THE CHRISTMAS NEWS

FOR 1901.

A UTAH-COLORADO EDITION.

The Christmas edition of the "News" this year will be printed on Saturday, December 21st, 1901. It will contain an exhaustive review of the year's developments in business, mining, commerce, real estate, building, and all other branches of industry, and will form the most elaborate compilation of the resources and attractions of Utah which has ever been issued.

Our sister state, Colorado, and its industries and attractions will be well represented in the issue, many beautiful views of Denver and Colorado scenery being given. A big part of the edition will be circulated in Denver, and Colorado's principal cities.

Especially attractive articles will be prepared by a corps of selected writers, and leading men of the community will contribute timely articles on current topics.

As the holiday number will be issued several days ahead of Christmas, it will form an invaluable advertising medium to local dealers for the Christmas trade. The general advertiser could find no better means for reaching the people of the great west. The "News" will be a circulation of at least 25,000 copies for the Christmas issue.

Special rates will be accorded advertisers who wish their notices printed in the Semi-Weekly "News" as well, giving them a total circulation of nearly 45,000 copies.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Miss Mamie Jensen, of the West Jordan school, yesterday resigned her position.

Traffic on the Waterloo line was delayed last night nearly two hours on account of a car being on the track between Ninth and Tenth South.

Contractor Moran has begun laying the large new water main from the head of East Temple toward the brick tank in City Creek canyon. The work will be pushed on without interruption to completion.

Chin Yuen, a young Chinese resident of Plum Alley, has joined the Y. M. C. A. having been induced to do so by his countryman Harry Kim Fung. These two gentlemen are the only Chinese members of the association.

The funeral of the late Oscar Youngberg will be held from the late home, 212 Sixth East street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of Myrtle lodge No. 1, K. of L., of which he was a member. Interment will be in Mt. Olivet.

The funeral of the late Chris Knight was held this afternoon from A. S. Watson's undertaking parlors. The services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Simpkins, assisted by the L. O. O. F. and K. of P. lodges. The interment was in Mt. Olivet.

The grade meetings of the County Teachers' institute will be held on Saturday morning at 10:45, and the general meeting at 1 p. m. in the L. D. S. business college. Miss Pollock will address the primary division and William Bradford the principals department.

A report became current on the streets yesterday afternoon that Walter Brand, a former liquor dealer of this city but now in Butte, had lost his reason and was in a critical condition. There was a subsequent report, however, that Brand was perfectly sane and was preparing to go into business in Butte.

One applicant for the position of Indian interpreter on the Uintah reservation was subjected to a civil service examination yesterday. The position is to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry E. Harris, who has been official interpreter for about fifteen years. But Mr. Harris has withdrawn his resignation and has applied to the commissioners to reinstate him.

IMPOSING LIST OF ART PRIZES.

Utah Institute Announces Its Third Annual Exhibition.

SOME RULES DECIDED UPON.

Governing Board Has Adopted Regulations for the Display of Art Work At Social Hall, November 25th.

The following list of prizes to be awarded at the Utah Art Institute exhibition, together with the rules governing the entries, etc., will be of interest to the large number of people who will wish to display their work:

The Utah Art Institute announces its third annual exhibition of paintings, sculptures, silk fabrics, decorative work, artistic mechanism, etc., will be held at Salt Lake City, Utah, November 25, at Social Hall, State street.

The governing board has adopted the following rules for the exhibition:

Original works only will be accepted. Paintings will be placed, according to their merit, in the following order:

No. 1, the places of honor; No. 2, second choice of location; No. 3, will occupy the remaining spaces. Sculptures and other works will be subject to the same classification and location.

No works of art shall be removed before the close of the exhibition. On all works admitted the Art Institute will pay transportation to and from all points within the state, at the owner's risk.

All works of oil color, water color, or other medium must be acceptably framed.

The prizes to be awarded are as follows:

A bronze medal of honor will be given for the best work of art in the exhibition. Open to resident and non-resident artists.

The state prize, $300, will be given for the best painting by a Utah resident artist, the painting to become a part of the Utah Art Collection.

Institute prizes, open to resident artists:

Fifty dollars for the best water color, the painting with its frame, to become a part of the Utah Art Collection.

Twenty-five dollars for a perspective sketch and floor plan combining the most convenient and artistic arrangement for a city cottage, to cost about $2,000. The sketches to become the property of the Art Institute.

SARAH E. CARMICHAEL.

A Requiem for the Departed Utah Poetess.

A requiem for the dead—
The dead of many years!
Her brilliant spirit faltered, failed and fled,
To "ashes" turned and unavailing tears.

The gifted singer faded,
Her song was hushed to silence here,
Too true the strain for earthly casket, faded.

A broken lyre, those strings that thrilled our ear,
One of the grand instrumental—
Known: were but few, and they unknown.

