

HE CONDEMNNS THE CREMATORY

Correspondent Says It is a Nuisance in a City.

HAS HAD SOME EXPERIENCE

say it may be useful, but thinks it should be placed outside of city limits.

The following communication has been received from Mr. E. E. Ecken of this city:

Although I haven't the least idea that my opinion will amount to much, still it will do no harm for me to say what I know about crematories, and as long as one is to be established in Salt Lake City, it might interest the people to know how it feels to live along-side a furnace box of that kind.

I see in the papers that favorable reports are coming from different parts of the United States, and that a great many cities back wouldn't be without a crematory for love nor money.

That is all very well for back east, but I have my doubts if the people of Salt Lake City, or those of Jacksonville, Florida can tell the difference between the stinking smell of a crematory and something else they have to put up with, but do know that the stench arising from such a building would have a detrimental effect on the people living near it.

The crematory known by the name of the Crematorium, located on a total failure of the city, and I take it for granted they are all alike.

I think it was in 1890 or '91 that a crematory was erected on Girard avenue, near the Plate river, and very close to the Burlington shops, for the purpose of burning or cremating the city garbage, and turning it into some kind of fertilizer.

The people in that neighborhood objected to such an establishment being erected in their midst, but their fears were allayed by the management with a promise that the process of cremation should be conducted on scientific plans.

Somehow or other the scientific plans didn't work at least they failed to keep the stench within the building, and it wasn't very long after till people began to move away to other parts of the city.

A great many employees of the Burlington, who declared they could not endure the perfume of the "stink factory," as they called it, were included in this general exodus.

It became evident that the crematory had the upper hand and was in a fair way of depopulating that part of the city, where it was possible for a working man to obtain cheap rent.

One complaint after another was sent to the health officer, and about the middle of the summer the city council took steps to regulate working hours at the factory.

It was a way that daybreak nothing should be done in the night. During the summer, I was working for a crematory and on the nights were very warm-it was summer time-it was customary to leave the doors of the crematory open. About the middle of the evening the crematory would start on its work of destruction and as soon as the black smoke began to roll out of the chimney it was time for the boys in the roundhouse to clean up shop, or in other words, shut the doors.

It was impossible for anyone to work there and endure the stench of that crematory and frequent expressions, such as the blasted thing ought to be blown into the river were often heard.

Shortly after the crematory was condemned as a nuisance, and sold or leased to a company who undertook the manufacturing of some kind of patent fuel. It is a light and every city ought to have a place to haul their garbage, but I don't think such a place ought to be erected within the city limits.

I suppose the promoters of this enterprise will carry out their own ideas, and put up such a building wherever they can find a suitable place, but I would suggest that the proper place for a crematory is somewhere out on the desert, say about one hundred miles from the city.

W. M. CLEMENT MISSING. Bookkeeper Employed at National Bank of Republic Has Vanished.

William M. Clement, a bookkeeper employed at the National Bank of the Republic, is found to be one of those who, when needed most, they disappear. Clement has not been seen since Sunday afternoon and there are many anxious hearts yearning to see him.

At the bank he was taken to be an honest upright man, but yesterday worthless checks that he had passed began to come into the bank. The Knutsen bank called a $15 check for him; the State Bank called a $10 check for him; the Richardson & Adams called a $10 check for him, and so did the Davis Shoe company. Clement has a wife and four children here.

WHERE IS THAT ORGAN? Dave Childer is thinking of taking to the woods and remaining there until after the organ for St. Paul's church has arrived, and been set up. The instrument was to have been on hand November 1, while here it is more than one month later and still no organ. So members of the church have been chasing into Mr. Childer's store to know the whereabouts of the which of this thing will be can't rest. Often as he sees someone enter the store with a brick and businesslike air, as though he were to purchase $1,000 worth of goods, and he goes forth to meet with a "Hello, San Diego, how are you?" and a pulsating heart, it is only to find one of St. Paul's choir wanting to know if their organ has been lost, strayed or stolen. Mr. Childer is being kept in a state of nervous tension by the fact that the organ has not yet arrived. He says it is all because the company could not get cars.

Injured Oregon Port Line Fireman Gets Retrospect for Accident At Hand of Jury.

The trial of young Frank Shurtliff for the murder of Mrs. Wilson on June 20 last, is approaching a close. The state rested its case this morning and the defendant got through with his testimony shortly forenoon. Counsel were making the arguments to the jury when the trial was closed.

