PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a derangement of the Liver, affecting both the stomach and bowels. In order to effect a cure, it is necessary to remove the cause. Irregular and Sluggish action of the Bowels, Headache, Sickness at the Stomach, Pain in the Back and Loins, etc., indicate that the Liver is at fault, and that nature requires assistance to enable this organ to throw off impurities.

Prickly Ash Bitters are especially compounded for this purpose. They are mild in their action and effective as a cure; are pleasant to the taste and taken easily by both children and adults. Taken according to directions, they are a safe and pleasant cure for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Habitual Constipation, Diseased Kidneys, etc., etc. As a Blood Purifier they are superior to any other medicine; cleansing the system thoroughly, and imparting new life and energy to the whole. It is a medicine and not an intoxicating beverage.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR PRICKLY ASH BITTERS, and take no other. PRICE, $1.00 per Bottle.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS and DISORDERED LIVER.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, a feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work, and are a perfect

EVENING NEWS.

Friday, - December 26, 1884.

CORRESPONDENCE.

WINDFALLS FROM WEBER.

OGDEN CITY, Utah, Dec. 23, 1884.

Editors Deseret News:

Previous to the 13th inst. we had one week of continuous high winds, which by its whirls caused the dust to rise in spiral columns to an immense height, and necessitated the closing of the doors of every mercantile house in town, but even then a large

AMOUNT OF MERCHANDIZE

was injured by the great quantity of particles of small earth which found their way to the shelves of the stores, besides a great deal of damage that was done to property in different directions.

Since the above named date we have experienced atmospheric conditions, the antipodes of that of which I have just spoken. For ten days past we have had almost

INCESSANT HUMIDITY.

Not a day nor a night during that time but has brought us either rain, hail, snow, or sleet which have rendered the streets muddy, and some of the county roads difficult to navigate through. For a change, however, to-night, it has been fair weather over head, although the clouds were thick, gloomy and threatening, and great crowds of people from the adjacent settlements have filled the city, and all seemed busy trading, exchanging the products of their farms for other commodities with which to arrange and enjoy the

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES.

I am pleased to notice that notwithstanding the dullness of the times, provision has been made for what few poor and indigent we have among our community, proper. As a sample of what has been and is being done, I may mention that Ambrose Greenwald, Esq., of the Ogden meat market, has with his proverbal liberality donated

TWO BREVES AND FOUR SHEEP.

Which divided among the poor of the five wards in Ogden and those of West Weber. In addition to these, there are dozens of beneficiaries who are the recipients of his bounty in a quiet way. Many despondent spirits have been raised, cheered, and made grateful by seeing ther empty dishes replenished through his muulificence. This is the kind of religion he believes in—it is pure, undemonstrative, and undefiled.

THE TRAMP ELEMENT

in this place are numerous, and their boldness in their attempts at forcible entrance into the houses of our citizens while the proprietors are inside, admonishes the owners to be always ready to give them a warm reception.

It is now a question with a number of our citizens whether it is better to imprison the lord of house breakers, feed them for the winter, or to administer to them a sound custigation and force them to leave the town. Of course the great majority of the people here are law abiding and wish to see the law magnified in the case of all offenders, as "two wrongs will not make one right."

During the present month we have had in the Justice's and the District Courts, and considerable sums of money have changed hands, and have been invariably transferred from the coffers of the clients to those of their "legal advisers" and defenders. Several important suits are now being prosecuted.

The holiday season has fully set in, and considerable histrionic talent is being developed by the member of our home dramatic associations, who come before the public on the stage in various characters, and, I am pleased to say, their performances are highly creditable and are appreciated and encouraged by the citizens of Ogden who seem to take pride in fostering the young people who are doing their best to furnish legitimate enjoyment for all.

The health of the people is considerably better than it was reported a few weeks ago.

The

EXCELLENT LECTURE

of Elder C.W. Penrose, on the "Mountain Meadow Massacre" is read here with much interest and profit, and I believe it will be the means of removing much ignorance and prejudice from the minds of many people, imparting to them correct information on that fearful tragedy, and causing them to enquire further into the faith, principles and practices of the Latter-day Saints. The Multum in Parvo volume ought to have an extensive circulation.

Tendering you and your numerous readers the compliments of the season, I am as ever. WEBER.

POINTS FROM PAROWAN.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE — EXCITING BEAR ADVENTURE.

PAROWAN, Iron County, Utah, Dec. 22d, 1884.

Editor Deseret News:

Yesterday at about 4.30 p. m. closed our Quarterly Conference. Last night at 9.40 closed our Young People's Conference. Two of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles were present—F. M. Lyman and George Teasdale—The burden of their teachings were: The people must live better lives than they have ever done before.

