"For a long time I suffered with sores on the hands which were itching, painful, and disagreeable. I had three doctors and derived no benefit from any of them. One doctor said he was afraid to touch my hands, so you must know how bad they were; an-other said I never could be cured; and the third said the sores were caused by the dipping of my hands in water in the dye-house where I work. I saw in the papers about the wonderful cures of the Cuticura Remedies and procured some of the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. In three days after the application of the Cuticurs Ointment my hands began to peel and were better. The sore-

The combined choirs have re-at work for six weeks and have re-sponded faithfully to the requirements of attendance which at such times become hard to conform with. The result was that expectations were realized, and this presentation of Stainer's great and this presentation of Stander's given work will be remembered with pleasure by all who participated and attended it. Mr. Ashworth deserves commenda-tion for his good natured acceptance of a responsible place at very short notice, as Mr. Graham's throat would not ad-mit of his appearance. Miss Berkhoel had arranged the vocalization of her choir with a view to correct and even balance, so that the ensemble was invariably well given. Mr. Berkhoel played a Schumann number as an offertory that was very good, and he held up his part of the long and difficult pro-gram with skill and and untiring ef-fort.

The theme of the cantata is the death of the daughter of Jairus, a ruler in the synagague, and who was raised, from the dead by the Savior. The composer has with marked artistic ability made the score conform to the spirit of the libretto, so that the sympathies of the audience are kept in active touch with the poetic narration of the pa-thetic story. thetic

The singers made such an impression on the audience that there is a strong probability of the cantata being repeated at an early date.
