

EVENING NEWS.

Friday, March 10, 1938.

FRAGMENTS.

TAMORROW IS St. Patrick's Day.
 BARRY'S Minstrels at the Theatre tonight.

The enthusiasm in San Francisco over the Booth and Barrett performances is almost unbounded.

C. O. DUNN, of Cache County, now in the penitentiary, is steadily recovering from his recent illness.

ECKHART and Maynes, awaiting trial for making counterfeit money, were down from the penitentiary today.

THOMAS COLLINS, the negro soldier from Fort Du Chesse, was sent from the penitentiary to Provo today, to be tried for the murder of Sergeant Washington, colored, at Fort Du Chesse, on the 12th of October last. Collins is himself the only living witness to the deed, which he says was done in self-defense, as the sergeant was drunk and attempted to kill him.

It has been the talk for several days that a strike was imminent on the Central Pacific Railway. The employees wished to be paid monthly instead of bi-monthly as heretofore. The company acceded to their wishes last evening and harmony is thus restored where trouble would undoubtedly have arisen had the company acted otherwise. The railroad boys will hereafter get their checks monthly, which will be a very acceptable change to them as well as to the business public.—Ogden Standard, March 10.

Discharged.

Henry Standish, of East Mill Creek, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, and required to appear before Commissioner Norrell this afternoon. He did so, and the examination showed that there was no evidence to warrant his detention, so he was released.

In Honor of President Clawson.

"A" sends us an account of the manner in which the birthday of President Rudder Clawson was celebrated in Brigham City on Saturday last, by the Y. M. and Y. L. M. I. A. A company of about forty persons assembled at his residence, and a programme embracing musical, literary and declamatory exercises was gone through with. It was a very pleasant affair.

A Burglary Case.

Joseph Watson, indicted with R. E. Clifford for burglarizing a saloon in Park City on the 25th of January last, was tried in the Third District Court today. O. W. Powers, defended him, and Assistant District Attorney Clarke conducted the case for the prosecution carefully and vigorously. Watson's confession as to his part in the crime was introduced in evidence, and the case was given to the jury this afternoon.

Atherton Sentenced.

Yesterday afternoon Thomas Atherton was called up in the Third District Court on two charges of fornication. He changed his plea to guilty, and his counsel, Harnett Pratt, asked the leniency of the court, as the defendant had already been in jail three months. District Attorney Peters called attention to the fact that Atherton's conduct had been very bad. The court sentenced him to two months' imprisonment on each charge.

Police Items.

Frank Wilson was before Justice Pyper yesterday afternoon for creating a disturbance of the peace, and being proven guilty was fined $30. He also answered to the charge of battery, and for this $50 additional was asked.

Joseph Ashton has kept away from the city jail for several months. Last evening, however, he made a variation in his record, and was called up this morning to answer to the charges of drunkenness and profanity. He pleaded guilty and was fined $20.

Henry McKean, for drunkenness, was required to contribute $10 to the city coffers.

Eph. Kelly, for being a common drunkard, was assessed $20.

Eighteenth Ward Entertainment.

The immensely successful spectacular, musical and dramatic entertainment given in the Eighteenth Ward hall on Wednesday evening will be repeated tomorrow (Saturday) night, to meet a very general request. The programme consists of tableaux, instrumental and vocal musical gems, readings and recitations, and the laughable comedy sketch, "Lend Me Five Shillings," in the last of which the Home Dramatic Club appear. The show went with such vim and spirit before, and to a jammed house, many being unable to gain admittance, that it has been deemed advisable to repeat it, with some interesting changes in the programme.

Probate Court.

Proceedings in the Salt Lake County Probate Court yesterday.

In the matter of the estate of Wm. Jennings, deceased; order made confirming sale of real estate.

Estate of John Hayhoe, deceased; bond of Hyrum Yeager, executor, filed and approved.

Estate of J. R. Morgan, deceased; order made appointing time and place to hear petition for the assignment of the whole of the property to the widow of said deceased.

Estate of J. S. Roberts, deceased; same order.

Estate of Elizabeth K. Johnson, deceased; order made appointing Joseph Woodmansee, G. H. Taylor and G. E. Bourne appraisers of said estate.

Estate of Hugh McKelvey, deceased; order made appointing time and place to hear petition for admission of will to probate.

First District Court.

Provo, March 10. Deputy Redford brought in Thomas Nance from Trust Center, and he is undergoing an investigation today with the grand jury for shooting at La Boe, the shot having taken effect in the latter's arm.

John Christensen was called before the court for sentence under his plea of guilty to the charge of unlawful cohabitation. The court asked him if he could pay a fine of $75, but he said he was unable to do so. He was then asked which he would rather do, pay a fine or go to the penitentiary. The defendant preferred the latter, but the judge stated if he had a family at home depending upon him for support it would be better for him to try and pay a fine and have his freedom. The court therefore postponed sentence for thirty days to enable the defendant to raise the money, and ordered him to come for sentence at the expiration of that time.

The case of U. S. vs. George Udall, for perjury is likely to go to the jury this afternoon.

TAYLOR CONVICTED.

Of Murder in the Second Degree—Bond Acquitted.
