

Hints to the Girls.

Did you never see a lady
Look into a stranger's face,
In an omnibus or a rail car,
As if saying, 'Sir, your place?'
Did you never see a lady
Walk up to the church pew door,
Lace and ribbons all demanding,
'Yield your pew!' and nothing more?

Did you never see a lassie
Flirt into an old man's chair,
And unheeding age or honor,
Let him stand—no matter where?

Never see the stage coach emptied—
For some fidget in her pride,
And the weary men of business
Tumbled out to ride outside?

Never go to hear a lecture,
When some fashionable dear
Would come in and make a bustle
When you most desired to hear—

Routing half the congregation,
And disturbing all the rest,
As if she was all creation,
Being fashionably dressed?

Now, dear girls, if you're so thankless,
So exciting and so free,
Time will come when gents will answer,
'My'am, this seat belongs to me.'

Never, girls, disturb a lecture,
Church or hall, where'er you go—
Still respect the rights of others,
'This is 'Woman's rights,' you know!

Never ask a man abruptly
To resign his chosen place—
If 'tis offered, thank him kindly,
With a smile upon your face.

If the way is long and weary,
And he cannot find another,
Bid him share the comfort with you,
As you'd share it with a brother.

Thus may you receive forever,
Given with a spirit free,
True respect, and love and kindness,
Better far than gallantry.

The Swell-Head Disease.

This dreadful disease sometimes attacks horses, and, probably other animals, as monkeys and jackasses; and some birds, as the parrot, and mocking-bird. But men are more subject to it, and with them it is more fatal.

CAUSE.—Vanity in the cranium. It is often augmented by flattery, especially when the cerebrum is small and ill-shaped. Men of large information, however, are sometimes afflicted with it, in which case there is found an inordinate swelling in the upper region of the head, just back of the 'apex cranii' (top of the head.) The protuberance is called self-esteem.

SYMPTOMS.—The poor creature usually fancies himself the biggest, smartest, best, and handsomest man in the crowd—loves the 'uppermost seats in the synagogues'—is given to impudence, impertinence, and unusually bad manners in company—is censorious and fond of finding and exposing the foibles of his associates—has few friends and no lovers, and has generally a bad odor to polite and well bred people—given to swelling and strutting, as if in one moment he fancied himself a toad, and the next a turkey-cock. He is egotistic, and passionately fond of high-sounding titles, as 'Squire, Captain, Colonel, General, &c.' The miserable patient is sometimes so inflated as to attempt to stride the ocean, or jump over very high mountains. These are only a few of the symptoms of this malady, but enough to identify it.

TREATMENT.—When it is caused by emptiness of the cranium, it is only necessary to fill up the vacuum with good ideas, a solid education, or common sense. When induced by diminutiveness, or malformation of brain, the cure is slow and difficult. We have known some cases which defied every remedy and destroyed the patients.—A cure must be attempted by exercising and cultivating those faculties which are deficient, such as the judgment, and the understanding, and depleting self-esteem, &c. The skulls of these patients are usually very thick and hard, so that it is hard pounding anything into them; but they are excessively fond of soft soap—give them a pound or two every day, and it will soften the skull so that you can probably get a little gumption into it, or a modicum of rationality, and they will soon be well. When this will not cure, soft soap will palliate.

In the case of those gentlemen, from ten to twenty years old, who get putting on the boots and pantaloons of their fathers, and to teaching their teachers, reproving, counseling, and sometimes insulting old age, chewing tobacco, smoking cigars, and drinking whiskey—swearing, and cutting the dandy swell-head generally—appetite for late hours, bad company, and bar-rooms voracious—a little oil of birch, applied by the paternal hand, is the best remedy. Then keep them out of the night air and bad weather. If this does not effect a cure by the divine blessing—the head grows and grows, till the poor sufferer topples over a few times, and knocks out half his self-esteem.—[Louisiana Baptist.]

Frederick the Great, of Prussia, an ardent lover of literature and the fine arts, as well as of his people, used to rise at three or four o'clock in the morning to get more time for his studies; and when one of his intimate friends noticed how hard he worked: 'It is true, I do work hard, but it is in order to live; for nothing has more resemblance to death than idleness; of what use is it to live, if one only vegetates?'

BUCKINGHAM PALACE BALL AND CONCERT ROOM.—This room is 112 feet long, 60 feet wide, and 48 feet high. The roof of this apartment rests on a wide cove enriched with stuccoes; double beams or considerable projection running parallel and transverse divide the whole roof into twenty-one compartments, each of which is shaped into a deep octagon recess, from which descends a glass lustre for gas lights.

TO KEEP FLIES OFF GILDING.—The meat market at Ghent is now completely free of the intolerable nuisance of flies. The simple remedy consists in the inner walls having been painted with laurel oil (Oleum lauri nobilis?) the smell of which the flies cannot support. Even gilt frames can thus be preserved unsoiled. The smell of the laurel oil is not unpleasant, and one easily gets accustomed to it.—[The Builder.]

EARTHENWARE.—It is a good plan to put new earthenware into cold water, and let it heat gradually until it boils, and then cool it again. Brown earthenware particularly may be toughened in this way. A handful of wheat bran thrown into the water while it is boiling, will preserve the glazing, so that it will not be destroyed by acid or salt.

DESERET STORE

PRODUCE

AND HOME MANUFACTURED GOODS

Will be received for Sale and Exchange.

Manufacturers, take courage; all you want is a market for the products of your labor.

Farmers, be wise; watch the spirit of the Prophet, keep his counsel, and exchange your grain for home manufactures only, except such indispensable articles as have not as yet been manufactured in the Territory, and to meet those deficiencies, a considerable stock of States goods of a certain class will be kept on hand for a time.

It would be ridiculous to mention what class of Home Manufactures will be required for Sale, or what quantity; for the fact is, we want every article from a mouse trap to a steam-engine, and the quantity unlimited.

Good, fat beef CATTLE taken in exchange for Goods. The cattle are wanted in order to procure fat for the Soap Factory. Holders of stock, won't you assist in this important branch of Home Manufactures? Some have promised you with, not; I say you will, for there are yet many righteous men in Utah.

Endeavor to communicate with me, and make your arrangements as early as possible. 28-3m W. E.

HERDING.

THE undersigned have established a HERD GROUND in Rush Valley, and are prepared to take stock to herd; and we feel confident in saying that the range is equal to any in the Territory.

The vast amount of Stock lost heretofore through the negligence of herd-men, and the severity of the weather in other valleys has induced us to locate said herd ground, and enter into the business of herding for the benefit of the people—said valley having proved the best and safest range for stock the past winter there was in the Territory. And we shall hold ourselves responsible to parties for all losses through our neglect of stock placed in our charge.

The convenient location of said valley to G. S. L. City will enable us to receive stock on the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month, at the Estray Pound in said city. We will also be prepared to receive stock on Monday, 26th inst.
