

NEW JOB FOR WILLIAM J. RIDD

Will Represent Kansas City Stock Yards Company in This Territory.

OUT AFTER UTAH SHIPMENTS.

Big Plants Can Handle 17,000 Sheep a Day and Want Utah and Idaho Mutton.

H. W. Prickett, traffic manager for the Kansas City Stock Yards company, who has been in Salt Lake for a few days past, this morning announced that he had appointed W. J. Ridd as the representative of the company to purchase shipments of sheep and cattle in Utah and contiguous territory.

Mr. Ridd ought to fill the bill, for during the years he was connected with the Rio Grande Western in the capacity of traveling passenger agent he created a large circle of acquaintances in every city and hamlet in this state. Then he went into Idaho and Nevada on live stock business, and during the past season he loaded wool for the Santa Fe.

The Kansas City Stock Yards company of Missouri owns and operates eight large packing houses and is said to be the largest stocker and feeder in the world.

In the face of the fact that the Los Angeles market has entered the field hot and strong for Utah sheep and cattle, Mr. Prickett now proposes to strain every nerve to get in on the ground floor. He states that the firm wants much larger shipments from Utah and Idaho than ever before. While the supply from this state is considerable, the Gem state is not furnishing nearly so many as could be desired. Taken all in all, he says, the company is receiving from Utah and Idaho only about one-third as much mutton as it can dispose of daily. The capacity of the plants is 17,000 sheep per day.

SUIT AGAINST SAN PEDRO.

Olivia M. Starmer Claims Trains Are Wrecking Her Dwelling.

Olivia M. Starmer filed suit in the district court today against the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company to recover damages in the sum of $3,000 for injuries alleged to have been caused to plaintiff's home by reason of the operation of trains over defendant's tracks in close proximity to the property mentioned, which is located on west South Temple street. It is claimed that the running of the trains jars plaintiff's house so that the foundation and brickwork are falling apart, that the smoke and dust thrown out by the engines have penetrated plaintiff's house and caused great damage to her furniture, rendering it unfit for occupancy.

HARRIMAN IN MEXICO.

Extension of Southern Pacific Feeder Is Soon to be Completed.

San Francisco, Aug. 25.—President E. H. Harriman notified the Southern Pacific offices of the Southern Pacific yesterday that the work on the extension of the Cananea, Yaqui River & Pacific railway from Alamos, Mexico, through Mazatlan and down to Tepic and San Marcos, would be completed by the end of the month. The extension is being hurried because of the determination on the part of Harriman to open up this country as a freight feeder of the Southern Pacific.

The extension of the Harriman lines now reaches from Guaymas to Alamos. The distance to Mazatlan is 75 miles. The roadbed on this section has been partly completed and will not take many months to finish.

The country surrounding Mazatlan, Alamos, San Marcos and Tepic promises to become a big freight district of the Southern Pacific. Most of the imports for this section are shipped to Mazatlan or Alamos and carried overland.

COAL LANDS TAKEN UP.

Ogden Parties Locate on 32,000 Acres in Sanpete County.

Thirty-two thousand acres of coal lands have been quietly located in the southeast corner of Sanpete county by Ogden parties. W. A. Miles, who has been going over the country in search of coal lands for some time past, last week headed a party of 14 who went to the head of Muddy creek and inspected the development work being done there. All of the men have located each on a 100-acre claim.

In the party were G. H. Matson of Ogden and connected with the Utah Canning company; L. L. Reynolds, secretary of the Weber club; H. C. Parkhurst of Denver; B. H. Goddard, Dr. Horton, M. L. Little, C. Burton, Ernest Josephson, W. A. Malan, J. J. Schwartz, A. L. Short, Hurl Vance and D. S. Tracy.

The place where the locations have been made is situated some 21 miles from Sterling, the terminus of the Sanpete Valley road, and a station on the Rio Grande branch. It is stated that the work of building a branch to the coal lands is feasible.

TROUBLES GALORE.

Supt. Platt of Los Angeles Division Has His Hands Full.

C. M. Ball, who left the Oregon Short Line to go with Supt. Platt of the Southern Pacific at Los Angeles, is here today visiting with some of his old-time friends. He brings with him an interesting story of conditions on Mr. Platt's division. It is the first place all hands have been wrestling with the

If you haven't drank

Hewlett's

THREE CROWN

TEA

You haven't known the best. Six varieties—select the one you like best.

