotund sheep man from Mt. Pleasant, is launching his career in the upper house with a bill that contemplates greasing the hinges of the county jail with all short-weight butter on the market.

Senator Seely is not particular who gets the jail sentence. He wants it to include everybody who handles shortveight butter, whether manufacturer, weight butter, whether manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer. The bill is regarded as the direct result of the practise, alleged to have been general, and proven in many cases within the past few years, of selling 14-ounce pounds; Public indignation was stirred about a year ago on the question by the fight of the retailers to force the manufacturers in Sait Lake and other Utah points to unshot their scales and deliver full weight. A promise resulted from the agitation that the practise would cease.

The law is already the law is already le on the subject, although there have seen no prosecutions under it for a long lene as people have hesitated to make the as people have corner groceryman, unle for the corner groceryman, mying that the butter came to him the narrowest kind of margin, and that the price was boosted from an-

Hulaniski's bill, making it a misde-neamor to violate any county or state egulations finally, emerged from the ngest senate debate of the season still, ive yesterday afternoon. It was some-har trimmed, but Hulaniski was able withstand a running fire of ques-ons as to its importance, whether or till was already enversed by other tions as to its importance, whether or not it was already covered by other measures, and as to whether there were any specific need for it. He answered Senator Walton who is anxious to prevent all possible meddling with the law, and Senator B. X. Smith, who is rapidly entering in the spot light as a competitor to Senator Lawrence in his chosen field of laying down the law and the statutes on all questions. Heretofore Lawrence has enjoyed a monopoly as an analysist of unnecessary inkering. The bill finally passed with the votes of Senators Clegg, Park, Seely and Williams recorded against it.

What Miller is after is the rescue of mining claims from mere speculators and organizers of promotion companies, in order to liberate them for actual prosecutors and developers. Lawrence, Clegg. Hollingsworth, Johnson, and Bullen were the five senators chosen to investigate the coal shortage. They will act with a like committee from the house, and from the appearance of the list President Love has been very carful to get an unbiased committee, and one that is geographically representative. Lawrence is the only Salt Laker. Clegg is from Tooele, Hollingsworth from Weber, Johnson from Piute, and Bullen from Cache. Johnson and Clegg are pretty well committed against a railroad commission, while the others are among the class that say they want to know a good deal more before deciding either way. Lawrence is supposed to be figuring out a scheme for a maximum and minimum rate bill to compel the companies to deliver fuel here at a reasonable rate. It is thought that when the committee gets into action there will be plenty doing, as several members of the committe are specially well informed on the coal situation, and take great interest in collecting current data on the subject. dackson's Dry Farm Measure Accidentally Put Out of Commission in Debate.

One of Hone's pet measures, H. B. 76, has been withdrawn from further consideration by the house. It was entitled H. B. 76, and was drawn to enable the state board of equilazation to levy a tax on the net proceeds of mines, thus increasing materially the revenues of the state.

It was found upon looking up authorities that in order to do this it would be necessary to amend the constitution of the state, and Mr. Hone reluctantly rose in his seat yesterday and asked that the privilege of withdrawing the bill. There was no objection, and it was so ordered.

A preliminary quibble had the result of killing what is regarded as one of the most important measures yet introduced. This was H. B. 14, by Jackson, and provided for an appropriation of $15,000 for the purpose of making borings for water for cullnary purposes on dry farms of the state. When the measure was up for consideration as a special order yesterday afternoon, there was considerable debate regarding the amount of the appropriation to be made, and the amounts to be expended in each locality. An amendment had been made to cut the entire amount down to $19.000, but this was lost, as it was considered that the $15,000 would not make more than 15 wells altogether, and this would hardly make a representative sidered that the $15,000 would not make more than 15 wells altogether, and this would hardly make a representative showing. In ascertaining how many counties within the state were conducting dry farms within their borders, members from these counties were asked to stand up. Twenty-two men asked to stand up. Twenty-two men got up.

An amendment was then proposed by Critchlow that not more than $3,000 be expended in any one county under the provisions of the bill. It was then that the bill received its quietus. Kuchler moved to lay the amendment on the table. Without debate the motion was put and carried. Speaker Joseph announced that by this action the bill was killed, much to the astonishment of the mover of the amendment, and in fact, pretty much everybody else.

UTAH DEBATERS ON EASTERN TEAM

Dan Alexander and Dale Parke Win Honors at University Of Pennsylvania.

After Spirited Contest With Many Opponents Both Boys Win Places Among Six Best Debaters.

