

One Ad. in the Home is Worth a Hundred on the Highway. Our Circulation is Home Circulation.

SECRET EDITION NEWS.

ADVERTISERS: Our Readers Have Money to Spend With You. Tell Them Through Our Columns What You Have to Sell.

12 PAGES—LAST EDITION.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1903. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

FIFTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE BLIGHTS OF RELIGION.

They Are Frequently Seen in the Great Orchard of Humanity, Says Elder Taylor.

WHERE AND HOW THEY ARE FOUND

Doctrines That Deprive Men of Their Free Agency Are Built Upon Unrighteousness.

REPORT OF STAKE PRESIDENTS

Two More Great Conference Gatherings in the Tabernacle—Many Out Despite the Rain.

There were two more large gatherings in the Tabernacle today. The first commenced at 10 o'clock and the second at 2. The building was packed to the rafters and the congregation listened in each case with the utmost attention to the remarks of the speaker. A synopsis of the proceedings is found in the report that follows:

The choir and congregation sang:

Our God, we raise to Thee
Thanks for Thy blessings free
We here enjoy.

The opening prayer was offered by Elder Jonathan G. Kimball.

The choir sang the hymn which begins:

High on the mountain top
A banner is unfurled;
Ye nations, now look up,
Ye nations, all the world,
To him who saves the soul.

ELDER JOHN W. TAYLOR, of the Council of the Twelve, was the first speaker.

He began by speaking of blights in the orchard. The world, he said, is like an orchard, and may be infested with blights. One of these is Christian science. Another is hypnotism. These are based on the doctrine that one man may exercise power over his fellow by mere force of mind. The test which we may apply to these doctrines that are so founded is, Do they deprive, or attempt to deprive, men of their free agency? If they do they are established upon unrighteousness. Another blight upon the religious world is the doctrine that men may be saved by faith alone. This is a favorite creed of a large part of the race. Now, it is not a good thing to place our whole reliance upon any one idea or principle. Necessary as spiritual gifts are in the true Church, still there is none of these which, in itself, is a saving principle. The Saints should not, therefore, descend to the lower plane where they put entire confidence in any one thing. As all the organs of the body are essential to the perfect man, so all the doctrines of Christ are necessary to our salvation. Many of the Christian sects are founded upon a single doctrine, which in some modern instances are exaggerated to the point of fanaticism. As these may be, they will not save the people who cling to them alone to the exclusion of other principles equally essential to the perfection of the work which God has established in these days.

Elder Willard Christensen sang the favorite hymn, "Shepherds of Israel."

ELDER WM. H. LEWIS.

President of the Bingham stake, reported the condition of his district. It is situated on the northern borders of Utah. It comprises seven wards, formerly belonging to the Cache County. A fair degree of prosperity has attended the labors of the people. A condensed milk factory was about to be constructed, and a canal was in course of making at a cost about $25,000. Lands had been purchased for the erection of a sugar factory. The officers of the stake were united, and the people generally were endeavoring to live in righteousness. The auxiliary organizations were in good working order.

ELDER CAMERON

President of the Panguitch stake, reported the condition in his district. The stake borders on Arizona, and includes 10 wards, scattered over a territory of about 200 miles. The missionaries visit the wards once every three months. He bore his testimony to the truth of the Gospel.

ELDER GEORGE TEASDALE.

of the Council of Twelve, next addressed the conference. He read a part of the revelation recorded in section 46 of the Doctrine and Covenants, which speaks of false spirits, and also from section 4. He went on to speak of the way in which the Lord had sustained the Saints in former times, and of the promises of the world and embracing the truth. It required a great deal of courage on their part to do this; for it is a hard to join an unpopular movement. He said, they could not have done it if they had not been upheld by the Holy Spirit. God has opened up to us great prospects of salvation; for we are told that every soul that would keep his commandments should see his face. Belief in the promises that He has given us would bring these very largely to a realization; but what part of them shall not be fulfilled when, instead of a mere belief, we have a knowledge of the truth. It is necessary therefore for the Saints to exert themselves to attain these glorious promises. Not only should they look to their own conduct in this respect, but they must train their children; since it is impossible to give testimony to the parents to the children; they must get a testimony for themselves.

The choir sang the hymn:

All hail the glorious day,
By prophets long foretold.
Benediction by Seymour B. Young.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The choir sang the hymn:

How sure is their defense!
Eternal wisdom is their guide,
Their help, Omnipotence.

