

BRYAN ASSAULTS REPUBLICAN PARTY

Charges it is in Grasp of Corporations and Particularly of The Steel Trust.

SAYS IT FURNISHES FUNDS.

Declares Its Officials are Rendering Support in Campaign in Return for Immunity from Prosecution.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 17.—Carrying his campaign into Delaware after a jump over night and today of 500 miles from Rochester, N. Y., William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for president, twice assailed the Republican party for being, as he charged, in the grasp of corporations, and more particularly the steel trust, which he for the first time openly announced was furnishing the funds for the Republican party in the present contest now on, and also denounced the men who, he said, it had been reported had sold their suffrage in Delaware.

His first onslaught was delivered at Harrington, a town of 2,500 people, but whose population was augmented by thousands of others who had been attracted there by the presence of the Democratic leader. Tonight he repeated his utterances at Shell, Potomac, a town of 1,000 people, and at a throng which taxed the capacity of the place.

While in the city, Mr. Bryan was the guest at dinner of Judge George Gray. Mr. Bryan will leave in the morning at 6:30 on his special car over the Pennsylvania road, reaching there about 9 o'clock. He will spend the entire day conferring with his party leaders, concluding at night with a speech at the Carnegie hall on "Republican Tendencies."

BRYAN'S SPECIFIC CHARGES.

Harrington, Del., Sept. 17.—Specifically mentioning for the first time the United States Steel corporation, and charging that its officials were supporting the Republican party in its campaign in return for the immunity from prosecution it received, W. J. Bryan in a speech here today hurled another bomb into the camp of the enemy. He also took occasion to refer to the corruption fund which it has been charged has been used in Delaware, and denounced those who would sell their votes.

In order to fulfill his engagement at this place at the hour agreed upon, the Democratic candidate traveled over 500 miles, the last 65 of which were in a special train which covered the distance in 6 1/2 minutes. Ten thousand people awaited his coming, and his arrival was greeted with cheers. His audience was made up mostly of country folks who came from all directions in special trains and otherwise. In the frenzied effort of the crowd to get near the stand, Mr. Bryan and his party became involved in, and only by desperate struggles were they able to extricate themselves. Several women fainted in the crush.

Dr. Rowland G. Painter, Democratic nominee for governor of Delaware, introduced Mr. Bryan. He at once launched into his bitter indictment of the Republican party for what he said was its failure to do justice to the people. He spoke on the tariff, campaign contributions, the question of bank deposits and the trusts, and declared that the interests of the farmers were on the side of the Democratic party.

Speaking of President Roosevelt's reference to swollen fortunes, Mr. Bryan declared: "After the war, the farmers, the laboring men, the merchants, the teachers and preachers, the artists and authors, the men who produce the nation's wealth, you find them in the hands of just a few people, and these are the people who have secured favors and privileges from the government, and when Mr. Roosevelt brings his indictment against these owners of swollen fortunes, he brings an indictment against the Republican party for it is the Republican party that has permitted the abuse of governmental power that has led to the accumulation of swollen fortunes."

Mr. Bryan attacked Mr. Taft and his platform generally, but with respect to the revision of the tariff, he said: "Why are they in such a hurry? They have a chance all this time, and when they promised immediate revision it meant they knew the patience of the public was strained to the point of breaking, and they say 'if you will just let us in once more we will immediately do what we ought to have done years ago.'"

"What answer does Mr. Taft make?" "Mr. Taft," he said, "has explained nothing. The steel trust today is supporting the Republican party, and the Republican committee dare not say before the public that the steel trust is helping it to win. The steel trust is helping it to win. The steel trust is helping it to win."

President Roosevelt had not prosecuted the steel corporation, he charged, and there was no hope that Mr. Taft would do so. "It would not, he said, destroy business to make the trusts do business honestly."

HUGHES AND CHANLER

AT A FLAG RAISING

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Gov. Hughes and Lieut.-Gov. Chanler, meeting here today at the state fair on the common ground of their official duties, the two men received the enthusiastic plaudits of probably the largest crowd that ever gathered within the grounds. Gov. Hughes and Mr. Chanler met at a flag raising at the Academy of the Sacred Heart in this city early in the forenoon. The tribute of cheers to the rival candidates when they appeared on the platform, where Gov. Hughes formally dedicated the new manufacturers and liberal arts building, probably was far more personal than political.

It was the duty of Lieut.-Gov. Chanler, as ex-officio chairman of the state fair committee, to act as host while the great Carey act irrigation enterprise, the guest of honor in the observance of "governor's day."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

PROVED AN IDEAL HOST

Oyster Bay, Sept. 17.—President Roosevelt proved himself the ideal host today when he entertained the natives of this village at his summer home on Sagamore Hill. Each one of the 2,000 persons who went to see the president was made to feel that he or she had been especially honored. For each of his visitors the president had something of particular interest to that person to say.

NEVADA WARDEN RESIGNS.

Carson City, Nev., Sept. 17.—Warden Day of the Nevada penitentiary has resigned his office as the result of criticism concerning himself and men. It is stated that the day following the escape of George Sterling, a convict who has not been captured, Atty. Gen. Stoddard visited the penitentiary and, in conversation with the warden, intimated that the guards must have been asleep when Sterling escaped. This angered Day, who replied that the prison director would accept his resignation if the members of the board did not consider him the right man for the place.

