LOCAL BRIEFS.

City Supt. of Schools Christensen announces that building hours every day this week will be from 2 to 4 p. m.

Charles W. Swenson, a young man 26 years of age, died at Park City yesterday. The young man has many friends there and in Salt Lake, who will be sorry to learn of his death. He will be buried at Park City tomorrow afternoon.

Addison McCurtain, the 13-year-old son of Dr. McCurtain, who was accidentally shot on Friday, is reported as doing nicely at the Holy Cross hospital. The bullet which was supposed, entered the peritoneal cavity, has been located in the pubis bone instead, where it is not likely to cause much trouble.

Mrs. Sakuth, wife of F. A. Sakuth, the tailor who was said to be her husband's partner in a business, has returned. She said she merely went on a visit, but was taken sick and compelled to remain away from her home over night. She said that she had no intention of remaining away and that she informed her husband of her whereabouts.

Dr. W. F. Beer, during his recent trip to Denver, received injuries at Cheyenne in a railroad accident which will confine him to his room for several days. On last Wednesday he was standing on the rear platform of a car at the latter place when the train was backed up to be attached to the train. The jar threw Dr. Beer to the ground, breaking several ribs. He did not realize that his injury was serious and continued his trip to Denver. He did not discover that his ribs were broken until he returned to this city Saturday. He will probably be laid up for several days.

Last evening some unsophisticated driver hitched a horse and buggy to a telephone pole near the corner of First South and West Temple streets by buckling the lines around the pole. The lines had been left in the rings on the harness. The horse commenced to back away from the pole and of course the farther it backed the tighter the lines pulled on the bit, until finally, with a sudden lunge, the lines snapped, and the horse was preparing for a dash down the street, just as a gentleman who was passing struck and seized the animal by the bit. Had it not been for this opportune act, the careless individual would have been minus a horse and buggy. As the owner did not put in an appearance, the horse was again tethered to the pole, but in a different way.

PREST. SMITH IN BUTTE.

Party Seen by Newspaperman While En Route to Canada.

The Butte Miner of Saturday has this to say of President Smith and party who left here a few days ago for Canada:

Joseph F. Smith, the president of the Mormon Church, his wife, Lucy K. Smith, A. H. Lund and Maria Winder, stopped off in this city a couple of hours yesterday on their way from Salt Lake to Alberta and other points in Canada, where they will spend some weeks.

Mr. Smith was seen for a few moments before he left, and although he did not have much to say about himself and affairs, he stated that the object of his visit was to call upon the different Mormon settlements in Canada, of which there are a great many. These settlements, although not growing rapidly have a gradual growth and their affairs are as a rule prospering. There seems to be no trouble between the Mormons and other sects in these settlements and they live side by side without discord. The Mormons are governed by the laws of the land in which they do this there is no complaint.

Mr. Smith stated that he makes a visit to these settlements as often as he deems it necessary and was going this time as much for the trip as because he thought it necessary that he should look after his flock there.

The members of the sect in Canada number several thousands and are as a rule prospering. They are a quiet people and attend strictly to their own affairs and live up to their religion without ostentation.

Mr. Smith stated that he expected to be gone several weeks, visiting all of the settlements in Canada, and doing what he could to help and encourage his flock there. The Mormon leader is a charming gentleman whose commanding figure and long flowing beard make him a conspicuous person wherever he may be seen. His conversation is as enjoyable as his manner and towards his listener and it is a pleasure to talk with the leader of one of the most powerful sects in the world.

INSANE FATHER'S HORRIBLE DEED.

Park City Man Attempts to Kill His Family and Then Suicide.

OUT OF ASYLUM WEDNESDAY

Went There Last April Under Belief That He Would Some Time Do What He Did Yesterday.

(Special to the "News.")

Park City, Sept. 2.—William Trotman, a ranchman living about three and a half miles below Park City on the Snyderville road, went violently insane yesterday morning and attempted to slay his entire family with a monkey wrench, failing in the attempt he placed his Winchester rifle against his breast and shot himself through the heart.

Trotman was released from the State insane asylum at Provo only as recently as last Wednesday. It is said that he has always feared that he would go insane and hurt his family, of whom he was very fond. Accordingly last April he entered the asylum at his own request.

About 5 o'clock yesterday morning Trotman got out of bed and went out to the tool shed. In a few minutes he returned to the room where his two daughters were sleeping, and awakened them by kissing them both. Then he struck Emma, aged 15, twice on the temple, crushing her skull. Then turning to the younger one, who is 14 years old, he hit her savagely three times on the head with the heavy wrench, cutting her heavily over the eye.

The mother, hearing the screams, rushed into the room and grappled with her husband, the two wounded girls landing onto his arms to keep him from killing their mother. Mrs. Trotman is a stout woman for her size and she was partially successful in checking the insane endeavors of her husband to kill the little family.

During the frantic struggle the little 16-year-old daughter rushed out of the house and across the fields to a neighbor named Johnson. When the man returned he found that Mrs. Trotman had succeeded in quieting the maniac and was sitting on his knee. Trotman seemed dazed and had a Winchester rifle by his side near the chair in which he was sitting. After considering the talk Johnson persuaded the madman to come outside. Trotman picked up the rifle, which, he said, was not loaded anyhow, and made for the open air. He had not walked 30 yards when he placed the muzzle of the rifle against his breast and pulled the trigger. There was a loud report and the insane father fell to the ground. A horrible hole was made through his body, the ball entering just below the nipple and coming out at the back. The man breathed for over half an hour, but expired without being able to say a word.

The condition of the girls, especially Emma, is critical today, but the best is hoped for.