Opening prayer by Bishop William B. Preston.

Singing by the choir:

We're not ashamed to own our Lord.

A GREAT EDITION.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S FAIR AND CONFERENCE EDITION OF THE "NEWS" was the largest and most strongly patronized of any edition ever issued by this paper, with the single exception of the annual Christmas News—of which it served as a very fitting "avant courier." Every copy of the paper has been sold, real estate and mining men especially and the business sections generally sending it away to people interested in the city and state. The "News" regrets that it is unable to supply the demand for more copies, but fair warning was issued to all to place their orders in advance.

The advertising patronage was probably the heaviest ever bestowed upon any local paper outside of the annual Christmas and New Year's editions.

Both the morning papers printed attractive Sunday editions, which were also liberally patronized by advertisers. The comparative record is an interesting one:

(The "News" prints no free advertisements of any class.)	Total No. of inches of inches. Adv. Matter
SUNDAY HERALD	4312	2009
SUNDAY TRIBUNE	5600	2328
SATURDAY "NEWS"	6600	3464

Worship Him on earth;

We learn to love his holy word.

And know what souls are worth.

ELDER MATTHIAS F. COWLEY.

of the Quorum of Twelve, was the first speaker. He called attention to the responsibility that falls upon by connecting themselves with the Church. The work of God is a practical one. It comprehends the temporal and the spiritual. He urged upon the Saints the necessity of knowing the difference between the whole truth and some specific application of one of the parts thereof which we often come across in the world. He heard a Seventy say that all the Saints should be socialists, because it was essentially the united order; but this great law would not be enacted from without the Church.

OPPOSES MIDWAYS.

W. C. T. W. Places Its Stamp of Disapproval on These Features.

The state convention of the W. C. T. U. adjourned Saturday evening after adopting resolutions opposing midways, and electing the following officers for the ensuing year:

Mrs. J. S. Gordon, Ogden, president.

Mrs. G. W. Martin, Mantu, vice president.

Mrs. Mary A. Boyden, Provo, second vice president.

Mrs. E. Savery, Salt Lake, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. John Hobbs, Ogden, recording secretary.

Mrs. Ryan Corbin, assistant recording secretary.

Mrs. Mary Wilson, Mt. Pleasant, treasurer.

Mrs. E. E. Shepard, Salt Lake, organizer.

DEPARTMENT SUPERINTENDENTS.

Mothers' and purity meeting—Mrs. Horning, Mantu.

Literature—Mrs. D. C. Johnson, Springville.

Scientific temperance instruction—Mrs. Tibbals, Salt Lake.

Narcotics—Mrs. D. N. Smith, Ogden.

Prison and jail—Mrs. E. E. Shepard, Salt Lake.

Medal contest—Mrs. Coll and Mrs. Orin.

Corinthian—Mrs. E. E. Shepard, Salt Lake.

Miners' department—Mrs. Bowdel, Salt Lake.

Social meetings—Mrs. George Marshall, Mt. Pleasant.

Sabbath observance—Mrs. R. G. McNiece, Salt Lake.

Y. secretary—Miss Grace Fisher, Salt Lake.

Seafarers and sailors—Mrs. George Wake, Salt Lake.

The resolutions adopted were as follows:

"Resolved, First, That we stand unalterably on our principles of total abstinence from all alcoholic drinks and stand pledged to promote every effort for the suppression of the sale of intoxicants."

"Resolved, Second, That we will earnestly endeavor to promote a better observance of the Lord's day, accepting it as a gift of God to man."

"Resolved, Third, That because of the increasing prevalence of the use of tobacco and cigarettes by young boys, we will, by every possible means, use our influence for the enforcement of the law recently passed."

"Resolved, Fourth, That we believe in the one standard of morality for men and women, the white line for two."

"Resolved, Fifth, That we are opposed to the midway feature of fairs; and the pictures and the various alluring advertising methods usually employed, and the shows themselves in which the female form is in any way exhibited or alluded to."

"Resolved, Sixth, That we recommend active work among the children, believing that the training of our young will result in better citizens and cleaner laws for the future generation."

"Resolved, Seventh, That we make special effort during the coming year to enlist the aid of the Christian men of Utah by securing them as honorary members."

