IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and pleasantest to travel.

We take pleasure in stating, that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

The Depot in Chicago is centrally located, and as their trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh & Wayne & Chicago, Kankakee Line and Pan Handle Routes, for all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.

If you are going to Chicago, or East, you should, by all means, purchase your tickets by the Old Pioneer Route—

The Chicago and North-Western.

You will find on all through trains Pullman Sleepers, new and magnificent Day Coaches, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars now on any road in the United States.

Particular information, with maps, time tables, etc., may be had at any of the Through Ticket Offices in the West, or upon personal application to J. W. Irons, Ticket Agent, Salt Lake City, A. H. Earl, Ticket Agent at Ogden, or to J. H. Mountain, Western Traveling Agent, Omaha, Neb., or to W. H. Stennett, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill. d54

A London shop-seller lately drew public attention to his stock, describing the cloth he made as "being, so to speak, fitted by anticipation."

CHAMBER'S ENCYCLOPEDIA.—Messrs. J. B. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia, announce that, by recent purchase, they have become the sole proprietors of the American Revised Edition of "Chamber's Encyclopedia," and are thereby enabled to offer the work at much lower rates than hitherto.

In the course of its recent thorough revision, the American edition was edited with the special view of supplying the wants of American readers. It also possesses a special attraction in containing a series of over seventy-five full-page engravings not contained in any other edition. d50

MESSRS. DAY & CO. have the largest stock of Hardware in the city, and sell the cheapest. That is the place to purchase. Co-op. Orders received at the free value. d21

THE EVENING NEWS.

Friday, Feb. 5, 1875.

Local and Other Matters.

THERMOMETER 44 degrees F in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Some clouds.

Valentines.—Business in the post office is rather heavy just now, owing to the near approach of St. Valentine's Day.

Fast and Festival.—Lent will begin on the 10th of this month of February, Easter is on March 28, and Whitsuntide on the 18th of May.

A Squabble.—P. Miller, colored, had a difficulty with Mrs. Campbell, of the same hue, and as it appeared in the police court to-day, that he was the aggressive party, Justice Pyper fined him $5, which he paid.

Beautiful.—We are certainly being blessed in this region with most lovely and pleasant weather. The sharpness of the last week is tapering off, and the weather in the day-time is becoming more spring-like.

Hook and Ladder Company.—There will be a meeting of this Company on Saturday, at half-past seven p.m., at Fireman's Hall. A full attendance is desired, as important business is to be transacted.

By order of the Foreman.

Convicted and Sentenced.—The jury in the case of the People, &c., vs. Richard Lowry, indicted for embezzlement, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of guilty, and the Court sentenced the prisoner to two months imprisonment in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $20. At the solicitation of the public prosecutor the fine was subsequently remitted by the Court.

A verdict of "guilty as charged," was also returned in the case of the People vs. Lewis H. Washburn, indicted for embezzlement. He was sentenced by the Court to six months imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $50.

Runaways.—To-day a lady, riding in a buggy drawn by a white horse, lost control of the animal, which ran off at rapid speed, turning the corner of the Eagle Emporium, going westward and then south, past the Townsend House. We did not learn whether the lady was hurt, or any other damage was done before the runaway was stopped.

About one o'clock a span of horses, with light wagon attached, nobody in it, came rushing up East Temple Street, never stopping till they reached the bench north of the city, when somebody caught them and drove them back into town.

Theatre.—The tragic love-play of "Romeo" and "Juliet," with Miss K. Rogers in her beautiful impersonation of the loving "Juliet," and Miss J. C. Walters as the equally love-stricken "Romeo," was performed last evening in superior style. The company supported creditably, and the audience applauded vigorously, and called the two ladies named before the curtain. The entertainment was a marked success.

This evening, Miss Rogers will take her farewell benefit, when Shakespeare's charming pastoral comedy of "As You Like It" will be presented, with new and appropriate scenery, properties, and stage mountings, also the original vocal and instrumental music specially procured from California for the occasion.

Miss Rogers appears as "Rosaland," Miss Cogswell as "Celia," Miss D. Clawson as "Phoebe," Mrs. Douglas as "Audrey," Mr. Lindsay as "Jaques," Mr. Madden as "Orlando," Mr. Foster as "Oliver," Mr. Graham as "Touchstone," Mr. Wilton as "Le Beau," and "Sylvius," Mr. Hardie as the "Duke."

The play is laid in the forest of Arden, Warwickshire, England, of which the town of Henley-in-Arden stands in the centre.

There are in this country three London actresses, much of the same high class, though of course each having her specialties. These are Miss Rogers, Miss Neilson, and Mrs. Rousby. They are all liberally blessed with beauty, ladylike in appearance, charming in manner, and of most winsome ways on the stage. They all stand high in the popular estimation in the parts which they have made in a large degree their own, and in which they have few peers and fewer if any superior. Miss Rogers we have with us, and this evening she appears in one of her best characters, the fair and charming "Rosaland." Everybody will wish to see it.

To-morrow, last grand Rogers matinee.

District Court To-day.—This morning the Court overruled the plea of abatement in the case of the People vs. Thomas E. Ricks, indicted for murder. There was some disappointment among the members of the bar at the decision being merely oral, and not in writing, there being some anxiety among gentlemen of the legal profession to obtain a copy of the ruling of the Court, owing to the many important points presented in the plea of abatement and the able arguments of counsel for the defendant upon it.

Col. Ricks was arraigned and pleaded not guilty, and the case was set down for trial on the 23rd day of February.

The case of Charles L. Williamson and John Smith was called, and a jury empaneled to try it, Judge Carey presiding, and Burmeister and Tooby defending.