Our secular affairs may be said to be in very fair condition, excellent crops the past season of small grain, corn and potatoes almost a failure. Our Co-operative Institutions, notwithstanding the dull time, have done well and are in excellent condition at present, all of them, which includes our stock herd, sheep herd and mercantile and manufacturing institution. The last named institution employs a good many men in home industries—tanning, boot and shoe making, cabinet making, lumber planing, wagon repairing, blacksmithing, lumber making (25-horse power steam saw mill,) etc.

The bears in the mountains here are increasing and becoming quite a pest. Last summer the ranchmen, lumbermen and sheep herders were much troubled with them. The bears killed a good many cattle and sheep and some horses.

Only one bear was killed during the season and that was trapped by Bro. James Applegate while tending sheep. Two young men started one night after dark bear hunting, from one of the ranches, when they got to the corral they saw as they supposed, a cow that had been left out. They went to open the gate to let her in when brain raised up and reached out both paws, but the boys never even stopped to shake hands with him, but ran for the house forgetting all about their new Winchester rifles. The foe came too suddenly. They will do better next time. He that fights and runs away, lives to to fight another day.

Another young man went hunting bear in the daylight. Bear came towards him with open mouth. He raised his gun, drew the trigger, but the gun missed fire and did not go off. He stood trying to shoot again till the bear knocked the gun out of his hand. He then took to his heels without his gun, with the bear after him. As soon as he was able to get ahead of the bear a little he took to a tree and climbed up the fastest he ever did such a thing in his life before. When he got secure on the tree a second bear came along. Both bears growled around awhile and then went off. As soon as they were far enough away the young man came down, started running and never stopped till he got back to camp. A number of the men and boys in camp went back with him to the scene of the bear encounter. The tracks of the bears, the position of his gun, the tree where he climbed up, his torn clothes etc., convinced them that the young man had told them a true story. He said that he observed when running from the bear that he gained on him (the bear) much faster when going zig zag among the trees than going straight ahead.

On the 8th, 9th, and 10th inst., fell about 15 inches of snow. It is nearly all gone now and the wind has been blowing several days, prepairing for another storm. The general health of the people is very good.

WM. C. MCGREGOR.

☞ BURCHARD'S GOOD LUCK.—My fortune gave me a chance to dine out with a New York clergyman the other evening. Dr. Burchard and his alliterative oratory came on with the soup for discussion.

"It was a most unfortunate remark, that rum, Romanism and rebellion" quoth one.

"Very," assented the second. "Very; it unquestionably cost Mr. Blaine his election."

"Poor Burchard," sighed a third: 'he must feel dreadfully cut up over the sad affair."

Then somebody laughed. It was the reverend host. And this said he: "It was the greatest hit of Dr. Burchard's life. It has given him a national reputation for one thing and for another it gives him a chance to swell his purse into confortable proportions."

"How?" ejaculated No. 1 and No. 2 and No. 3 in concert. "How? They were aghast. Did this speaker mean to intimate that Burchard, D. D. was venal and had been hired to put the Maine man in the hole?

"How?" repeated the preacher. "Why, just this way: I know of three or four lecture bureaus that are bidding against one another to take him through the country. He was offered $100 a night to begin with; he can get two or three times that now, and for a long engagement too, if he would only consent. Will he take it? No; I don't think he will. Dr. Burchard is not the happiest parson in the land to-day. He is sensitive and this constant printing of his name in the newspapers jars sadly upon his nerves.' —New York Times.

JOHN ADAMS NARROW ESCAPE.—In one occasion Mr. Adams imperilled his life by attempting to cross the Potomac in a small boat, accompanied by his son John and his stewart, Michael Antoine Giusta, who had entered his service in Amsterdam in 1814. Intending to swim back, they had taken off nearly all of their clothes, which were in the boat. When about half way across, a gust of wind came sweeping down the Potomac; the boat filed with water and they were forced to abandon it and swim for their lives to the Virginia shore. By taking what garments each one had on, Antoine managed to clothe himself decently and started across the bridge to Washington.

During his absence Mr. Adams and his son swam in the river, or walked to and fro on the shore. At last, after they had been about three hours undressed, Antoine made his appearance with a carriage and clothing, so they were able to return to Washington. Mr. Adams purchased that day a watch, which he gave Antoine to replace one which he had lost in the boat, and he alluded to the adventure in his journal that night as "a humiliating lesson and a solemn warning not to trifle with danger." A few weeks later a Revolutionary veteran named Shoemaker, who had been for thirty years a clerk in the General Post-Office, went into bathe at Mr. Adams' favorite spot, the Sycamores, was seized with cramp and was drowned. The body was not recovered until the next morning, while Mr. Adams was in the water; but the incident did not deter him from taking his solitary morning baths, which he regarded as indispensable to health. —Ben: Perley Poore.