LETTERS FROM J. D. ARCHBOLD

Read Several That Were Addressed to Senator Foraker, Some Containing Checks.

Columbus, O., Sept. 17.—Thomas L. Hisgen, candidate for president, and William R. Hearst addressed a meeting at Memorial hall tonight under the auspices of the local organization of the party.

Mr. Hearst read letters which he said had been written by John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company to Senator J. B. Foraker of Ohio, referring to legislation pending in Congress, and mentioning the inclusion of checks, one for $15,000 and another for $14,500. Mr. Hearst said:

"We claim that the Republican party has been for a long time the beneficiary of trust corruption, and that the Democratic party has only waited an opportunity to share its sister's profitable income."

"We claim that the Democrats are today eagerly competing with the Republicans for trust favors."

"We claim that when Theodore Roosevelt was elected president, and the Democratic party killed by Mr. Rockefeller the fattest calf, and that here is more revolting over this one sinner who has joined the Democratic cause than there is over the hundreds of thousands of honest, faithful citizens who constitute the Democratic masses. I am not either here to empty associations, but with legal evidence and documentary proof."

"I am now going to read copies of letters written by John D. Archbold, chief agent of the Standard Oil, and personal representative of Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Rogers. These letters have been given me by gentlemen who had intimate associations with this giant of corruption, the Standard Oil, but whose name I may not divulge, lest he be subjected to the persecution of this newspaper."

ARCHBOLD'S LETTERS.

"26 Broadway, New York, March 9, 1908.—My Dear Senator: I have your favor of last night with enclosure, which letter, with letter from Mr. Elliott commenting on same, I beg to send you herewith. I would be very glad to make a demonstration against the whole bill, but certainly the ninth clause, to which Mr. Elliott refers, should be stricken out, and the same is true of house bill No. 500, also introduced by Mr. Price, in relation to foreign corporations in which the same objectionable clause occurs."

"I am glad to hear that you think that the situation is fairly well in hand. Very truly yours, JOHN D. ARCHBOLD."

"Hon. J. B. Foraker, Washington, D. C."

"26 Broadway, New York, March 26, 1908.—Hon. J. B. Foraker: Sixteenth street, Washington, D. C.—Dear Senator: In accordance with our understanding, I now beg to enclose you a certificate of deposit to your favor, $15,000, including interest, receipt and oblige. Yours very truly, JOHN D. ARCHBOLD."

"Hon. J. B. Foraker, Washington, D. C."

"26 Broadway, New York, April 17, 1908.—My Dear Senator: I enclose you certificate of deposit to your favor of $14,500. We are greatly at a loss in the matter, but I send this and will be glad to have a very frank talk with you when opportunity offers, if you so desire."

"I need scarcely again express our great gratification over the favorable outcome of affairs. Very truly yours, JOHN D. ARCHBOLD."

"There, my friends, is some documentary evidence of how bills are decided in the Senate. It is a constitutional and some intimation of the causes that lead to the defeat of such bills."

"I will now read you the conclusions of a letter written by Mr. Sibley, who was a representative from Pennsylvania in the lower house of Congress, and who was a representative from Pennsylvania. But, in fact, he is a representative, I believe, of the Standard Oil company."

"The letter was written to Mr. Archbold and relates how Mr. Sibley told Mr. Roosevelt that he should be careful and that he could not afford to depend merely upon the support of the people."

SIBLEY'S LETTER.

"For the first time in my life I told the president some plain, if unpalatable, truths as to the situation politically and that no man, whether win, or deserve to win, who depended upon the rabble rather than upon the conservative men of affairs."

"I don't know as he really liked all I said, but he thanked me with apparent heartiness."

"Anything you may desire here in my power, please advise."

MORE ARCHBOLD LETTERS.

"26 Broadway, New York, Dec. 18, 1907."

"My Dear Senator: You, of course, know of Judge Burkett's candidacy for re-election to the supreme court bench of Ohio. We understand that his re-election to the position would be in the line of usage as followed in such cases in Ohio, and we feel very strongly that his eminent qualifications and great integrity entitle him to this further recognition.

"We most earnestly hope that you agree with this view and will favor and aid his re-election. Mr. Rogers joins me most heartily in this expression to you."

With kind regards, I am, very sincerely yours,
JOHN D. ARCHBOLD."

"Here is another and final letter," concluded Mr. Hearst.

"26 Broadway, New York, March 2, 1908."

"My Dear Senator: We are surprised beyond measure to learn that Smith W. Bennett, brother-in-law of F. S. Monnett, recently attorney general of Ohio, is in the race for the attorney generalship of Ohio on the Republican ticket."

"Bennett was associated with Monnett in the case against us in Ohio, and I would like to tell you something of our experiences and impressions of the man gained in that case. If you know him at all, I am sure you will agree that his candidacy ought not to be seriously considered from any point of view."

"I would esteem it a favor to have a line from you on the subject."

"JOHN D. ARCHBOLD."
