NEW YORK, 22.—The chestnut mare, NEW YORK, 22.—The defense in the Forcester case will attempt to prove an alibi. John Connor, of New Orleans, with whom Forcester boarded, states that the accused was in the Southern states, engaged as a laborer, when the Nathan murder was committed, and that plenty of witnesses can be brought forward to prove this. He also ways forward to preve this. He also says the New York detectives offered him money and other inducements to betray Forrester, but he refused. They told him the reward for the discovery of Nathan's murderer amounted to $50.-000, and all they had to do was to put the eystem elsewhere. A correspondential of the sexual conditions of the sexual condit

tance at the met attempt and 7 43 on the second trial. On the same day ten. Butler also matched but did not teat the time of the Dutchman. It took him 3 to go the journey. Dexter also tried it in a private trial, but failed. The glory was left for Huntress, by Alden Goldsmith, volunteer, to ecilpse all previous performances. She beat Dutchman by 11 seconds, Hustress trotting three miles, apparently with ease, in 7 minutes 21 seconds and a quarter. Huntress is fifteen and a haif handshigh, of fine proportions. She is a beautiful dark bay, with two white feet, one fore and the other hind. In the three mile dash other horses started. After the race began none of the others were ever near ner. She trotted the first mile in 223, the ascond 225 and the third 223, the ascond 225 and the third 2234, total, 7211. Bhe dashed up in the home stretch in the same hild, and did not seem at all distressed at the termination of the race. What added to the wonderful performance of Huntress over Dutchman, is the fact that the mare trotted in harness, while Dutchman trotted under the saddle. She was ridden by the great horseman, Herman Woodruff.

BALTIMORS, 21—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows adjourned size die to day. Previous to adjournment the new officers were installed, and M. W. Grand Sire Logan made an eloquent address, after which he announced the following appointments of officers of the Grand Lodge: Rev. J. W. Venable, of Kentucky, R. W. Grand Chaplin; Caleb Rand, of Massachusetts, R. W. Grand Marshal; Albert Cohen, of Arkansas, R. W. Grand Messenger. No other place being designated, Baitimore will be the place of the next meeting of the Grand Lodges.

authorities of Cornell University in favor of the co-education of the sexes, 16 is interesting to note the working of the crime on Forrester, and this they would have no trouble in doing if they once had him in New York.

Springfield, Mass., 22.—A premature exposion, at the west end of the Hoosac tunnel, yesterday, killed Peter Stone, seriously injured John Smith and lightly irjured two others.

Charles fon, 22.—A personal alterestion occurred in a restaurant at Columbia, last evening, between Montgomery, President of the State Senate, and Samuel Milton, regular Republican candidate, John D. Caldwell and Major J. M. Morgan. Two friends of Milton, who interfered to separate the combistants, were shot. Caldwell was instants, were shot. jury charges George Toppal, a friend of Montgomery's, with the wilful shooting of Caldwell. The affray, owing to the social position of the participants, caused much excitement. Caldwell is brother-in-law to U. S. Senator R. binson, and Morgan is son-in-law to Geo A. Trenholm, who was secretary of the professor then went on to say that the professor then went on to say that the great number of female students at Zarich filled him and his celleagues with apprehension; and the more so, New York, 22.—Green charges of mismanagement are brought, against the officers of the Ideans Asylunge Ward's Island. It is stated, aching other things, that patients are frequently as drunk in the asylum as they possibly could be outside.

The Prospect Fair brought its actions meeting to a close peterday with one of the most extraordinary feats that ever took place. It gave a purse for a dash of three miles, with an extra purse of a thousand dollars if the 7 32½ time, made by the famous Dotetuman 33 years ago, were besten. Until yesterday noon Dutchman's time stood at the head of the trotting record, notwithstanding such turf celebrities as Flors Temple, General Butier, were backed to beat it, and failed. Flora Temple made the attempt on the 22nd of September 1850, and was 7 33½ in performing the distance at the first attempt and 7 43½ on the second trial. On the same day teen.

Butier also matched but did not test the professor who draws invidious distinctions between them of them of the control over them. The correspondent adds that the male student were animally enough to receive the professor's approbation. Whatever may be one's opinion of the advisability of co-education, such understood as unnecessary and in the University had shown themselves, as the professor's own remarks imply, fully able to scope with their male associates in study, and he had no right to instruct that the one would fail in practice more than the other. Experience alone can settle that question; but, until it is settled, each sex is entitled to the same consideration, and the professor who draws invidious distinctions between them of the same structure.