"Resolved, Eighth, That we pledge ourselves again to the Christian men of Utah, and through this avenue can this Christian land of ours reach the greatness which it may reasonably expect by having the purest and best E. E. STEPHARD, "MRS. HOBBS," "MRS. CRITCHLOW."

IN THE TOILS.

Anderson's Irregular Way of Doing Things Lands Him in Trouble.

This morning Officer Sullivan arrested a man named Frank Anderson for having secured some money and a suit of clothes in exchange for worthless paper. At the time of the arrest the specific charge had not been preferred, as no complaint had been drawn up, that matter being attended to later.

A man named Jack Miller identified the alleged offender, and from statements made by Miller and from statements made by Anderson that Anderson had obtained a suit of clothing and $15 in cash from the Silver King saloon, all the valuables having come to Anderson's possession by means of checks which were later found to be worthless. Upon the arrest of the man all of the money, $25, and the clothing were recovered, and two other checks, each for $30, were found on his person.

BRENNAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

(Special to the "News.")

Beaver City, Utah, Oct. 5.—Patrick Brennan, Charles F. Gall, Al McKee and David Conger each pleaded not guilty, and their cases were continued.

The court is now passing on probate matters and will adjourn today.

FAST PACE WITH A DANCING GIRL.

Oriental Artist from the Fair Grounds Leads a Saloon Keeper Close to the Grave.

TRIED HARD TO KILL HIMSELF.

There Are Chances for His Recovery, While She Has Gone Back to Trip The Light Fantastic.

Samuel Briley, aged 32 years and half owner of the Golden Gate saloon on east Second South street, attempted to "shuffle off this mortal coil" by taking a large dose of morphine. He overplayed the mark, however, and took too large a dose, and hence is likely to recover. He took about 10 grains at midnight last night in the Mudge Daniels' resort on Commercial street. Dr. Wither was called in and administered all the restoratives in his power with the result that the would-be suicide is in a room in the Hazel block on the fair road to recovery.

It is reported that Briley had been on a carouse since Saturday night with one of the oriental dancers from the fair grounds and that they went at a killing pace—that is, a pace that almost killed him, but one that the terpsichorean artist from Turkey, providing she is from there, kept up without danger to herself. Nevertheless she is doing business at the old stand in Agricultural park this afternoon, while he is hovering between the death call and a further life on life.

SUNDAY LAWS VIOLATED.

Liquor Sold and Gambling Carried On Without the Least Interruption.

For some reason which seems unaccountable to the law-abiding element, gambling and Sunday liquor selling are in full blast again and the police are apparently totally oblivious to the evil. From dark last evening until nearly midnight, drunken brawlers were seen rolling up and down East Temple street, and it would be folly to contend that they got their "loads" at restaurants and drug stores.

At least eight or ten saloons were doing a side and back door trade and a "near sighted" man could have seen a line of saloons in the city. A consideration to places where liquor could be obtained. The only conditions the dealers imposed were quietness and the price.

That several gambling houses have been and are running cannot be denied, and some of the police have admitted it. But they say it is impossible to get evidence upon which to convict. They say, also, if they break down the doors they intend to be held responsible, and besides the games would be stopped before the officers could gain entrance.

But in the meantime, the games flourish and tales of how the unwary are fleeced out of hard earnings are recounted daily.

INTERESTING LECTURES.

Noted Kindergartner Will Deliver Four Of Them in Barratt Hall.

Mrs. Lucretia Willard Treat of Grand Rapids, Mich., will lecture before the conjoint session of the Parents and Kindergarten sections of the State Teachers' association at the University of Utah Tuesday morning, Oct. 6, on the subject, "Relation of the New Education to the Home, School and Church." She will also give the following four lectures in Barratt Hall to which the public is invited:

Wednesday, 7 p. m.—"The Twentieth Century Child: How to Meet Its Needs."

Thursday, 2 p. m.—"Discipline vs. Management."

Friday, 8 p. m.—"Stories of the Right Kind: How to Tell Them." Illustrated.

Friday, 2 p. m.—"Love Shown Through Service."

Friday, 8 p. m.—Reception at the Beehive House in honor of Mrs. Treat.

STUDENTS IN WASHINGTON

Several Utahans Are Attending Law and Medical Depts., Columbia University.

(Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—Columbian university opened its session today. Among the Utahans attending are C. A. Badger, J. H. Peterson and I. Willey. In the law department, and H. Z. Lund, J. Neilson and Frank Heard in the medical department.