Dan Alexander and Dale Parke, two of last year's University of Utah debaters have been selected to represent the University of Pennsylvania this

The contests are arranged in what is termed a triangular debate. This is a three cornered contest between University of Pennsylvania, Cornell and Columbia. Each university has two teams debate the same night, one and Columbia. Each iniversity has two teams debate the same night, one at home and the other away. Each team consists of three men, thus making six in all representing Pennsylvania. Out of these six places the Utahns won two. The hardest contest is expected with Cornell and Don Alexander was selected to represent "Old Penn" in this debate.

The honor won by Mr. Alexander can only be appreciated when it is known that to win this place he was compelled to meet 65 of Pennsylvania's debaters, many of whom have previously won laurels in the east.

Mr. Parke established his place among the debaters of that school by winning a place on the team that debates at home the same night. Mr. Parke showed a high standard of consistent work which was recognized by several of the professors.

Pennsylvania confers upon the members of each of these teams Gold P's which are highly prized.

Both Parke and Alexander did their preparatory and college work at the University of Utah.

Mr. Parke first distinguished himself in debate with the University of Idaho in 1903 and again in the following year. He was a prominent member of the track team, being a strong sprinter and track hurdles.

Mr. Alexander was active in student affairs. He represented Utah in three debates in one of which Utah decisively defeated the University of Colorado, Mr. Alexander also edited the University Chronicle in his senior year,

SPENDING MONEY FOR GEISHA GIRLS

Absconding Japs From Bear River Valley Having a Great Time at Home.

"FOOLISH STOREKEEPERS."

Innocence and Adding Insult to Injury is Received.

What may develop into an interna tional incident between the United States and Japan, is now being agitated by a number of Japanese in the Bear River valley, this state.

It seems that during the past summer and fall a certain gang of some 39 Japanese "boys" had been working in the beetfields of Boxelder county, evidently under the sponsorship of three of their number. At the conclusion of their season's work the money for the same was secured by these three, who absconded with the boodle, leaving the 36 boys disconsolate. The matter was given into the hands of the officers of Boxelder county, to investigate, with the result that Sheriff Josephson is now in possession of a letter from Japan, from the father of one of the Japanese boys, who, along with 35 others of his countrymen as well as several farmers and storekeepers of the Bear River valley were buncoed out of their summer's earnings and sundry store bills by I. Okazaki, Nakayama and Nagamoto. This letter, together with a letter received by I. Shibuya, one of the boys who lost his money, shows that the trio has arrived safetly in Japan with their boodle, which they are spending lavishly on "geisha girls and gambling," much to the envy of their fellow citizens. in the beetfields of Boxelder county the envy of their fellow citizens.

The general opinion among the farmers and Japanese and citizens generally in the Bear River valley is that for the principle of the thing the three Japs should be brought back to the United States and prosecuted.

Nakayama, one of the Japs charged with the theft, has also written Shibuya, denying the charge, but the other letter, from Shibuya's father, dispels any doubt on this head,

Mr. Cooke, who assumes his new duties Feb. 1, is conceded to be one of the best traffic men in the country. successes in the perpetual battle for business that exists.

Mr. Cooke is no stranger to the West, having begun his railway service as a clerk in the local freight office of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway at Council Bluffs, Iowa, in 1881. Leaving that post in 1884, he served in various capacities in the passenger service of the Sioux City & Pacific Railroad; Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway at St. Paul, Minne; Texas & Pacific Railway; Wisconsin Central at Milwaukee, Wis.; and the Chicago Great Western Railway, leaving the latter when he was assistant general passenger and ticket agent in 1855 to accept a similar position with the Erie System. From 1901 to 1905, he served as the Erie's general passenger agent and was made assistant general traffic manager of the system in the latter year, holding that position until his promotion to General Traffic Manager. As such he will have supervision of all the traffic business west of Chicago, and being located in this city, will be able to be in touch with the thousands of Erie's patrons in the metropolis of the West and beyond to the shores of the Pacific. His affability will serve to make as many friends in the West as he already has in the section he now leaves.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of S. Peterson, Jr., Wednesday night, when his daughter, Myrtle, was married to Mr. Joseph H. Horrocks by Bishop Iverson. Festoons of marguerites with a white wedding bell in the center formed a canopy, and in the drawing room strings of smilax with roses and carnations extended from the chandeliere to the corners of the room, while vases of white lilles and carnations here and there gave the finishing touches. The bride wore a dress of cream French marquisette over taffeta, trimmed with Irish lace. After the ceremony the bridal couple received the congratulations of their friends.
