

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Salt Lake City.—President Angell of the University of Michigan delivered an address before a crowded audience of students and faculty in the assembly room of the museum building yesterday at 11 o'clock. He said "The true object of study and discipline in a college is to acquire proper mental habits. Students do not give respect to studies suited to their tastes. Many attach an undue importance to brilliancy and understate the importance of character. There never was a more sinful maxim than the saying, 'You must fight the devil with his own fire.' President Angell paid a high compliment to Mr. Joseph Macdock, who is to coach the 'Varsity football team next year. Mr. Macdock will take his degree at Michigan in June. President Angell spoke well of the Utah students at Michigan this year. He is the first university president that has ever addressed the students of this institution. At the beginning of the meeting, the University Glee club sang 'Peter Piper' and 'Grand Old Ocean.' President Angell was brought from the Knutsford hotel to the University in a carriage by President Kingsbury. After the address, he was given a banquet by the domestic science department.

Miss Nellie Goss will deliver the valedictory address for the college graduates this year. Miss Goss will take her A. B. in June. The normal valedictorian is Mr. Fredrick Daniel Worlton. These students were chosen by the faculty last Monday, upon the recommendation of Professors Merrill, Marshall and Stewart. Mr. Worlton is a resident of Lehi, and is an exceptionally good speaker. He won the M. I. oratorical contest in the Alpine state the last two successive years.

Yesterday Prof. Stewart went to Mahad, Ida, where he is conducting a teachers' institute today. Next Friday evening he will deliver a public lecture at Ephraim, and on Saturday he will address the Sanpete county teachers at that place.

Mr. Welch, formerly head of the Chicago normal school, was shown through the training school by Prof. Stewart on Thursday.

Last Sunday night Prof. Bennion delivered an illustrated lecture on "Ceylon" before the Unity club.

Prof. Clark of the University of Michigan was the speaker at the chapel exercises on Wednesday. His theme was "Responsibility." This he treated from the following topics: Responsibility to college, political and municipal responsibility, and responsibility to the home and to self. The musical feature of the program was "The Student's Song," rendered by the University Glee club.

Next Wednesday the chapel address will be delivered by Mr. Joseph Cannon. His subject will be "Russia." Mr. Cannon is an alumnus of the university. He took his A. B. in 1899.

The interest on the Heber J. Grant scholarship for this year will amount to $20. Profs. Toronto and Talmage, the college committee, will select some worthy college student to whom the money will be given. The university alumnus scholarship for this year will be about $25 or $30, and will be awarded to a normal student who will be decided upon by Profs. Stewart, Toronto and Roylance.

President Kingsbury has appointed Prof. Bennion, Principal McKnight and Miss May to arrange for the faculty reception to the graduates during commencement week.

Nearly all the first year prep and normal students attended Professor Clark's recital of Julius Caesar at the Assembly Hall yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Parson's students in physics have completed their class work in heat and will begin on electricity next week.

On the night of April 1 the University glee club will give a concert and dance in the museum building. They will be assisted by some of the leading soloists of the city.

Attorney Frank Pierce of the board of regents, delivered the first of his lectures on Mining Law, before the Varsity engineers Tuesday afternoon. He dealt chiefly with the locating of mining claims.

Last night Prof. Marshall addressed the alumni association of the Springville district schools. Next week he goes to Emery county, where he will deliver two public lectures, one at Castle Dale and one at Grangeville.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

The Clark lectures have necessitated the canceling of meetings which ordinarily would have been held by the different departments last week.

The one meeting of the week was held by Superintendent Christensen at the Bryant east side high school Thursday afternoon.

Miss Quailtrough read a paper, which showed careful thought and broad experience on the part of the reader, on "The Recitation." Principals and eighth grade teachers were present. At the conclusion of the reading, Superintendent Christensen suggested that the following points be given due consideration: The student should understand in part the aim of the lesson to be prepared, in order to make it possible for him to concentrate his efforts in research, and to banish irrelevant matter; each teacher should have a daily program, which should be observed strictly; in grammar work, the successful recitation has both written and oral work; the teacher should not fail to discriminate between time of rest and time of work—each should be held separate of the other; the fundamental principles will be considered the prerequisites for graduation from the eighth grade.

At a later date, announcements will be made concerning class drills, which are to be given before this same class of teachers.

Mr. Parratt has an excellent display of sloyd work in his workshop at the Bryant. The boys have exhibited considerable genius and individuality in their work.

The east side high school has the following officers in its cadet corps: Fred Bassett, second lieutenant; Russell Cordell, Russell Sands, Ethelbert Shores, Jack Miller and William Home, sergeants; Joseph Samuels, Lester Moreton, Marshall Bredren, John Clawson, and George Critchlow, corporals.