To facilitate business, the jury were asked in bulk whether any of them knew anything of the case before the court, and were similarly accepted, so far as challenges for cause were concerned.

Mr. Tooby, for the defence, keenly scanned the faces of the twelve jurors, and, after drawing conclusions from their varied physiological indications, would say, "Mr. Clerk, what is that old gentleman's name in the corner? We'll excuse him," or, "That gentleman, the second from the window; we'll excuse him," and so on, till the six peremptory challenges were exhausted.

The district attorney briefly stated to the jury the nature of the case, saying that the prisoners at bar were charged with larceny, that the prosecution expected to prove that they stole from the person of a dead man, named Simpson, some promissory notes belonging to the administrators of the estate of the deceased, and that they endeavored afterwards to dispose of the notes through a man whom they employed for that purpose, with a view to personally appropriate the proceeds.

In behalf of the accused, Mr. Tooby stated that the defense expected to bring to light the fact that that individual was still in the land of the living.

Mr. Blansett, the first witness who was examined, showed manifest hesitancy in giving his evidence. He and Mr. Udy found the dead body in Summit County, Utah, and himself, Udy, Smith and Williamson removed it from where found, the following day. He was shown a promissory note, purporting to belong to Thomas Simpson, but did not recollect having seen it before.

Mr. Udy, the next witness, testified to having found and removed the body, to having seen the note before alluded to taken from a leather wallet, which was in the pants pocket of the dead man, and to having seen it in possession of Williamson. He also testified to some horses belonging to the wagon found with the dead man being afterwards in possession of Williamson. The examination of this witness was in progress when our reporter left the court.

International Exhibition.—The United States Centennial Commission are making active preparations for the great international exhibition, and it is expected that every State and Territory in the Union will be fittingly represented thereat. Now is the time for the securing of space for articles by anticipatory exhibitors. As yet but few if any steps of importance have been taken to secure for Utah a representation commensurate with her merits as a rich and growing part of the country. If the matter has to depend on merely individual instead of organized effort, it is probable that Utah will be comparatively poorly represented. Had it not been for the characteristic infinitesimalism and generally pinched up liberalism of the now officially defunct Governor Geo. L. Woods, whose most distinguishing characteristics were his extreme parsimony and a powerful tendency to hyperbolicism, there might have been an adequate representation for Utah at the approaching centennial exhibition. But ex-Governor Woods delighted in a display of his authority, which he frequently showed by a liberal use of the pardoning and a still freer exercise of the veto power.

The Legislature, with a view to having Utah represented at the international exhibition, passed a bill authorizing the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society to take charge of this matter for the Territory, and made an appropriation to cover the expenses, but the bill shared the same fate as many others, being vetoed by Governor Woods.

The Governor.—Governor Axtell, the newly appointed chief magistrate of the Territory, honored us with a call this afternoon. As has been previously stated, his Excellency has taken rooms at the Townsend House. He informed us that, to-day, a certificate of election had been issued to Hon. Geo. Q. Cannon, delegate elect from Utah to the next Congress.

From Tooele.—Mayor Andrew Gallo-way, of Tooele, called upon us to-day. The people of that city are rather anxious that the Utah Western railroad should pass that way, and have consequently offered to the company the right of way through the town and sufficient ground for depot purposes.

Juice of the Grape.—From Andrew Hinch, of Tooele, we have received a sample of the pure undiluted juice of the grape, which is exceedingly pleasant and palatable.

The article was manufactured by himself.

The British Mission.—The following is from the Millennial Star:

"Nottingham, Dec. 26.—Since I wrote to you on the 27th ult., I have visited and preached in more than half of the Salms in this Conference and to many strangers. In the village of Brixworth, in Northamptonshire, there is a family of Saints named Littlelike, who have been twice visited by Elder Squires. Learning that there was an opening to get an audience of strangers, I sent notice some time in advance that I would hold meeting at brother Littlelike's, at 7 p.m. Tuesday, the 8th inst. To my surprise I found the room was well filled, for 25 strangers crowded into it: they were obliged to sit two deep, on chairs, tables and lounge. I must say that I found myself in an enviable position, for a more eager and attentive audience I never stood up to address, and the Spirit of God was upon me, so that I talked an hour and a half, taking as my text the 16th and 17th verses of the 7th chapter of St. John, and I do not think there was a heart present but beat amen to every word that was uttered; and there were many stood up on the causeway by the door and window, and listened breathlessly to all that was spoken. At the close of this great treat many came up to shake hands with me, saying they would stay all night if I would continue to talk. I found I was tired at the close of that day, for I had done considerable traveling to get to Brixworth.

"I also held good meetings in Leicester, but there was no stranger. Since then I have held meetings in Gresley, Sheepshad, Whitwick, Gosbrough-Clough, Grantham and Nottingham, and find that there is a noticeable improvement in all of these Branches and strangers attend the Sunday meetings in most of them.

"Yesterday, being Christmas, Elder Squires and I went by morning train to Leicester, to spend the day with the wife and children of that thriving Branch, and to eat plum pudding and roast beef, 'as other folks do,' and to attend a tea-party which commenced at 4:30 p.m. The time till 7 was occupied in social visiting, and then commenced what I consider the more interesting part of the day's enjoyment, hymns by the able choir, songs and recitations. We were joined by many who were not in the Church, and the pieces sung were of the finest kind and were well rendered. The Spirit of the Lord was upon us, so that all was peace, harmony and joy; and I must record it as one of the brightest spots in my history and the most interesting Christmas I ever passed. The hall was beautifully decorated, and great credit is due to the able choir, and his Counselors, the Choir, and to do Justice I must say to every member of the Branch, for their untiring efforts and determination to make the affair a success.

"Elder Squires and I are in good health and spirits."

"F. M. LYMAN."