Frank Shurtliff is put on the stand this morning. He testified that he fired the gun twice, when Johnnie Cooper was pointing it up in the air and he pulled the trigger and again when he aimed at tree.

George H. Krueger testified for the defense that he saw a photograph of the scene of the shooting and the picture was produced in evidence. On cross-examination admitted that he had taken the picture from a point about twenty-five feet out in the road, while the shooting was done from the fence. The state also claims that the photograph was taken at a point considerably south of where the boys stood when they were shooting.

BUSINESS NOTES. Today's clearings amounted to $823,853.81 as compared with $713,657.40 for the corresponding day of last year. This is the second time only so far during the year 1901, that the Salt Lake bank clearings have been lower than those for the corresponding day of last year. Business in winter goods has been seriously delayed by the unreasonable warm weather and is just beginning to start up. One prominent merchant said today in regard to the retail trade that it is his opinion that goods have fallen below expectations in that so many people lost money in the recent slump in mining stocks or now have it tied up in land.

The local millers are in daily expectation of the arrival of the wheat ordered some time ago of growers in the Palouse country. A prominent dealer in flour and grain said today that he expects the first trainload of Oregon wheat to arrive here some day this week. "The shipment will not be less than 50,000 bushels," he said, "and will be worth between 75 and 80 cents on the local market. The prices of wheat have gone up several cents a bushel in all wheat markets and I shall not be surprised if flour in this state advances again within a few days."

The Union Electric Light and Power company organized with a capital stock of $40,000 to build, equip and operate electric plants in Wellsville and Hyrum, Cache county, has filed its articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. McCormick stated that it amounted to nothing. "We just held a short meeting," said he, "and discussed one or two little business propositions, but there was nothing of any importance."

PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING. Colonel Ellery, manager of the Italian band, spoke very favorably of the Tabernacle choir today, especially in the hymn chorus and the anthem. He said the report that the musicians were all Elks was unfounded, and that the proposition for the band to put in the summer at the Salt Palace the coming season was a piece of imagination. The colonel is pleased with the reports in one morning paper, but does not think that the other has a "musical critic," who is well posted on concert band performance. He says the band goes from here to Salt Lake and thence to St. Paul and then on East.

James Long of Kimberly, who was at the Knutsen yesterday, states that the long continued drought in Platte county has been broken by a deluge of snow storm, leaving water in the "beautiful" on the ground. Moreover, the late earthquakes have increased the flow of the waters in that county, and have been doing so encouraging to farmers and stockmen.

Bishop Wrathall of Grantsville is a guest at the White House. The Bishop says that there was not enough precipitation in the fall to give Truckee county a winter wheat crop. The start, but this present rain and snow fall has helped the situation greatly, and the wheat will grow well from now on. The article was written by a visitor from the north, who is in the valley of the "beautiful" on the ground. Moreover, the late earthquakes have increased the flow of the waters in that county, and have been doing so encouraging to farmers and stockmen.

Ferry, an incompetent person, praying for an order of sale of real property of said incompetent person, and that all persons interested appear before the said court to show cause, why an order should not be granted to sell so much, as shall be necessary, of the following described patented mining claims of said incompetent person, to-wit: Red Cloud lot No. 328, 316-2-3 feet, Dispute, lot No. 523, 318-2-3 feet, Lucky Boy lot No. 529, situated in the Utah mining district, Summit County, Utah, has been set for hearing on Friday, the 20th day of December, A. D. 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m. at the County Court House, in Salt Lake City, Salt Lake County, Utah.

VINCENTS the Clerk of said Court, with the seal thereof, of attested, this 10th day of December, A. D. 1901.

JOHN JAMES, Clerk. By J. U. ELDREDGE, J. J. Deputy Clerk. J. S. Richards, Attorney.

There are two many theatrical companies on the road," said R. B. Kinmont of the Praxley company at the Knutsen yesterday. Good times and general prosperity throughout the country have led managers to believe that people are everywhere ready to patronize everything that comes along, and shows are being run in bunches into small towns all over the country and overdoing the business. Take a town of 5,000 inhabitants, what sense is there in running one theater five nights in the week? The place will not support it. Our company has done a most excellent business all through the country, and we have no complaint coming, but if the present number of companies is augmented much more, some of the weaker ones will have to go the way of the wall.

