President Farrer of the Provo Com-nercial club was first introduced and delivered a speech of welcome on be-half of the city. In an elequent address

C. S. Kingsley, an attorney of Bolse, was called. He qualified as an expert in handwriting. He was ask-ed to compare Pettibone's signature on the letter verteine to the neuron ed to compare Pettibone's signature on the letter replying to the insur-ance agent in Denver, who asked as to the character of Orchard, with the signatures of Wolff and "P. Bone" on the back of the telegraphic money orders. Kingsley said that in his opinion the signatures were written by one and the same person. He was not cross-examined.

STATE'S LAST WITNESS.

STATE'S LAST WITNESS. Jim Seahorn, a colored horse deal-er of Denver, the next witness, testi-died to the sale of a horse and buggy to Haywood in Denver. Orchard had testified as to the sale of the team to Haywood. He said that the outfit was needed to get about while in their work in connec-tion with their various undertakings. Seahorn said that Orchard came to him and with him he drove to Pettil-bone's place of business. Pettibione came out and together they drove to the place he described as the location of the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners. "What happened then?" asked Mr.

What happened then?" asked Mr. Hawley

"Orchard went upstairs and came down with another man." "Yes, what next"" "The other man got in the buggy and they said they would be back soon and drove off together." "Do you know this other man?" "Yes, sir. I have seen him."

Yes, sir, I have seen him." Would you know him now?"

Yes, sir. Look around and say if you can see him here. The negro looked over to the defense side and pointed a finger at Haywood.

MAN WAS HAYWOOD.

"Yes, sir, that's the man," he said. There was a pause and a silence broken only by a stir among the spectators.

It was the first direct connection of Haywood with Orchard and a strong corroboration of the Orchard story. "How much did you get for the out-

'One hundred and ten dollars." "Who paid you?" "Mr. Orchard."

"You just got the money and gave Drehard a bill of sale?" "No, sir. The bill of sale was made to Mr. Pettibone."

He described the horse as a little black mare and the vehicle as a top buggy. Seahorn was only briefly cross-ex amined. He said he met Orchard at the benitentiary after coming to Boise. He said he was summoned by Pinker-ton detectives and received his fare Seahorn proved to be the last witness Seahorn proved to be the last witness for the state. Senator Borah stated that with the exception of proving the sending of a money order for $75 by the Western Union from Haywood in Denver, to Steve Adams in Ogden. Utah, in 1993, the state's case was closed. Mr. Richardson, for the diffense said that they would agree that the state could file the telegrams as soon as they were received. Senator Borah waid that the telegram would be in Boise by this evening.

panies, accused of conspiracy in restraint of trade in charges submitted to the inter-state commerce commission by the Cos-mopoltan Steamship company, defend their respective companies and dony the charges. Emil L. Boas, agent and man-ager of the Hamburg-American line, which with the North German Lloyd line is charged by Peter Wright & Sons of Philadelphia, agents of the Cosmopolitan company, with being the head of the al-leged monopoly, says that notoriety seek-ing plays some part in the charges being made. "We opened up service to Baltimore and determination of the meal packers of Chi-cago to so far increase prices as to make up for the losses suffered by the packers as a result of the meat inspection law. "I don't think there is anything in that." said the secreary, "as a matter of fact Chicago does not fix the price of cat-tie. New York and the east have their buyers at Chicago, and they compete too sharply for Chicago alone to fix the prices."

Gustav Schwab, general manager of the North German Lloyd line, will not say much publicly on the matter, but thinks "that the inference conveyed is an attempt to arouse a feeling against for-eign steamship lines." Manager Sanderson of the Wilson (Hull) line, believes that the complaint is based upon exceedingly inaccurate reports. Paul Gotthell, manager of Funch. Edye & Co., freight agents for the Scandina-vian-American line, another of the ad-which that line does at almost ruinous cased, says that the amount of business rates disproves the charges.

force is necessary in order to suppress the uprising. Details of the mutiny show that a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, sent from Bezlers to Agde on account of the soldiers' sympathy with the local wine growers, mutinied there this morning, raided the magazine, filled their pouches with cartridges and with fixed bayonets and flags flying, marched out of Agde and entered Bezlers. When notified of the mutiny, Gen. Croisade, commanding the Sixty-first brigade, met the mutineers at Ulleneuve and at-tempted to persuade them to return to Is Natural. Chicago, June 2.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, D. C., says: In the opinion of Secy. of Agriculture Wilson the recent increase in the price of meats is entirely natural and even a fur-ther advance in prices may be expected. That the cost of meats is greater today than ever before is conceded but Secy. Wilson believes that American prosperity is at the bottom of the situation. The people are eating more meat and the farmers are not raising as many cattle as formerly. There is also an enormous export trade which cuts a great hole in the supply. Last year we sent abroad more than $22,000,000 worth of animals. meats and animal products. I was suggested to Mr. Wilson that the price of meats was due chiefly to the determination of the meat packers of Chi-cago to se far increase prices as to make up for the lasses suffered by the packers empted to persuade them to return to

THE MUTINEERS.

The mutineers, although without of-ficers, marched in to Beziers in per-fect order at 6 o'clock this morning, the cheers of the local crowds mingling with the colling of the drums and the strains of the bugles. After stack-ing arms the deserters announced their intention to renain on the square un-til allowed to reoccupy their barracks, from whence they were recently trans-ferred. The people gave the mutineers a warm welcome and furnished them with anple provisions and supplies of straw, upon which the tired coldiers threw themselves after stationing their plokets and proclaiming their determi-nation to defend their lives in the event of being stracked. The news of this momentous defec-tion of troops, together with reports of other mutinous eruptions at vari-ous points in the revoling provinces, reached the government this morning and caused the greatest concern. Prem-er Clemenceau immilately, summoned a cabinet meeting. At the ministry of the interior at noon inquirers were informed that the reports from Nar-bonne and Montpellier showed that both places were comparatively quiet. It was announced that the govern-ment's watchwords are, "The law must reign." The mutineers, although without of-