Sold only in full half lbs. —8 oz.—red and gold cartons, at your grocers.

Salt sea proposition for these many months. When Mr. Ball left Los Angeles the waters were still rising, with every prospect that the grade would have to be changed once more at an early date.

Regarding the freight congestion on the Southern Pacific which has prevailed since the San Francisco calamity Mr. Ball states that it has now reached the stage where shipments of brick, cement and perishables are given the preference over other consignments. In fact, the company refuses to handle any other stuff out of Los Angeles with any guarantee as to time they will be delivered.

WASHOUTS FIXED.

The washout on the branch of the Rio Grande Western which runs from Cotton to Scofield have been repaired and traffic is running again in good shape. Flash creek went out on the boom last week and washed away several hundred feet of track in front of and behind the regular mixed train. The mines at Winter Quarters and Clear Creek were closed down for a couple of days until the damage was repaired and cars were forthcoming.

SALE OF RUPEE LOTS.

From a private dispatch received from Rupert, the proposed new town on the Minidoka branch of the Oregon Short Line, $200 have been changed so far on the sale of lots which have been going on there this week. Today there is some lively bidding with prospects of more good sales tomorrow.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

S. Wodika, secretary to B. D. Fort, assistant general freight agent of the Illinois Central at Chicago, is here on a vacation trip.

ROLLER SKATING CRAZE.

Auditorium on Richards Street Will be Ready Before Long.

During the summer that is ending Salt Lake has been accused of going to an extreme in summer amusements, and it now seems that the young folks can go wild to their hearts' content on roller skating this winter.

At Saltair a notice is already posted that the dancing floor will be open as a roller skating pavilion soon after the season closes. On Richards street the building of the big pavilion is rushing if to completion to cater to the roller skating craze. At Casino park the old Utahna dance hall is now a skating rink. Today a new competitor entered the field, and the management of Wadsworth began investigating the skating proposition as a post season possibility.

S. H. Love is in charge of the plans, and expects to place an order for a large number of roller skates this week delivery to be by express.

AT THE RESORTS.

Sunday School Eldested—Excursions were run from the north and south today on the occasion of the Sunday school eldested at Saltair. One unique feature of the occasion is that the Salt Lake & Ogden road will run an excursion from Davis county points in conjunction with its rival, the Saltair road. Ten choirs will take part in the contest which begins at 7 p. m. For the $10 prize for the best chorus of 20-voice choirs from Mammoth, Kayville and Ogden will compete. They are accompanied by an army of rooters and it is anticipated that the good-natured rivalry will run high. This afternoon the children indulged in dancing and having a general good time. Owing to the fact that Prof. J. J. McClellan is working hard on rehearsals of the Salt Lake Opera company, he has begged to be excused from adjudicating the contest. The judges accordingly will be Prof. Dayne, Hugh Dougall and Anton Professor.

Wandamere—The Danish Sisterhood and the "Loyal Americans" took their annual outing at Wandamere yesterday and spent a most enjoyable day. In all there were about 1,000 people at the resort and races and other features were indulged in during the afternoon. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Johnson were declared by the judges to be the most graceful walkers on the board, and were awarded the cash prize of $15. Today the Pacific Islanders are having an outing at Wandamere, where the program that was such a feature at Lagoona recently is being to all intents and purposes duplicated.

The high priest quest of Liberty state will meet in the Second ward meetinghouse, Monday, Sept. 3. A full attendance is desired.

JOS. KEDDINGTON, WILFORD WOODRUFF, JR. J. D. H. McALLISTER, Presidency.

The regular monthly stake priesthood meeting of the Pioneer stake will be postponed from Monday evening, Labor day, to Tuesday evening, Sept. 4, at 7:30. President Nephi L. Morris will address the meeting. The priesthood of the stake is requested to note the change in date.

PREFERS TO WALK THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE.

To the Editor—I have read with much interest your optimistic article in your issue of the 24th inst., under the caption, "Trust and Falsehood." Important truths are conveyed in the sentences you so beautifully build. Falsehoods are "passing clouds." They pour out their contents and are no more. They "obscure the sun for a moment," only. They "are but of temporary effect." But, in reading this indisputable truth, it struck me that there is another equally important truth which should be kept in mind just now; and that is that it is our duty to fight falsehood and defend truth with all the means at our command, for only so can truth be vindicated. The friends of truth should be as active, and as sacrificing as are those who "love and make a lie."

