

UTAH RIFLEMEN OFF FOR SHOOT

Fifteen Chosen Marksmen and Team Officers Leave for Camp Perry, Ohio.

TO ENTER NATIONAL MATCHES

Competition is Between Best Men Selected from Army, Navy, West Point,
Annapolis and National Guards.

Utah's team of 15 chosen marksmen from the National Guard left today over the Los Angeles Limited for Camp Perry, Ohio. Upon arrival there they will go into the national rifle competition, shooting against the best marksmen in the army, navy, West Point, Annapolis and national guard organizations of the various states. This year will be Utah's first experience in a national shoot, but for all that the state is hopeful of making a good showing in the final classification, if not in one of the leading places. The national match is held under the auspices of the National Rifle association and the board for the promotion of rifle practice appointed by act of Congress. One-fourth of the money appropriated by Congress and appropriated to the several states under the Dick bill, must be used for the promotion of rifle practice, and attendance at the national match is encouraged and practically demanded by the war department to this end.

If the Utah team does not cut a large figure this year it will gain a world of experience, and come home with a strong desire that it should win a place next year. The following members of the Guard compose the team: Brig.-Gen. E. A. Wedgwood, captain; Col. Charles G. Plummer, captain; Maj. W. E. Williams, captain; company P. Kanerman, adjutant and quartermaster; First Lieut. W. E. Kneass, range officer on assignment of the war department.

OLD MAN HANGS HIMSELF

C. J. Christensen Grows Despondent
Because of Failing Health and Ends Life With a Rope.

At 6:30 o'clock last evening the lifeless body of C. J. Christensen, aged 52 years, was found dangling at the end of a rope in a room at Anderson's roominghouse, 66 Commercial street. The man committed suicide because of prolonged illness. The body was discovered by a woman who takes care of the rooms. She notified Police Harry Curran and he summoned Sgt. Henry Johnston and Officer Sgt. G. L. Buchanan. They found the body down and it was removed to O'Donnell's undertaking establishment.

drafts on various banks in this city, was arranged this morning on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. The long complaint was listened to intently by young Quick and when asked to plead stated he was not ready, but would be ready tomorrow morning. The case was continued until that time for pleading, and in default of $500 bail he was committed to Sheriff Emery at the county jail. When he left police headquarters in charge of Deputy Sheriff Butler and Deputy Sheriff Steele, he was securely handcuffed to Caleb Levy, a notorious crook. The latter was arraigned in the charge of grand larceny, the theft of jewelry and clothing from L. Weber and J. Bergmann. He pleaded guilty to the charge, after conversing with Judge Diehl in German, and was ordered held to await the action of the district court. He was unable to furnish bonds in the sum of $500 and was committed to the county jail.

DANA TAKES REST CURE.

Heavy Grind of Justice Mill Sends Him to Lonely Island.

Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith has gone to Island Park, Ida., for a few days' rest and recreation. Justice Smith has been swamped with state cases during the past three months and feels in need of rest. In all probability, Judge C. B. Diehl and Asst. City Atty. E. A. Rogers and Mrs. Rogers will leave tomorrow night for the same point for a few days' hunting and fishing. Mrs. Diehl and Mrs. Smith are now at the camp and are enjoying themselves greatly. Judge J. J. Whitaker will occupy the bench in the criminal division of the city court during the absence of Judge Diehl and Asst. City Atty. P. J. Daly will act as city prosecutor while Mr. Rogers is away.

LOOKING FOR DE VERE.

This morning Asst. City Atty. Rogers issued a complaint against a man named James De Vere, charging him with petit larceny. It is alleged that De Vere stole $17 from the cash register in a pool room run by John Anton, 70 Commercial street, last night. According to the police, De Vere, with several others, was playing pool in the place last night, and when closing up time came, De Vere concealed himself until the place was locked up. He then went to the cash register, extracted the contents, $17, and made off with it. He was seen leaving the place, and the proprietor early this morning swore to a complaint against the fellow. A warrant was issued, and the police are now trying to find the man.

