

RIFLE MATCHES WILL BE HELD ON AUGUST 1

Complexity of Details Necessitates
Holding Competition Earlier Than First Planned.

The state rifle meet, which was to have been held Aug. 6 and 7, will be held one week earlier than was at first planned, owing to the nearness of the annual encampment, which is to begin Aug. 8 and to last through Aug. 16. Details connected with the forty-third annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic also demand that the rifle meet be held one week earlier than planned. It is estimated that the rifle meet will not be complicated by the situation more than is necessary.

General Wedgwood says in the course of a circular letter on the subject sent out to company commanders throughout the state:

"Every company commander is urged to send a team in accordance with the provisions of general order No. 11, current series, this office. An order will shortly issue to that effect. Transportation and per diem will be allowed and quarters and subsistence will be furnished. The teams will be encamped at Fort Douglas on the evening of July 31 and every contestant must be in camp on or on the rifle range at 6:30 a. m., Aug. 1."

Major Williams Captain Coolidge will have charge of the training of the men selected from the contestants to represent Utah in the National Rifle matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio later in the month. After this team has been selected it will be practised as a team on the range at Fort Douglas and all the rules which will regulate the Ohio match will be enforced at that time to acquaint the men with them and to properly instruct them in the competition.

For the state competition handsome medals and cash prizes are to be awarded and it is likely that every command in the state with the possible exception of one will have a team in the matches. From these teams making the highest scores will be selected to form the team of fifteen to represent the state. In addition to the fifteen men will be three other officials. Each state sending teams to the matches is also allowed a range officer to the matches aside from the team and officers and this year, as last, Lieut. W. E. Kneass of Ogden has been detailed by the war department.

BRICK FOR NEW JAIL.

The county commissioners met this morning and entered into a contract with the Cahoon Brick company for 500,000 brick with which to build the new county jail. The outside brick will be a dark red and wire cut brick will be used on the inside. The first delivery will be made within the next thirty days.

NINTH HAS REFORMED.

Colored Cavalry at Ft. Russell Now
Recipients of Some Praise.

The Ninth cavalry, colored, of which C troop was stationed at Fort Douglas at the breaking out of the Spanish war, has returned from the islands, and is now at Fort D. A. Russell. The Cheyenne papers speak kindly of the darkies, and one remarks: "The negro soldiers of the Ninth cavalry have made a decidedly favorable impression on the Cheyennes, and on every hand daily are heard comments on the well behavior, courtesy, and consideration of these colored wearers of the country's uniform. The colored men have been at Russell for several weeks, and during that period, with a single exception involving only a minor offense, not one of the 500 odd members of the organization has been in friction with the local ordinances and the police guardians of the integrity thereof."

Evidently C troop was not a fair index of the character of the regiment, for a more disorderly outfit was never stationed at Ft. Douglas. They were a constant terror on Second South street after payday, and even at the fort required the constant watching of their commanding officer, First Lieut. White, who was also in command of the post. One of the troopers ran amuck there one evening, killed the first sergeant, and would have sent others to the happy hunting grounds but for the activity of his comrades who turned the tables on him fatally. One day the troop left for the Presidio. It was necessary for Lieut. White to practice his patrol Second South street himself with one loaded revolver in hand and another in his belt to prevent his men from "shooting up the town." He had to do some all threatening with a cocked gun before he could get the troop into the cars and out of town.

Succeeds Dr. L. W. Hartman.

William R. Ham, of the University of Chicago, has been chosen to succeed Dr. L. W. Hartman who leaves the Utah university to become head of the department of physics at the University of Nevada. Mr. Ham, who is highly recommended by the authorities in charge of the Ryerson physical laboratory at the University of Chicago, is an arts graduate of Bates college, Maine, and has pursued graduate work at Harvard and the University of Chicago. He taught first at the Central high school, St. Louis, and was an instructor in electrical engineering for two years at the University of Maine. He has been an instructor in the Chicago university for more than three years, during which time he has pursued graduate work with marked success. His research work while he has been with the University of Chicago is highly spoken of.

CHAPEL CAR ARRIVES.

Catholic Church on Wheels Side-tracked in Oregon Short Line Yards.