I appreciate your optimistic view. I prefer, myself, to believe in and live on the sunny side of life, but to understand and comprehend the strength of a lie is a necessary adjunct in one's education. Through not realizing the power of a lie, the people of Utah have allowed the blackest kind of a lie to be gathered, which now hangs over them like a pall. To know the power of an enemy is half the battle fought. We are often led into error by not realizing the dangers about us. Many rely on truth, as a principle, because it is truth, believing it will fight its own battles without human aid. This is a great mistake.

There are many souls who live in peace and rejoice in their self content. They forget the world with its sorrows and its struggles, and put forth no names of the poor of the village and their fellow men.

We must guard against the blindness as illustrated by the story of a wealthy woman who on a cold day had been driven home in a fine carriage wrapped in richest furs and costly robes. The cold was so intense that with all her comforts, she realized that the day was cold, dark and dreary. As the lady entered her mansion she called to the coachman to come in, after luncheon, saying that they would make a level of the poor of the village and send them some coal and provisions to all those in need, during such stormy weather.

The lady dined, by a glowing fire in a bright and cheery room surrounded by every physical comfort, no wonder she forgot all those outside, eh?

After awhile the coachman came for the names to whom coal and food should be sent. The lady, with a languid air, answered, "You needn't trouble, John; it is with people who live for self. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and also of truth. A lie is as potent as the truth, especially in individual life. You speak of the lamented Wm. McKinley and ask: 'Who remembers the virtues of the traitors of that great American?' My dear sir, those traitors are at work on somebody else now. They are not dead—Wm. McKinley is dead. He lost his precious life in the prime of manhood. Today his poor wicked soul is crying moaning and dying by the lonely, lonely fireside. Those who lured Mr. McKinley are apparently happy. Several men got rich in this world's goods by painting McKinley's friend Mark Hanna as a devilish monstrosity. These artists are still rich, feted and honored wherever they go.

My ideals are those and I hold them up to my sons, were crucified, hung, pulled to pieces on the rack and burned at the stake for mental liberty and truth's sake. I am a friend to the man who is with people who live for self. He is my man whether dead or alive and he will always have my vote, my admiration. Ninety-nine times in a hundred the abused is right. Let me ask which is nearer the Master, the abused or the abuser. Dr. Jeckel or Mr. Hyde. A lie is the dearest of all happiness, to knowledge and to truth.

All wickedness springs from ignorance. This it is, that makes men sin. Wisdom doesn't allow it.

The whole world is seeking happiness and few there can find it, because they don't know how.

True happiness comes from within, not from without. It comes by soul growth—development of heart and brain.

Schools should be established to teach the principles of honesty, of brotherhood, of the Golden Rule, and the pathway shall be inscribed "How to live and act on earth."

Yours for a nobler manhood.

JOHN P. MEAKIN.

LATE LOCALS.

Bank Clearings—Today's local bank clearings amounted to $407,773.08 as against $453,811.04 for the same day last year.

School Board Meeting—The board of education will hold a special meeting tomorrow afternoon at 12:30 o'clock.

Ready Debt—Dr. Croxall has sold to Count Erimhof for $2,500, 4810 rods up Canyon road near Second street. J. M. Campbell made the deal.

Going to Provo—Gov. Cutler and State Auditor Edwards will go to Provo tonight to attend a special session of the state board of insanity. They will return tomorrow night.

Stephens' Little Singers—Stephens' little singers who have received their Saltair passes for next Friday may call for them at Clayton's music store. Tabernacle choir members will receive their next Thursday night at rehearsal.

Dr. Baldwin Home—Dr. S. C. Baldwin, the orthopedist, returned this morning from Europe, after a five months' absence from this city. The doctor has had a very pleasant trip over the continent, visiting the principal centers and giving special attention to hospital operations relating to his specialty.

Good Time for Cooper—Manager W. P. Cooper of the Pullman Directory company will leave the first of the coming week on a two weeks' visit to his former home in Baltimore, where the delights of steamed terrapin and fried oysters as large as a dinner plate await him. Cooper proposes also to extensively sample the shore diners on Chesapeake bay.

Government Jobs—There will be civil service examinations in this city, Sept. 24 next, for the position of artist in the hygienic laboratory, public health and marine hospital service, at $1,400 per annum. There will also be a civil service examination, same date, for the position of packmaster, quartermaster's department at large salary $1,540 and rations, at Fort Huachuca, Ariz. There will be also an examination for the position of engineer at $1,000 per annum. Fort McKinley, Me., at $1,200 per annum. Fort Rosecrans, California.

