

SHOOTING TOURNAMENT.

Inter-National Live and Inanimate International Affair Proposed.

New York, Jan. 30 .- The proposed Inter-National Live and Inanimate International Bird trap shooling tournament is assuming definite form, says the Heraid. While it is impossible because of the territory to be covered for competitors, to speculate upon just what experts will compose the team which is to represent the United States, Metro-politan enthusiasts have grasped the politan enthusiasts have grasped the situation as one which will give Amer-icans a chance to ghow their prowess at the traps to the world. From the present outbook it is quite likely that the folowing shot gun ex-perts will compose the team which is to represent the United States: J. A. E. Ethiote, Kansas City; Har-J. A. R. Ethote, Kansas City, Har-vey Murchie, Syracuse; "Fred" Gilbert, Spirit Lake, Iowa; W. R. Crosby, O'-Pallon, Ills.; "Tom" Marshall, Keiths-burg, Illinois; Charles Powers, Deca-tur, Ills.; "Tom" Morfey, Queens, N. Y.; Dr. Williamson, Milwaukee; George Rome, Blue Island, Ills., and "Jack" Fanging, Jersey City. Fanning, Jersey City, These men have been selected upon the basis of a ten man team, and have reputations from coast to coast for high-class work with the gun. Elliote has been defeating every one of late, east and west, Marshall and Morfey have won grand Americans, while Fanning holds many records at inanimate target shooting. "Ed" Banks, to whom the proposition to make arrangements for the sending of a team abroad was first made by Paul North, of Cleveland, is convinced of the superiority of Ameri-can experts, and has promised to fur-ther the interests of the team from the States.

CRICKET PLAYERS MAY COME.

O. Wreford Brown Likely to Bring a Team from England.

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.-The Interna tional Cricket Compass has written to C. Wreford Brown, a prominent English ameteur cricketer, inviting him to bring a team of English amateurs to the U.S. about the middle of September

, S. about the middle of September. It is known that Mr. Wreford Brown is anxious to bring a team to the U.S. and it is expected that his side will be lettely composed of youngsters who have already gained their "blue" at Ox-ford and Cambridge, or who have the good fortune to secure that honor during the coming season.

Should the committee secure definite information to this effect it is more than likely that n game may be also arranged for the visitors with a representative eleven of the American col-leges, composed of the best players from Harvard, Haverford and Penna., as well as games with pleked teams in Boston, New York and Baltimore,

CHANGE IN RACING RULES.

National Cycling Association Will Transact Important Business.

New York, Jan. 30 .- At the annual meeting of the National Cycling asso-ciation to be held in this city next Tuesday, some important changes in the racing rules will be submitted for adoption. The introduction of motor pacing has made a change in the riding of paced middle distance racers, and the old rules drawn up for use when the pacing machines were driven by muscle alone will not fit the new conditions, Elkes, McDuffee and Michael have made suggestions to the association and the chances are that several amendments will be made.

These riders, who are looked upon as being the best pace followers in the country, say that the rear man on the machine should be compelled to pedal right through the race. When he sits perfectly still, his sole idea being to shelter the pace follower from the wind, the general public is likely to belittle the real work being done by the pace follower.

These men say that under the proposed change a good rider will be able to prove what he is made of, and that a second rate man will appear at his true worth

Several changes are also contemplated in the rules governing sprint races for the national championship. It is the effort of the association and of the bet-ter class of riders to do away with team work in these races as far as possible. If the new rule is adopted there will be only two man left in the final for all championship sprints. Four men are to start in each heat, two to qualify. This

The unexpected change in the business created considerable comment at Sandy and was made absolutely necessary by reason of the unsatisfactory manner that it was being conducted by manner that it was being conducted by the man placed in charge by Mr. Lind-gren priot to his departure for Sweden in December last. Up to that time Lindgren had enjoyed an excellent busi-ness reputation and settled his bills promptly every month. Suddenly he announced his intention of going to Sweden to visit a side mother. The Sweden to visit a sick mother. The statement was accepted as bona fide.

Now, however, other and graver rea-sons have been advanced, and it is be-lieved the former was simply a subter-fuge. The prompt action taken by Clark, Eldredge & Co, will doubtless save considerable for the creditors. The sult was brought to recover $2,059.86. President Eliot on Athletics.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 80 .- The apbearance of the annual report of Presi-lent Eliot, of Harvard university, last night, at once awakened interest in what comment he would make on collegiate athletics, in view of pleas for an improvement in sport, in previous reports. Less space than usual is de-voted to athletics and a general tone commendatory.

President Eliot said in part: "The American colleges seem to be gradually learning how to conduct amateur sports in a reputable manner. Harvard university has had its full share of the difficulties during the past thirty years; but it has at last found a way to a satisfactory constitution for a committee to regulate athletic sports. "This committee has been initiated in other institutions, and its work has gradually found acceptance both among the under graduates and the graduates of Harvard university. Thus the rules President Eliot said in part:

the under graduates and the graduates of Harvard university. Thus the rules governing eligibility which were worked out by the Harvard committee have proved acceptable on the other institutions." The conferences on intercollegiate athletics which opened two and a half years ago at Providence, published a yearly report in the early summer of universities and colleges. These rules are substantially the same as the Harvard rules.