HOT WORDS OVER CHILL.

Robert Walker and William Lessen
Mix Things and End in Jail.

Because Robert Walker implied in rather bad language that William Lessen could not make Chili Con-Carne, the pair engaged in a fight on the public streets last night and both were arrested and thrown in jail. Lessen, whose head had the appearance of having been fractured in about seven different places at some time in the remote past, explained the situation to Judge Diehl this morning.

"We didn't do each other any particular harm," said he. "Walker said I could not make Chili, and when I claimed that I was good, he called me a liar and we mixed it."

The pair were fined $5 each for fighting.

Charles Johnson, who got drunk last night and proceeded to destroy some property at his home, pleaded hard for mercy this morning.

"If you will excuse me this time I promise never to do it again," he said to Judge Diehl. The court was inclined to say, however, and fined the man $5. The same dose was handed out to a man named Joseph Smith, who got drunk last night and frightened a couple of girls.

William Bell, convicted yesterday morning of unlawfully taking a pair of shoes from Mullett's clothing store, was discharged without any penalty being imposed. Asst. City Atty. Rogers stated that the man had an excellent reputation and that perhaps a mistake had been made somewhere, and he moved that the court be discharged. Judge Diehl adopted the recommendation and Bell was permitted to go on his way rejoicing.

Ben Jarrett, colored, who, with another colored man, broke into the Rowe & Kelly clothing store a few nights ago, was given a hearing this morning on the charge of burglary in the second degree. At the conclusion of the testimony it was ordered held to await the action of the district court.

E. S. Rolph, charged with attempting to pass a bogus check on the proprietor of the Louvre cafe, pleaded not guilty and the case was set for Sept. 8.

RUNNING IADHO FALLS LINE.

Joseph Empey, a mining man of Idaho, is authority for the statement that the Chicago & Northwestern is surveying through the Caribou country in a straight line towards Idaho Falls. The C. & N. W. now has a line through Casper, Wyo., to a point considerably west, and is building still further west toward the Wyoming-Idaho line. The Caribou country is a mining country and is situated between the state line and Soda Springs. A surveying party of nine men has been in this territory for some time. Mr. Empey, who was in the district on mining business, it was admitted that they were running a line for the Northwestern.

DIEHL FINDS THE MEN GUILTY

Tell Queer Stories of Going to the "Joint" to Meet Friends—Face
Sentence Tomorrow.

Acting Sergt. Emil Johnson and Patrolmen Olson, Betz and Doty made a raid at 4 o'clock this morning on a Chinese opium den at No. 8 Plum alley, run by a Mongolian named G. How. They arrested the proprietor and five inmates, two of the latter being women. The raid was not without its sensational features and the officers, especially Acting Sergt. Johnson, had a most strenuous time before they finally landed the six prisoners behind the bars in the city jail.

For some time the officers had been watching the place. They knew that How was selling opium but they were unable to get the necessary proof. Early this morning Johnson gathered up Olson, Betz and Doty and decided to watch the place for a few hours and at the proper time make a raid. The officer saw two women and two men sneak quietly up the stairway and after waiting until a few minutes before 4 o'clock, Olson was stationed at the front door while Betz and Doty were placed in other positions near the entrance to the den.

CLIMBED A LADDER.

Officer Johnson went to the rear of the building and, by the use of a ladder, climbed to a small window on the second floor. He could hear the Mongolian muttering in the room and the pungent smell of opium was wafted through the window where Johnson was stationed. He could hear the deep breathing of those who had been practically overcome by the drug and although he was unable then to communicate with his fellow officers, decided upon a bold stroke. Noiselessly pushing open the small window he crawled half way through the opening, but as Johnson is not built exactly on the lightweight plan, his body stuck fast in the opening.

He could get neither in or out! The opium-soaked Chinaman saw the officer and gave the alarm. The inmates of the den were immediately aroused and tried to escape. Despite the fact that Johnson was in peril he calmly told those in the room to remain where they were, informing them that the place was surrounded by policemen and there was no chance of escape. He then called to Olson, who was by that time at the door. Olson and Betz tried to break down the door and Olson in the room while Betz guarded the door. Johnson was finally pushed and hauled through the opening into the room.