Property Bought $10,000—President E. T. Jeffery of the Rio Grande branch has sold to Chester F. Morey et al of Apparently the lie is the thing for worldly success. The Quakers were swept off the earth by liars. The Quakers were gentle, kind, and honest. Through a lie, the Jews have been driven and scattered to the four corners of the earth, because they were accused of the crucifixion of Christ and because Shakespeare wrote a dramatic character and placed it on a Jew and called it Shylock. And thus falsehood apparently triumphs.

I asked France for rights the awful wrong done by the Dreyfus. But if not for that faithful wife of his and his two friends, Maj. Picquart and Emilie Zola, Dreyfus would today be on Devil's island or in his grave.

Grave Cleveland had one of the worst doses of lies that has ever been handed to a man, but he lived through it. I'm glad of it.

We have a citizen in Utah who is the most abused man in America, and he is clanking. At the same time in his own state where they are thoroughly cognizant of the lie, one political party and probably two (now under consideration) expect to win success by heaping more abuse upon his already burdened shoulders. He is simply testing the rights of liberty of conscience for American manhood.

We are waiting the results of lies. It is understood in the eastern states that the word Mormon stands for a lie, a lie and a lie. This lie has been told and told until it is a power in the land, this slander is now seventy-five years old—it is not a passing cloud either. The wrong already done to Utah and her people cannot be treated in a short time.

The sad part of it is that the Utah people don't realize their position nor do they battle against the wrong and for the right.

Many people seem to think that right is the top for principle's sake, unadvised. But if a man may lose out in the hereafter, but it seldom does in the eternal now.

Error dresses in fascinating garb, and is always a welcome guest. It is a strong suggestion of an affinity between the acts of human mind, and when it once attaches itself to its object, it fights hard for the exclusion of anything else.

The work of righting a wrong after many years of journeying is no small task.

My ideals are those and I hold them up to my sons, were crucified, hung, pulled to pieces on the rack and burned at the stake for mental liberty and truth's sake. I am a friend to the man who is with people who live for self. He is my man whether dead or alive and he will always have my vote, my admiration. Ninety-nine times in a hundred the abused is right. Let me ask which is nearer the Master, the abused or the abuser. Dr. Jeckel or Mr. Hyde. A lie is the dearest of all happiness, to knowledge and to truth.

All wickedness springs from ignorance. This it is, that makes men sin. Wisdom doesn't allow it.

The whole world is seeking happiness and few there can find it, because they don't know how.

True happiness comes from within, not from without. It comes by soul growth—development of heart and brain.

Schools should be established to teach the principles of honesty, of brotherhood, of the Golden Rule, and the pathway shall be inscribed "How to live and act on earth."

Yours for a nobler manhood.

JOHN P. MEAKIN.

Denver, part of lot 5, block 44, plat A, on Fourth street, between 24th and 25th streets, for $10,000.

Mr. Morey is the head of the large mercantile company, one of the largest wholesale grocery establishments in the city. There is a local suspicion that the company may be attempting to open up a branch establishment in this city. However, inquiry at the local wholesale grocery houses fails to elicit any definite information.

To Represent Utah—Another communication has been received by Gov. Cutler asking him to appoint delegates to represent Utah at the meeting of the National Prison association to be held in St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 15 to 18. The governor some time ago wrote to the sheriffs of the various counties in the state asking them if they desired to attend the meeting but as yet he has received no favorable reply from them. Should the governor then desire to appoint them as delegates if they will advise him of their desire.

Thomson Funeral—At 6 o'clock last evening the remains of Orson F. Thomson were interred in the city cemetery, after impressive services held at the grave. The body was brought from Nampa, Idaho, where a young man died, and the condition was such as to require immediate burial. It had been desired to inter the remains, and to hold memorial services at the Waterloo meetinghouse today. Other arrangements, however, were carried out. The services were largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. The bishopric of the Waterloo ward were in charge of the cheviques. Bishop Henry F. Burton of Farmers ward, Bishop Asahel H. Woodruff of Waterloo ward, and Elders John McFarland and Joseph Woodruff were the speakers. The service was dedicated by Elder John Gabbott, and Elders F. J. Mortensen and Jos. Maynes offered the opening and closing prayers respectively. The Liberty church choir, members of the Waterloo choir furnished the music. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