Trotman was 49 years of age and has lived near Park City for the past 30 years, and has always been looked upon as being a kind father and a good husband. There seems, however, to be a taint of insanity in the family, his brother, Pat, Trotman, having murdered a young girl and committed suicide about six years ago.

Sheriff Mau and the coroner, who were summoned after the tragedy, came to the conclusion that it would not be necessary to hold any inquest.

WALTER REYNOLDS DEAD.

Well Known Salt Lake Resident a Victim of Bright's Disease.

Walter Reynolds, a well known and highly respected resident of this city, died at his home in the Twenty-first ward at 5:30 last evening, the cause of death being heart trouble and Bright's disease. Deceased had been ailing more or less for two years, and had been confined to his bed for the past two months with the affliction, which culminated in his death.

Walter Reynolds was born in London, Eng., Dec. 18, 1823. He joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints when he was quite a youth, he worked for some time at Church headquarters in Liverpool, and in 1871 emigrated to Utah, making his residence in this city. For several years he was a pressman at the Deseret News office and later became janitor of the old Council House, which position he held when the house was burned down. He was also in the Zion's Savings bank for some years, and afterwards conducted a store and engaged in the manufacture of root beer. He leaves a wife but no children, and a brother, Elder George Reynolds, of the Church office in this city.

Funeral will be held in the Twenty-first ward meeting house tomorrow Wednesday, at 3 p. m. Friends are invited to attend.

TRAGEDY AT THE STATE PRISON.

One Desperate Convict Defends Himself Against the Bullyrag Conduct of Another, With Fatal Results—Matter Kept Quiet Until Last Night, When Victim Died.

There was a fatal stabbing affray in the laundry of the state prison Sunday afternoon, between two desperate convicts, Mike McCormick and John Gray, in which the former was literally butchered, and died last midnight in the prison hospital from the effects of his injuries. The matter, serious though it was, was kept so quiet, that it is said, a few of the guards even knew of it, and the papers did not learn of it until last night.

The two participants in what the Louisville papers would call "an unfortunate occurrence," were Mike McCormick, a former prize fighter who was sentenced from Ogden, July 22, 1900, to serve eight years for a repulsive crime, and was at the time of the cutting in charge of the laundry work in prison, with Gray working under him. Gray is well known in this part of the country as a very hard attorney. He aided in an escape from the Evansville jail a few years ago, and was only rounded up after a hard fight. He was tried later in this city for being an habitual drunkard, and was sentenced by escaping from the court room and though shot at, ran several blocks and hid in a barn before being recaptured.

The two men got into an altercation which was brought to a climax by McCormick who is much the larger man, striking Gray, knocking him down. The

FROM RAISING IN WAYNE COUNTY

J. Golden Kimball Says Conditions For It Are Better Nowhere.

FINE APPLES AND PEACHES.

What That Section Is Capable of Producing in This Line—A Cannery Would Do Well There.

(That Wayne county is capable of producing some of the best fruit in this intermountain region, was strongly exemplified today in the story told by J. Golden Kimball who has just returned from a conference of the Wayne stake. Mr. Kimball brought with him and presented to the "News," some of the finest specimens of home-grown fruit that have graced the sanctum of this paper for a good while. Not were they prepared for the occasion, for Mr. Kimball says there are tons and tons of such fruit there, so plentiful in fact, that the only trouble is there is no market upon which to place it.

The samples brought to this city show apples sold in abundance, a blend of inches in circumference, and weighing a trifle over a pound, with beautiful orange peaches of a size seldom seen in this valley. This fruit was raised upon 60 miles from Loon, and represents generally what is being done in the fruit-raising line in that section. "Last year," said Mr. Kimball, "they raised about 34 inches in circumference and peaches measuring 10 inches, so you can readily see what Wayne can do in this direction."

The conference was a dead end affair, some 60 miles south of Loon, and was well attended and of a highly interesting character. Elder Kimball went from here to Loon where he was held in a desecrated building, and words of 100 of the Saints, all of whom repaired to the place of meeting in buggies and spring wagons. This was on Friday the 2nd. The next day, Saturday, the 3rd, they were royally entertained by Brother Pierce, who gave them the freedom of his entire premises, and likewise donated to the widows and orphans of the church. Fructus, where they were royally entertained by Brother Pierce, who gave them the freedom of his entire premises, and likewise donated to the widows and orphans of the church.

The next day they proceeded to Calneville, reaching there in time for the conference, the 24th and 26th. Besides the attendance from Loon, there were representatives from Giles and other settlements in the near vicinity, and all had a time of rejoicing during the conference. One remarkable incident occurred in the fact that Bishop W. E. Hanks, who has presided there for over nine years, has never once been late for a meeting in that town. Bishop Hanks is a son of the late Bishop W. E. Hanks, noted in Church circles in early days.

Elder Kimball says that Wayne is a good country, only it requires a little capital to develop its wonderful resources. He said that the fruit-raising possibilities of that section, a cannery would do remarkably well there; but as the people for the most part are poor, and have no means to launch in any such enterprise, the money will have to come from another source if anything is to be done in this direction.

The prospect there are perhaps brighter than they have ever been, as in all likelihood the mining industry will assume definite shape in a comparatively short time. Heretofore it has been carried on in a desecrated way, but indications are that capital is about to step in, and if so work will be carried on on a large scale. This will help the country wonderfully and open up a market for its varied products.

At Torrey the people are taking out a canal to water the surrounding country. This will be finished in about three weeks, and will double their land under successful cultivation, and a great deal of hitherto barren land. At Calneville the people are prosperous, and are devoting much attention to the raising of stock. The cattle and sheep of Kimball think the country has a remarkably fine outlook.