LAYOUT STILL HOT.

The officers found in the room four opium outfits all lighted. The bowls were hot from recently lighted pills and the room filled with the smoke. The inmates were half dazed from the use of the drug and Ho, the Mongolian, had just finished rolling two fresh pills. The two women were lying on the dirty bunks while the men, with coils of pipe, were sitting on bunks at the room. The patrol wagon was called and the prisoners were loaded in and hauled to police headquarters where the Chinaman was booked for keeping an opium den and the others were resorting to and helping to maintain the joint. The outfits were confiscated by the police.

This morning the cases were called before Judge C. B. Diehl. Atty. Newton represented the Chinaman and the two women and took until tomorrow morning to plead.

Donnelly, Murphy and Morrison pleaded not guilty and their trial was proceeded with.

Officers Johnson and Betz took the stand and testified that when they entered the room the three men were lying on bunks, with their coats off and lighted opium pipes beside them. The three defendants swore positively they were not smoking opium and declared they all went there to "meet a friend." Murphy's testimony was rather amusing.

SAW A "BULL."

"I went there with Donnelly to meet his friend," said he. "I did not know the place and fell down on the stairs several times. I took my coat off because it was so hot. I guess I was there about 15 minutes when I happened to glance toward a little hole in the wall and there was a 'bull' (officer Johnson). The two girls were smoking but I was not smoking; I was sick."

Officer Betz also contributed a rare bit of humor. Asked a state who were in the room, he replied:

"Well, besides these three fellows, there were the Chink and two more ladies."

Each of the three men took the stand and told stories about going into the hop joint to meet friends. All admitted they had their coats off but denied smoking the opium. According to the statement of the officers and the appearance of the defendants, they are all "hop heads."

After hearing all the evidence, Judge Diehl found the men guilty as charged and fixed the time for sentence for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. How is under $50 bail and the two women under bonds of $25 each. They furnished the money and were released, but Donnelly, Murphy and Morrison were unable to give bail and were remanded to jail until tomorrow morning, when they will learn what it costs to be a "hop head" and visit a "chink" opium joint.

"HAD VERY BAD COLD"

Local Immigration Official Returns
From New York and Leaves
For San Francisco.

J. McCabe, local immigration official, is home from New York, where he went to deport a pair of undesirable citizens, Jennie Verdier, a French girl imported into this country, and Theo. Revon, a man wanted in Germany to answer to charges of the theft of 16,000 francs. McCabe is going to establish a record for long distance traveling this week. He left for New York, Aug. 1, visiting Boston and other eastern cities, arriving home last night. He leaves tonight for San Francisco and Portland on official business, thus going from the center of the continent to the eastern edge and away over the western edge and northwestern corner with hardly a stop.

Mr. McCabe caught hayfever on the eastern trip and for that reason describes his travels in the following style: "I had a lousy time. It was hot in the east, lousy hot. I visited Boston and Chicago where I met Boddon and Chitudo where I met Longley, Inspector here. He was on his way out, too. 'Boudie I go to San Francisco on business. Goodbye, I had a cold in my head.' Which no one who hears the victim will deny."

KILLED WHILE HAYING.

Frank Edmans of Farmington Victim
Of Distressing Accident.

Frank Edmans of Farmington was killed while haying yesterday on his farm in Farmington. The accident which cost him his life occurred while he was moving a hay derrick. In some unaccountable manner the upright gave away, causing the hay pole to fall. In doing so, it struck Mr. Edmans upon the head, rendering him unconscious. Doctors Dixon and Whitlock were called to attend the unfortunate man, but the condition in which they found their patient assured them of little success when they arrived. His skull was badly crushed by the weight of the falling pole. He died at 7 p. m., three hours after the accident, and after every effort had been made to save him. Mrs. Edmans and one child survive him. Mr. and Mrs. Edmans had been married only three years and both moved in a wide circle of friends in Davis county.