Principal Martin was in attendance at the county institute of the Carbon County Teachers' association last Saturday, and Principal Dexey met with the Sanpete county teachers today.

Superintendent Christensen was a visitor at the west side high school last Thursday.

Mr. Newman of the board of education held no singing classes today.

Rev. Goshen addressed the high school on "The Strength of Youth" last Wednesday morning. Miss Pinkerton, a prominent vocalist of this place, rendered "The Core Dancers" and "The Lay of the Jay."

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The women's clubs of Logan are making preparations to entertain the state federation which meets here next October. Mrs. Ostlen called a meeting of the local committee on Thursday to discuss plans of entertaining the delegates and their friends.

President Kerr went to Salt Lake last Thursday on business connected with the college.

Manager Igleheart of the Herald, and Mr. Lovey, the clever cartoonist, visited the college today and will lecture in the assembly hall tonight.

Arrangements are being made for the second annual session of the summer school to begin at the college the week after commencement.

The battalion of cadets will have a five days' encampment early in May. The encampment will be under the same conditions that govern with the regular army. Attention will be given to guard and outpost duty, attack and defense of camps, and other matters that pertain to army life. The band and signal detachment will accompany the cadets. Capt. Styer says a profitable and pleasant time is assured.

The event of the week in Logan was "As You Like It," which was put on by the Student Life staff with an entire student cast. The entire performance was good and showed excellent direction and training and zealous work on the part of those participating; in fact, the work would pass as that of professionals instead of amateurs. The Thatcher Opera house was packed to the doors on Monday night and filled

H. G. COULTER,

Ogden Boy Who Won in West Point Examinations.

Halvor G. Coulter, the successful contestant in the recent state examinations for the United States military academy at West Point, is the son of Dr. Chester E. and Mrs. Mary G. Coulter, of Ogden. He was born at Christened, St. Croix, Danish West Indies, April 17, 1887. He has resided in Utah continuously since 1889, being at present a student in the Ogden high school from which he will graduate this June. Mr. Coulter's success in the preliminary examinations, in view of his youth and attendant circumstances, is a highly creditable one. The final tests occur at Fort Logan, Colorado, on May 1, and are of a very difficult and exacting nature. Mr. Coulter will report at Fort Logan on that date and will make a good showing for the boys of Utah.

again for a second performance on Wednesday night. The dance and drill of the cheerleaders in their natty white costumes were exceptionally taking and were applauded without stint.

All offices in the commercial department changed hands this week.

The inter-school track meet will occur on April 16. The different schools of the college will contest for a cup to be given by Dunbar, Robinson & Co., the clothiers. Prof. Campbell is developing a lot of good material for the state meet.

Misses Lowe and Merrill served an elegant six course dinner to their classmates, the girls of this year's graduating class, in manual training, on Thursday in the college dining room. The tables were beautifully decorated with the class colors, pink and yellow. On Friday Misses Powell and Rudolph entertained their classmates in the sophomore class in a similar manner.

Profs. Merrill and Hutt completed their institute tour in the southern part of the state, this week. Prof. Merrill visited several of the arid farms on his return trip.

The station has received 150 varieties of melon seeds, the most complete collection in the country, from the department of agriculture at Washington. This is another of the co-operative experiments of the department and station and is for the purpose of determining the value of various varieties in the western section.

The station has also been selected by the United States government as the best seed testing station for this entire region. The attempt will be made to develop a variety especially suited to our conditions.

The preliminary report of the reclamation of alkali lands has just been published by the United States. A reprint will be made of this by the station for the use of Utah farmers.

The fourteenth annual report of the experiment station is prepared and in the hands of the printer.

Notices are being sent to various members of the faculty for contributions to the Farmers' Institute annual. Director Widtsoe proposes to make this one more interesting and profitable than any previous issue.

Messames L. R. Martineau, Fleming, Seth Langton, Keeler, Willard Langton, G. W. Thatcher and Shepard were entertained at luncheon last Wednesday by Mrs. Ostlen, at the domestic science dining room.

Prof. Campbell presented very pointedly at chapel Wednesday the desirability of a liberal education as a basis for technical or special training.

The commercial courses are being thoroughly revised by Prof. Bexell so that they may conform to the courses of the best higher commercial schools of the United States and Europe.

Mrs. Robinson entertained 24 of her young girl friends at a masquerade party last Saturday evening. All had an enjoyable time except Mayor Robinson who was banished as not a man was allowed on the lot.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

Salt Lake City.—The Clark lectures this week, have been patronized by most of our teachers and by quite a number of the students.