St. Anthony's chapel car, called the First Catholic church on wheels, is at the Short Line depot, and open today from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m. It is in charge of Revs. A. P. Doyle and A. W. Dorian who are thus making a tour of the United States, under the auspices of the Catholic Church Extension society, and is a gift of Ambrose Petry of New York. The car is equipped with seating accommodations for 100, with all the fixtures for religious services. It has traveled all over the country doing such satisfactory work that it is considered as beyond the experimental stage, and two other cars will be added to the number. Mass was said in the car at 7:30 and 9 a. m. today, and many Catholics inspected it. The car leaves tonight for Ogden where it remains until Saturday night, when it goes to Idaho. A week's mission service will be held at Pocatello. The idea of the car is to provide services for people in sections of the country where there are few or no Catholic churches, although centers where churches may be found are not neglected.

HIPPODROME CLOSED.

The hippodrome at Salt Lake will be closed after this evening's performance, and the aerial ballet and "A Night in El Paso" will become a thing of the past. The reason for this action is the lack of public patronage. "The public evidently do not care for that sort of thing," said one of the managers today, "and we shall try and find something that they do like." In the meantime the large sum of money spent in the construction of the amphitheater this year, and in its rearrangement this year, will be idle until a more popular attraction than those hitherto shown can be secured.

UNIFORM PURE FOOD LAWS.

George P. McCabe, an attorney for the department of agriculture, was in Salt Lake yesterday and held a conference with Willard Hanson, state food and dairy commissioner, on the state laws dealing with foods and dairy supplies. The purpose of his visit was to get an outline of the laws here and in the near future it is possible that uniform state and interstate laws will be presented to the respective legislatures of the state to pass. The state food commissioners of the United States will meet in Denver on Aug. 24 to 25 inclusive, when this subject will be taken up and discussed.

DEATH OF PIONEER.

Thales H. Haskell, G. A. R. Veteran,
Answers His Last Call.

News has reached the city from Manassa, Colo., of the death there of Thales H. Haskell, a Utah pioneer of 1850, who came here with the Mormon battalion. He has acted as a missionary during his entire career since and as an Indian interpreter for the government. He spoke five languages. Mr. Haskell was also a member of the G. A. R. He was a cousin of ex-Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, and was 75 years of age at his death.

MAY NOT TRY HIM.

County Attorney Intimates Evidence
Is Not Sufficient.

In the opinion of the county attorney's office the charge against William Hamilton, made by his wife, Annie Hamilton, of threatening to commit murder, after investigation, lacked the strength of supporting evidence presumed when the complaint was issued yesterday. The inference given out in the prosecutor's statement to the court was that the state would rather not bring the case to trial, even though the hearing was set for July 30. In the meantime, however, the defendant was permitted to go on his own recognizance.

Hamilton at present finds himself storm-tossed on the sea of marital difficulties. His wife is suing for a divorce, and it was alleged by her that several nights ago he appeared at her home and gave expression to his feeling by beating her. Hamilton was arrested by the police on a charge of assault and battery, which case is still pending in the police court, but yesterday the wife, unperturbed in her anger, swore to another complaint charging him with threatening to murder her.

MORAN FAILED TO COMPLY.

Board of Public Works Tonight Will Debate Contractor's Independence.

When the board of public works met tonight, the two estimates submitted by P. J. Moran on his Main street paving extension will come up for consideration. The two estimates amount to $34,700.43, but were held up because Moran had failed to comply with the orders of the board in not allowing for expansion joints between the sidewalk and the curb, and C. D. Hookledge's resolution providing that none of the estimates will be paid until this order is complied with will be called up for reconsideration in connection with the bills. The board holds that it has a right to issue orders to the contractor instead of the city engineer and the mayor, whose advice Moran follows on the work.

LEVY MUST WAIT.

His First Opportunity for Hearing
Will be July 29.

B. M. Levy, the dapper young fellow who came into Salt Lake as the self-announced representative for eastern capitalists seeking investments here and who was later arrested on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses through the issuance of worthless checks, will have a lounge in the county jail until July 29 before he obtains a hearing. His case was set for this morning, but at the request of his attorney continued until the 29th, the first open date on the state docket.