Pioneer Discoverer—Hon. Spencer Clawson received a note yesterday from Dist. Atty. George H. Crook of St. Johns, Ariz., stating that one of the original July 24, 1847, pioneers, Samuel H. Marble, had been over and looked in the 1897 jubilee, and supposed to be dead. But Mr. Marble has turned up very much alive, and is anxious to secure one of the specially designed gold badges given on that occasion to each of the living original pioneers. There were 28 of these veterans reported living at the time of the jubilee, and had it been known that Mr. Marble was living, he would have made 29. Mr. Clawson has answered Mr. Crook's note of inquiry stating that on receipt of $10, the cost of the badge, would be forwarded to Mr. Marble. Mr. Clawson calls attention to the fact that Mr. Dodge of east South Temple street, came to this country at the age of 9, when her name was Rhodas, with the Donner party, in 1846. Donner was advised to remain here, but he would not, and went on to the coast. Donner's lake in California was named after him.

HE MAY HAVE TO WORK.

Geo. Washington Powell Wagers Shine Tickets on Joe Gans.

George Washington Powell, the colored bootblack, who has a stand at the entrance to the Doody block, is a great bet on the fight between "Mistah Gans" as he is called, and the little dark brown pugilist who is to run up against Battling Nelson over at Goldfield next week.

Believing that money talks he is waging everything he can dig up on the subterranean side of his gold coin (as it Gans goes down and out he shies good chance of blacking and shining shoes for the rest of his life. In other words, George Washington Powell is wagering dollar shine tickets against real money that "Mistah Gans" will get away with the fight.

To date practically every clerk in the Rio Grande freight office has taken on a dollar wage and "Wash" Powell is wearing out his brushes in the meantime.

FUTURE SOLDIERS TAKING LESSONS

Uncle Sam Teaching the Arts of War to Regulars and Guardsmen Alike.

GOOD FOR UTAH BOYS TO READ

First Military Camp Established at Mt. Gretna, Where Military Problems are Worked Out.

(Special to the "News.")

Camp Roosevelt, Mt. Gretna, Penn., Aug. 25.—Uncle Sam is making here his first experiment in teaching the arts of war to regulars and state militia together on the vast plane of actual campaigning.

Maneuver camps are nothing new, either here or abroad. But Camp Roosevelt is more than a maneuver camp. It is a camp of instruction as well. It is a gathering of federal troops and national guardsmen from various states on an equal footing to be taught problems of war, not merely to participate in an occasional day's drill with blank cartridges. In this respect it is a departure from the methods hitherto undertaken at military encampments in the United States and in foreign countries as well. It is a step far in advance of any that has ever been taken heretofore by the armies of the world.

The selection of a camp site for the department of the east was the all important question that confronted the War Department when Congress authorized this instruction camp. With much hesitation it was decided to try Mt. Gretna as an experiment, with a view to selecting a permanent camp. Pennsylvania has for several years held its annual encampments here.

Mt. Gretna is half a night's ride from New York City, headquarters of the department of the east. It is located on the Cornwall and Lebanon railroad which traverses the beautiful Lebanon valley of Pennsylvania. One stone from the camp and gets the first glimpse of the camp through the dense foliage of great white oaks and chestnut trees.

AN IDEAL BATTLE GROUND.

As far as the eye can see the beautiful great hills, one rising above the other like great terraces, are dotted with tents of khaki brown, or canvas white. Regimental flags here and there mark the headquarters of regulars and national guards alike. Far over these camp grounds, where the infantry, are the long lines of horses on a slope below the cavalry and artillery quarters. Just above these on the summit of another great terrace-like hill the signal corps and engineers are encamped, and from the top of a giant oak tree comes the chatter of the wireless telegraph, used here for the first time in the signal service.

Away above all is the highest point of the camp where Gen. Frederick Dent Grant and his staff are quartered. From his vantage point he can sweep the entire camp with field glasses.

Gen. Grant at camp headquarters gave a comprehensive statement as to the plans, scope and purposes of the camp.

"This is a camp of instruction," he said, "and is the first we have ever had that brought troops of the regular army and the state troops together to learn real warfare."

"There have been, and are now maneuver camps in this country, but they are not camps of instruction in the sense I mean. We take up the advanced drills here, going just beyond what troops in garrison are supposed to learn, and then we make a progressive drill lasting one week, each phase leading up to the next, forming what may be termed a campaign, and ending on Friday in a problem, which must be met and fought out by the opposing forces which we call the 'blues' and the 'browns.'"