MRS. BRADLEY'S CASE GOES OVER.

Time for Passing Sentence on Arthur Brown's Victim Postponed Till November 20.

WOMAN NOT PRESENT IN COURT.

Motion to Quash Informations Against Ex-Senator Will Be Argued on Wednesday Next.

Pursuant to a mutual agreement between the court and Dist. Atty. Eichnor, Judge Morse this morning postponed the time for passing sentence upon Mrs. Annie M. Bradley until Monday morning, Nov. 20, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Bradley, on last Tuesday, pleaded guilty to two charges of adultery, committed with former Senator Arthur Brown on Feb. 1 and April 17, 1903. When her case was called this morning for the purpose of passing sentence, Judge Morse after a brief conference with Mr. Eichnor, announced that the case would be postponed as stated above. Mrs. Bradley was not present in court this morning at all, so it was certainly not known to Mrs. Bradley what time for sentence postponed.

BROWN'S CASE WEDNESDAY.

The motion to quash the informations against Senator Brown will be argued on Wednesday and the object for postponing the time for sentence upon Mrs. Bradley was to allow the Brown case to be disposed of first. Should the motion to quash in those cases be denied, then the cases will have to be set for trial and it is not believed that they can be heard before the first part of November. It is generally believed that the case will be set for trial on Wednesday, and it is expected that the result of the Brown case.

MINER'S AWFUL DEATH.

Michael Duffy Plunges Into a Shaft Three Hundred Feet Deep.

(Special to the "News.")

Park City, Oct. 5.—Yesterday morning the crushed and mutilated remains of Michael Duffy were removed from the shaft of the Silver King Consolidated, after the unfortunate victim had been precipitated a distance of 300 feet. The accident happened through Duffy having tried to pull the bell rope while the cage was in motion, this act causing him to lose his balance and to plunge forward into the shaft. When found, his body was horribly mangled and lying in 11 feet of water. His feet were literally crushed to a pulp and his neck and shoulders both broken. The coroner's jury, which sat here last evening, rendered a verdict of accidental death and exonerated the company from all blame. Mr. Duffy was about 40 years of age, but nothing is known of his family connections.

"MADE IN AMERICA."

Subject of Opening Lecture Before State Teachers' Association.

The annual convention of the Utah State Teachers' association will open in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall at 8 o'clock tonight, at which time there will be a special musical program and a lecture by Hon. Henry R. Patterson, his subject being, "Made in America."

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the county superintendents were scheduled for a meeting at the office of State Superintendent Nelson in the joint building. An adjournment to the evening session for visiting the city schools. It is expected that this year's convention will be even more profitable than its predecessors.

SUCCESS OF SALOONS.

Theme Dwelt Upon at Meeting of Young People's Societies.

The lower large room of the First Methodist church was crowded last night with the young people's societies of the Evangelical churches of this city in attendance on the union meeting. The subject of the evening was the success of the saloons, and the speaker was Mr. John R. Winder, Salt Lake. He spoke of the success of the saloons in the city, and of the influence of the saloons upon the community. He said that the saloons were a great evil, and that they were a great danger to the community. He said that the saloons were a great source of crime, and that they were a great source of poverty. He said that the saloons were a great source of disease, and that they were a great source of death. He said that the saloons were a great source of misery, and that they were a great source of despair. He said that the saloons were a great source of shame, and that they were a great source of dishonor. He said that the saloons were a great source of ruin, and that they were a great source of destruction. He said that the saloons were a great source of evil, and that they were a great source of sin. He said that the saloons were a great source of darkness, and that they were a great source of gloom. He said that the saloons were a great source of sorrow, and that they were a great source of grief. He said that the saloons were a great source of pain, and that they were a great source of suffering. He said that the saloons were a great source of trouble, and that they were a great source of distress. He said that the saloons were a great source of worry, and that they were a great source of anxiety. He said that the saloons were a great source of fear, and that they were a great source of terror. He said that the saloons were a great source of hatred, and that they were a great source of revenge. He said that the saloons were a great source of jealousy, and that they were a great source of envy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed, and that they were a great source of avarice. He said that the saloons were a great source of envy, and that they were a great source of jealousy. He said that the saloons were a great source of pride, and that they were a great source of arrogance. He said that the saloons were a great source of wrath, and that they were a great source of anger. He said that the saloons were a great source of lust, and that they were a great source of desire. He said that the saloons were a great source of greed,