Her genius opened wide those shining portals
Forever barred save to the touch they own.

There dwell the spirit singers,
Whose songs and music were of old,
To vibrant they came with well-trained fingers.

"Lost we forget" and perish by earth's cold,
When silent, dead or dying
"Mid chills of circumstance testing,
Thy inspiration all uncrushed is trying."

Wherever it may be, for final resting,
Among the poet singers crowned eternal!

—Henry W. Naisbitt.

Jumped on a Ten Penny Nail.
The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her shoe and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Fort Collins, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all Druggists.

SETTLEMENT OF THE P. TROUBLE

Lord Strathcona Carries to England Details of Agreement.

A SERIES OF CONFERENCES.

Action to be Taken by All the Financiers Interested in Unraveling The Railroad Tangle.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says that according to good authority the indications yesterday were that no formal announcement would be made of the settlement of the Northern Pacific trouble, but a meeting of the Northern Pacific, which is scheduled for today, the matter will be brought up formally and that the agreement which has been reached by the various interests represented by E. H. Harriman and J. J. Hill, in the recent negotiations, will be approved, and a notice adopted to be sent to the stockholders containing the terms of the settlement and what they will have to do thereunder. Similar action will, it is said, be taken at the meeting of the Burlington on Thursday in Chicago and successively by the other roads interested. In that way it is said the details of the plan will be worked out for a harmonious settlement.

According to the New York Times a series of quiet conferences has been held during the past twenty-four hours among the various representatives of the different interests which are trying to effect a settlement of the Northwestern railroad situation. The most interesting of these meetings was held at Lord Strathcona, who is closely identified with Canadian railways and with the Great Northern railroad. Lord Strathcona could not be seen, but it is understood that he is preparing the plan of settlement was submitted to him, and that when he sails for England today he will carry with him a complete copy of the agreement which is to be used for the information of the European stockholders. It is Lord Strathcona's plan to take charge of the settlement plans so far as European interests are concerned. President Meier of the Northern Pacific who has arrived in Boston, Mass., is also preparing matters for today's meeting of the board of directors.

Passenger Agents Meet.
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 12.—The twenty-first annual convention of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents met here today. One hundred and six delegates were present, and twenty applicants were admitted to membership during the meeting.

The insurance feature of the association came up for discussion soon after the meeting got down to business. It appeared that the association did not take well with the members, and only $249 was collected for the insurance fund during the year. After some discussion a motion was made to rescind all action taken in regard to the insurance feature. The motion was adopted without a dissenting voice and the subject of insurance was finally disposed of.

PROF. LAMOUREUX AMONG MISSING

Debonair Frenchman Vanishes Suddenly From Salt Lake

LEAVES MANY MOURNERS.

He is Said to Have Improved His Acquaintance with the Shining Hour Simultaneously.

There are a number of people in this city who are anxiously asking, "Where is Prof. A. Lamoureux?"

The professor has repeatedly made the assertion that he intended to get married to a mysterious lady, who he said was thirty-five years older than himself, on Saturday next. Circumstances, however, do not point to the fact that the wedding has anything to do with his mysterious disappearance from this city on Sunday last. Those who claim to have known the professor and his "touching" ways assert that there are dozens of people in this city who would like to have the chance of setting eyes upon the missing man.

He has gone and has left many to mourn his disappearance.

Since the day that the dapper Frenchman with the charming accent and the "galette de coeur" deportment came to Salt Lake some two months ago, he has improved his acquaintance with the shining hour, simultaneously. Now all classes mourn his loss, including his French class, who might imitate that jaunty shrug of the shoulders and repeat with Prof. Lamoureux: "N'est-ce pas, d'ore ou d'ailleurs?"

Society leaders, waiters, landlords, storekeepers and numerous young people who paid for the privilege of cultivating a Parisian accent in addition to all anxious for the wanderer to return.

Some two months ago the Frenchman came to town and set to work to open a school for the study of the French language. He engaged rooms in the Templeton building and then gave a society reception in order to give the project a good sendoff. In addition he instituted a diplomatic campaign upon the ranks of Salt Lake society with the result that he secured the written and verbal endorsement of several prominent residents and was patronized by a number of wellknown people here.

In addition to this he secured, so it is said, a number of tuition fees in advance. None escaped. His State street landlady mourns the loss of an unpaid bill of some thirty dollars. A Second South street resident also has chalked up against him. A waiter in the same institution also came near mourning the loss of $25 advanced during several interviews with the fascinating Frenchman, and is said to have only recovered the money upon presenting the alternative of paying up, or else submitting to brutal measures. Several merchants also have his name in their books, while when it comes to the number of private individuals who have parted with small sums under the influence of the benign smile of the alien, their name is said to be legion.

The professor claims to have been at one time a minister in Franklin, La., but it is not thought that he has returned to the Southern States.