"These forces are distinguished by having some of the soldiers wear their blue shirts and the others their brown blouses. The settlement of the problem at the end of the week, whether it be a sham battle five or six miles from camp, or whether it be a night attack upon the camp itself, is what may be termed a maneuver. The progressive drill during the week leading up to the problem or maneuver, covers field service regulations, involves all phases of field instruction, and is in the end what might be termed a campaign."

GRANT PRAISES MT. GRETTA.

"In many respects," continued General Grant, "Mt. Gretna is an ideal spot for an encampment on such vast plain as this has been pitched. One needs but to look at the rolling hills shaded as they are here and there by great oaks and chestnuts to see that from a topographical standpoint we have here a perfect place. The water runs off by as perfect a system of natural drainage as anybody could desire. That is, in my opinion, a great advantage."

"For all lines of instruction we are admirably located here at Mt. Gretna. The ground is fashioned by nature for a camping place in regard to the pitching of tents and fitting up the settlements generally. It is much better to be in a rolling country like this, than to be in a wide-stretching plain, or in a wild, mountainous country."

When General Grant was directed to bring out troops from the various garrisons and forts in his department, and gather them at Mt. Gretna, he marched the infantry the first 200 miles of its journey and then the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

Here was something new in the way of going from garrison to garrison, and it served to reveal the fact that the United States soldiers are so far from being falling out of line on the long marches. Many horses also gave out. Nothing could have been more beneficial than the march, and the rest of the way by train. The cavalry and artillery marched 800 miles of the journey before boarding trains for the Pennsylvania camp.

The sentiment expressed by a package of dainty chocolates is unmistakable.

Let the genuineness of esteem be portrayed by the quality of the token.

Sweet's

CARNATION CHOCOLATES

Just be sure that the above adorns the cover of the box. That's all that's necessary.

Pound and Half Pound Boxes at Drug Stores and Candy Stands

question of the cost of transportation, therefore, is a very important consideration, particularly as the appropriation by Congress is insufficient to defray all the expenses, and the states have to pay a part of the transportation of their troops over long distances. This was one consideration that led to the choice of Mt. Gretna, centrally located as it is and with ample transportation facilities.

Another reason why Mt. Gretna was adopted was because of its excellent health record. Never has there been a fever scourge at Mt. Gretna in all its history as a military camp. Camp Roosevelt has been in operation about a month and has been attended by from 3,000 to 4,000 regulars permanently and by from 6,000 to 8,000 state troops who make weekly stays there, and there has been not one case of serious illness in the hospital.

The topography of Camp Roosevelt is such that for several days of rainy weather—weather which General Grant said would make a miserable morass of many a camp—within a half hour after each rain had passed the entire camp was as dry as could be desired for drilling and other military purposes. When the tents became uncomfortable, ideal surroundings no less than good management have made our first experiment in combining the instruction of regulars and militia a big success.

COL. WEBBER HOME.

Enjoyed Pleasant Trip Down the St. Lawrence River.

Col. and Mrs. T. G. Webber have returned from a very pleasant trip down the St. Lawrence river. Mrs. Webber's health has not been good of late, and a change of altitude was found advisable. So the colonel took her east, and she reports very much improved in health. They found it interesting to see the river down the lake and into the St. Lawrence. They found every excursion steamer fairly packed with tourists and pleasure seekers, from 40 to 50 on each boat, and all of the summer resorts visited were found well patronized. Col. and Mrs. Webber visited Toronto and Montreal where they spent a few days, and then returned to their home in Chicago. They found it interesting to see the river down the lake and into the St. Lawrence. They found every excursion steamer fairly packed with tourists and pleasure seekers, from 40 to 50 on each boat, and all of the summer resorts visited were found well patronized. Col. and Mrs. Webber visited Toronto and Montreal where they spent a few days, and then returned to their home in Chicago.

PERSONALS.

Dr. Margaret C. Roberts will commence her next private class in obstetrics on Monday, Oct. 8.

Hoyt Sherman is on a business trip to the Pacific coast, and will return the first of the month.

Gen. Sam C. Park has returned from Denver, where he says general business is on the boom.

W. P. Noble has returned from Wyoming, where he reports the sheep ranges in fine condition, and a big shipment of mutton to eastern markets about to begin