no all the praise they received for the win.

It was generally believed the visitors would prove easy for the "Y" team on account of the latter's grent showing and the fact that the B. Y. C. was defented by the L. D. S. U. and the B. U. The "Y" team started out like winner, displaying speed and confidence, but the Loganites were not to be denied and not only followed the pace but soon set a fast one themselves to the utter demoralization of the local five. The cistors secured a lead early in the second and outplayed the association hows up to the finish of the game. The "P" players had an advantage of 19 to 15 at the end of the first half but after that they seemed to lose snap and ginger while the visitors improved steadily. Hofmann was played to a standstill by Allied, while Roskelly outplayed Hammond at forward. The game was will nosed by a large crowd and the work of the officials was good. CRACK SKATERS WILL RACE THIS EVENING

New York, Fub. 8.—Crack skater of Canada and the United States will be seen at St. Nicholas rins tonight in the international smatter indoor skating championships. The star of the contest, or at least the man in whom the most interest is centered in Edmund Lamy of Saramae Luke. N. Y. who has shown such remarkable speed in his recent victories at Cleveland, Pittsburg, Saramae Lake and Monireal, Lamy may be handicapped to some extent by the short turns in the rini but his followers say that he will sweep everything before him as usual. Several prominent western skaters are entered, among them A. Anderson and Harry Kaai of Chicago, and Charles T. Fisher of Miwaukee.

Lamy hast at present is having a bit of technical trouble with the racing board of the Eastern Amateur Skating association. He has falled to register, it is said and his case will be considered at a meeting of the board today, fle will be requested to return the prizes he won during the first two days of the Cleveland races, on the ground that he was improperly registered then. "Bill Suffivan is in every way qualified to be a manager, and I will work under him gladly, provided I get the salary I am naking for. Jones was a great manager—the greatest. I believe, the game ever saw, but Comiskey will have to get along without blue next season. Jones is not bluffing any more than I am. He has more than I am. He has more than I have but I am in earnest when I say I will quit the game rather than go back to work for Compsy for any less than the figure I have named. I don't like this 'holding out' business as a rule, but I really think I should be granted my demands in this case, and I intend to get through with them."

Answer of Jeffries to Offer of $125,000 For Fight. (By H. M. Walker.)

(By H. M. Walker.)

Spring street came lato its own this morning. Jim Jeffries required to town. As good natured and awkward as a cubbeat. Jeff rambled down off the steps of the Owl train, which pulled into the Arcade station at 2:30. The big fellow in alighting favored his sore right arm that is stilling giving him some trouble. He entries a little electric vibrator, which he uses to treat his arm and shoulder.

which he uses to treat his arm and shoulder.

Seeing that the writer was about to ask him a question, Jeff anticipated what was coming by yelling. "No Just keep saying no as long as anybody asks you if I'm going to fight again, and you will be on the safe side." Said Jeff.

The retired champion's attitude is perplexing to say the least. When shown the telegram from Seattle to the effect that a bank in that city guaranteed $125,000 for 29 rounds between him and Johnson, the hig boy whistled softly for a moment or so, lingled a bunch of keys in a nervous manney, and said. Tell them I will consider it.

Everybody in the party drew a long breath as this was the nearest that Jim has some to admitting that he would right again. Jeff appeared to regret that he had gone so far and did the 'recall' act as follows."

No, don't tell 'em that or they'll believe that I'm thinking of fighting again. That's an awful big offer and those Seattle people are entitled to an answer of some kind. I don't know just what to say. Let's let it rest for a couple of days."

Jim's vest hange loosely over his broad stomach. The two weeks' work in San Francisco has reduced him several pounds and he is looking better new than he has in three years.

He will remain here a week or 10 days attending to personal husiness affairs, and will then start his long the atrical tour. While in the city Jim will keep up his training stunts by working daily at the Los Angeles Athletic club.

"I had a great week in "Frisco," said Jim. "Berger sparred with me a week, and then he got tired and I had to finish up my engagement by using Kennedy."
