Over 800 Men Going to San Francisco to End Streetcar Trouble.

AFFAIRS OF WEBER COUNTY.

Bold Robbery at Depot-Preparations For Big Demonstration on Labor Day.

Ogden, Sept. 1 .- The special train from the east carrying the strike enroute to San Francisco to work for the street car company, arrived in Ogden last evening, the first section coming in at 6:30 and the last section an hour later. The first section was composed of 10 coaches and a baggage car and the second sec tion 11 cars and a baggage car. There was a vast difference between the manner in which the two sections were handled. The report had been sent out from Green River, Wyoming, that the men on board were all armed with guns and were causing considerable rouble, Chief of Police Browning out of precaution was at the station with his entire force to quell any disturbance that might be started here. There was a large crowd of union men at the depot when the train pulled in, some of them were prepared for trouble, and had the least sign of a break been made here serious trouble would have followed. When the first section of the train pulled into the depot grounds only a half dozen men stepped off, and they kept watch on the cars to see that none of the men left the train, all the windows were closed down tight and a guard with a gun and club was placed at each end of the cars to keep the men from leaving the cars. This train was in charge of George Jenkins of New York, and he refused to talk. The men on this train appeared to be The men on this train appeared to be the rough, tough element of the east whom Farley had picked up. At Evan-ston, they were greeted with a bunch of union men, some of whom threw rocks at the cars breaking two of the vindows. Further than this little trouhle they had gotten thus far on their journey without being molested. The impression was given out by those in charge of the first section that those on board the second section were tough and were causing all kinds of disturbinces enroute.

When the second part of the train pulled into the depot grdunds, the blue coats were expecting no end of trouble, and when the car doors were thrown open and most of those or bard stepped from the train, all who were at the depot were surprised, but the men were of a better class than those on the first section, they talked freely to the representatives of the press, admitting that they expect trouble when they get to California. It was evident from the conversation of a number of the men that a good por-tion of those on board are not going to go to work for the street car company then they get to San Francisco. But good wages are being paid for all kinds of employment, and it was an easy opportunity to get free transpor-tation and board from New York and Philadelphia to San Francisco, and they availed themselves of the opportunity In one of the cars were about fifteen iron workers, who can get $5 per day in San Francisco; they are union men and many others belong to unions of various kinds. A few of those who came to Ogden with the train left it here and will seek employment at their trades in this city. Considerable dissatisfaction had arisin among the men on account of the poor food that had been furnished them during the past two days, and those on board the second section had agreed that unless better food was furnished them at Ogden, they would all leave the train here and refuse to go any further west. A committee was appointed to inspect the catables here. The dining car company had been telegraphed to purchase the provisions, which con-sisted of over 2,000 loaves of bread, 2,100 eggs, canned salmon, corned beef, sar-dines, pork and beans, sugar, butter, condenced wilk sets is bear. condensed milk, etc., in large quanti-ties, and when these goods were taken to the car on trucks, the committee was present to inspect the food. It proved satisfactory, and no disturbance was had on that account. In the two trains there were over 200 men, and but few were sick. They expect to arrive in San Francisco Sun-day.

FOREST RESERVE NOTES.

The forest reserve office here is receiving many applications for timber. The Vernal Saw Mill & Lumber company has bought 1,000,000 feet of lumber at the head of Little Brush creek, district No. 2. Most of this lumber brought $2 a thousand, and some on cut-over districts $1.50.

J. M. Miller of Colton has arranged for 250,000 feet on the north fork of the Abintaquin, district No. 19. This timber is easier of access than that sold in district No. 2, and brought $2.75 per thousand. H. F. Studley left today to complete the sale of 2,000,000 feet of dead timber to Welsh, Driscoll & Buck of Park City, and 1,000,000 feet to Fred Pack of Kamas.

An announcement will be made October 1, informing the public of total number of cattle, horses and sheep which will be allowed to graze in the Uintah forest reserve during the season of 1907, thus giving the owners the op-portunity to make whatever reduction may be necessary in their herds be-fore the opening of the season. From present indications there is no doubt but that it will be necessary to make small reductions in the number stock allowed upon the reserve, and this being the case, it will be possible to approve the application of but few applicants. For this reason, sheep should not be purchased with the expectation of securing the privilege of grazing them on the reserve next sea-A. F. Potter, chief of the grazing di- druggists.
