A Sad Accident.

A month ago there arrived at Liberty some relatives of Brother Derricott's direct from the old country. The new comers consisted of a mother and several children who had left the husband and father back in England, and who is struggling now to save means to emigrate himself.

About two weeks after their arrival, one of the little ones fell sick and died. O last Friday one of the children, a little boy of 12 years, went in company with Brother Derricott's boy, up what is called North Canon Jor a load of poles. In coming down the canon the load tipped over and the little twelveyear old lad was killed. His neck was broken and he was otherwise injured. Death was instantaneous. Brother Derricott's boy was hurt some what, the load having caught his legs, but he got his pocket knife out and dug the dirt from under them, and thereby was enabled to crawl out, make his way down the canyon and apprise some friends, who immediately went and found what we have described. The mother is almost heart broken.

The sincere sympathy of the whole community goes out to her.-Southern Idaho Independent, Nov. 4.

Broken Shoulder.

W. H. Bywater, of the Twenty-first. Ward, is suffering from a severe and painful injury which he received on Saturday afternoon. He has been ia the employ of the city for some time, and on Saturday was working with the gravel train. He went to make a coupling of the cars, and the locomotive closed up on him, the driver and Mr. Bywater, not having noticed the action of each Temple and West Temple streets. Re-ferred to committee on streets and other. Mr. Bywater was caught across alleys. Governor West, as president of the Utah Natural Gas Company, presented a petition for the right to lay pipes along the streets of Sait Lake City, and ful that on Saturday night Dr. Anderson was called and an examination showed that the right shoulder had been badly fractured. His progress toward recovery will be necessarily slow.

A Promising Career Ended.

To the many friends of the late B. H. Howells would be pained to hear of his unexpected demise. He was a young man of much promise, the possessor of no ordinary degree of talent. He was a graduate of the University of Deserct, and recently principal of the high school of Brigham City. He was later still principal of the Twentieth 3,000 District School in this city, and 500 had occupied that position about month when he was seized one with typhoid fever, which termistant nated what promised to be a useful career.