There are fewer of the bookkeeping students leaving this year, before the close of school, than ever before. Leon Kuhre was called home this week on account of the death of his sister.

The evening missionary class completed the season's work on Wednesday last. Nearly all the young men will leave for mission in April and May. The last session was conducted as a testimony meeting, and 22 members participated. At the close, student Joseph A. Everett, on behalf of the class, expressed the appreciation of the members for the faithful labors of their instructor, and also presented to him a token of their esteem.

Junius Metcalf has finished his work in the L. D. S. business college practice department, thereby finishing the bookkeeping work. He has gone to his home with a letter of recommendation as a good, reliable young man, worthy of trust, and capable of doing good office work for any house.

The offices in the business practice have been reinforced by five more students. There are now 15 students in the office and all are kept busy. The banking room is full of workers.

At the devotional exercises on Thursday, Mr. Leo Foster and Miss Olea Shipps sang the sacred duet, "Unanswered Yet," and then rendered a duet from the last scenes of "Il Trovatore." The selections were beautiful and were much appreciated.

The students' general meeting on Wednesday was a very interesting session. The newly elected officers conducted the meeting. Remarks were made by ex-president Joseph Mills, by the new president, David O. Harris, and by student C. H. Sprague, who related his experience as a soldier in the Philippines. Fine solos were rendered by Miss Cathleen Fitzpatrick and Miss Josephine Spillaberry. Prof. Mills gave an interesting talk on school athletics.

A real treat to our students are the Clark lectures and dramatic recitals. By purchasing combination tickets, each of our students have been able to hear several of these magnificent readings and interpretations at a merely nominal cost. Tickets for $2 was the rate to students! But the best move of all was the securing of Julius Caesar for our school at the rate of only 10 cents per ticket.

Mrs. Dehlin's cooking class surprised the teachers and students on Thursday with a lunch in honor of Ireland's patron saint. With the exception of the patties the menu consisted of original dishes evolved and prepared in the kitchen. Special credit is due Miss Jean Frame, a member of the class who has charge of the kitchen this week. Following was the menu: Jellied meat, vegetable salad, green pea patties, and pistachio nut cake. Also the dishes were colored with a hue or a line of green. The frosting of the cake was a delicate tint. The salad was colored green, and the design was a star made from a cucumber.

On Friday morning the president took occasion to compliment the committees who had been in charge of the last two matinees in the gymnasium. The first was held two weeks since, under the auspices of the commercial class girls; the second one week ago under the auspices of the third and fourth year students. Both were affairs of high order and good taste. The perfect order and the good management reflected great credit on the respective committees in charge, and a public compliment in relation to these refined and enjoyable affairs, was clearly due, the president stated, to the committees whose care and zeal had accomplished results so praiseworthy. Yesterday, owing to the Clark lecture, the matinee did not begin till 2:30. It was enlivened by a game of basketball between the juniors and a pickup nine.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY.

Provo.—President Brigham lectured last Friday before an enthusiastic meeting of the Commercial school class. His address was on "Ambition and Inspiration."

Instructor Colton left Thursday for a week's sojourn in the Beaver branch, where he will drill the athletes of that school for some track events which they have in view.

Miss Emma Woodhouse, who was called home recently, is back again in her classes, after 10 days of pleasant visiting with her relatives in Idaho Falls.

On Saturday, March 26, arrangements are made for the annual interschool contests to take place on the new campus. The victors will have the honor of inscribing their names on the B. Y. U. athletic trophy, a silver cup.

Prof. J. C. Swenson visited the Beaver branch Friday and Saturday a week ago, and lectured before the teachers and students of that institution. He expressed himself as being very much pleased with his reception, and with the evidences of growth and development he saw there.

For six months a collection of photos of distinguished alumni has been going on, and last evening the committee appointed to publish them decided upon a souvenir album of photos and views relating to the university, as being the best form. Letters were addressed to various publishing houses asking for bids on the work.

During the last two months the university has been running on a time schedule one half hour later than standard time, owing to the fact the classes beginning at 7:45 often found the rooms dark when the weather happened to be cloudy and misty. The season having advanced sufficiently to obviate this difficulty, the old schedule was resumed last Monday morning.

We have had a number of letters and recitals this year, for which we have paid good round sums, but none that gave more general satisfaction than did Miss Babcock's program before the Literary society last Saturday evening. President Brigham took occasion at the close to mention the fact, and to thank our talented friend for her courtesy. For 12 years Miss Babcock has given recitals annually in