"This storm is a godsend to the farmers and stockmen," said C. S. Carter, Vernal at the Knutsen today. "I was told this morning that there was six inches of snow at Heber, so that there will be a good deposit in the mountains. The dry weather has left winter feed a little scarcer over in the eastern part of the state."

MISCHIEF MAKER. A Surprise in Brooklyn. An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. A Brooklyn man says: "When baby was about eleven months old he began to grow the way he was, at first, attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but in reality, the poor little thing was starving, his mother's milk not being sufficient nourishment."

One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoons in a saucer with a little sugar and warm milk. This baby ate so ravenously that she fixed a second one which he likewise finished. It was not many days before he forgot all about exclusively on Grape-Nuts. Today the boy is strong and robust, and as cute a mischief-maker as a thirteen months old baby is expected to be.

We have put before him other foods, but he will have none of them, evidently preferring to stick to what he has grown used to in his time of need. His old friend Grape-Nuts.

Use this letter any way you wish, for my wife and I can never praise Grape-Nuts enough after the brightness it has brought to our household. These statements can be verified by anyone who wishes to make a visit to our home." P. P. McElroy, 256 So. 3rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Grape-Nuts is not made for a baby food, but experience with thousands of babies shows it to be among the best, if not the best of all baby foods. It is equally effective as a body and brain builder for grown-ups.

AFTERNOON MINING CALL.

Disaster-Breeding Stamp of the Morning Continues Its Course.

Stocks were unmercifully hammered down again this afternoon and the prices of this morning were undermined to a loss for the whole list. Century came in for a great deal of bear attention and was pushed into the mire until it brought less than a dollar a share, in face of its former value of $2.

California remained around 40 cents and Ajax and Carter maintained the losses. Uncle Sam was stronger in the trading, but Texas dropped off 1 1/2 cents. These sales were made:

Ajax, 1,300 at 67 1/2 to 68; Carter, 15,300 at 59 to 60; Daily-Wool, 100 at 23.55; La Reina, 500 at 23; Swansea, 400 at 17; Texas, 3,800 at 3 1/2 to 4; Uncle Sam, 5,000 at 60 to 65 1/2; Victor, 1,100 at 53; California, 3,500 at 39 to 41 1/2; Century, 1,500 at 95 to 140; Lower Mammoth, 1,100 at 1.25 to 1.37 1/2; May Day, 4,700 at 64 1/2 to 67; West Morning Glory, 2,000 at 5 1/2 and 6 1/2.

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE

The Danger in That Common Disease Catarrh.

Because catarrhal diseases are so common and because catarrh is not rapidly fatal, people too often overlook and neglect it until some incurable ailment develops as a result of the neglect.

The inflamed condition of the membrane of the nose and throat makes a fertile soil for the germs of pneumonia and consumption. In fact, catarrhal pneumonia and catarrhal consumption are the most common forms of these dreaded diseases which annually cause more than one quarter of the deaths in this country.

Remedies for catarrh are almost as numerous as catarrh sufferers but very few have any actual merit as a cure, the only good derived being simply a temporary relief.

There is, however, a very effective remedy recently discovered which is rapidly becoming famous for its great value in relieving and permanently curing all forms of catarrhal diseases, whether located in the head, throat, lungs or stomach.

This new catarrh cure is principally composed of a gum derived from the Eucalyptus tree, and this gum possesses extraordinary healing and antiseptic properties. It is taken internally in the form of a lozenge or tablet, pleasant to the taste and so harmless that little children take them with safety and benefit.

Eucalyptus oil and the bark are sometimes used but are not so convenient nor so palatable as the gum.

Undoubtedly the best quality is found in Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which may be found in any drug store and any catarrh sufferer who has tried douches, inhalers and liquid medicines, will be surprised at the rapid improvement after a few days use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which are composed of the gum of the Eucalyptus tree, combined with other antiseptics which destroy the germs of catarrh in the blood and expel the catarrhal poison from the system.

Dr. Ramsdell in speaking of Catarrh and its cure says: "After many experiments I have given up the idea of curing catarrh by the use of inhalers, washes, salves or liquid medicines. I have always had the best results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; the red gum and other valuable antiseptics contained in these tablets make them, in my opinion, far superior to any of the numerous catarrh remedies so extensively advertised."

For colds in the head, for coughs, catarrhal deafness and catarrh of the stomach and liver, people who have tried them say that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are a household necessity.
