THEATRICAL.—Yesterday evening a very excellent performance of "Othello," delighted an appreciative audience. Mr. McCullough's "Iago" is the courtier-like gallant Iago, as Shakespeare created him. Mr. McCullough's elocution is really beautiful and as smooth as the placid waters of a quiet lake. There is not the slightest straining for high-wrought effects, and he always keeps strictly within the bounds of nature. We can well comprehend the popularity of Mr. McCullough in California. Mr. Waldron's "Othello" is a piece of acting full of fire and vigor. His great scene in the third act was the best part of his acting. It is a test scene for the most accomplished actor, and very few come up to its requirements. Of the "Desdemona" of Miss Scheller, we have spoken before as being a most lovable gentle being, full of tenderness and deep feeling.

This evening Brougham's elegant sparkling comedy of "Playing with Fire" with Mr. McCullough and Waldron in the principal characters will be produced. It is a very amusing comedy, and sometime ago enjoyed a good run at Wallack's Theatre, New York.

To-morrow evening Howard Payne's excellent tragedy of "Brutus, or the Fall of Tarquin" will be given with the following cast: Mr. McCullough, Brutus; Mr. Waldron, Titus; Mr. Lindsay, Tarquin; Mr. McKenzie, Valerius; Mr. Graham, Aruns; Mr. Hardie, Collatinus; Miss Colebrook, Lucilla; Miss Adams, Tarquinia; Miss Platt, Lucretia. When Kean was in the very zenith of his fame, he created a great sensation as "Brutus" at the Drury Lane Theatre, London. "Brutus and Juliet" is in active preparation and will undoubtedly be a grand gala performance.

DIED.—In this city, this morning, George L. Waldron, aged two months and two days, son of Geo. H. and Isabella Waldron.

TENNYSON LECTURE.—Elder Phillips gave a very interesting lecture in the 19th Ward schoolhouse last evening upon "Descriptive Geography," which was an epitome of wonders he had seen in his travels in the Eastern and Western Hemispheres. We understand that he has promised to resume the lecture before the season is over, and then give a description of the peculiarities and customs of the many peoples of the human race he has visited.

Next Tuesday evening Elder James Ashman will deliver his second lecture upon "Physiology and Hygiene."

THAT'S RIGHT.—Last night a very interesting meeting was held at the residence of Bro. Ralph Ramsay, 20th Ward. Bro. W. L. Allen was called to the chair. The meeting was convened for the commendable purpose of taking into consideration the advisability of forming a carpenter's, cabinet maker's, picture frame maker's and carver's and glider's co-operative manufacturing company for the 20th Ward. The questions were freely and ably discussed by the chairman, also Bro. H. W. Nalabitt, H. Ramsay, W. Paul and others. It was unanimously agreed that the object of the meeting be carried out. The following brethren were appointed a committee to draft rules and regulations suitable to the requirements of such an institution and to select a suitable piece of land whereon to build work-shops, etc.—W. L. N. Allen, H. W. Nalabitt, Ralph Ramsay, W. Paul, W. Bell, Bro. H. W. Nalabitt volunteered to furnish machinery. It was unanimously agreed that the matter be entered into without delay. The meeting was adjourned until Monday evening next, when additional steps will be taken to further the accomplishment of this project. We need not add that the movement has our most hearty good wishes. It is a step in the right direction. We have no hesitations in saying go ahead brethren and you shall prosper.

ON A DRUNK.—Last night James McCormick, Ed. Walsh and Hannan Hanley, soldiers in citizen's clothes, when peregrinating towards home, one of their number, Hanley, fired off his pistol, and cut sundry other capers. This morning Alderman Clinton fined Hanley $15, and the others $10 each. They reported "funds at low ebb." They will, of course, at once enter upon the business of repairing streets.

EXECUTION OF DUGAN.—Sanford S. C. Dugan, an account of whose capture appeared in the News very recently, paid the penalty of his crimes on the evening of the 1st inst. The Denver Tribune of the 2nd inst. contains the details of the tragic affair. The poor wretch was being removed from the Larimer street prison to the city jail, for greater safety. The wagon was intercepted by about a hundred of the vigilantes, and driven with its doomed freight, under some cottonwood trees on Cherry street. A rope was thrown over one of the timbers, and the wretched prisoner, protesting piteously and begged for mercy, protesting that he had never robbed anybody, and had only killed one man, and that was in self-defense. The proofs of his guilt were so numerous that, despite his protestations and appeals for mercy, the fatal order to "drive on" was given, and Dugan was left suspended, the fall instantly breaking his neck. He was only twenty-three years of age. He was a native of Pennsylvania, where his mother and friends now reside. He went to Colorado in 1891, since which time he has led a life of crime, becoming at last so notorious as to attract the attention of the vigilantes, which soon led to his fatal and doubtless well-merited termination to his career.

ONWARD.—Brother Watt, in a communication dated the 7th instant, says that he delivered his 15th lecture on silk culture at Kaysward on Sunday. On Sunday evening he lectured at Bountiful on the same subject. In both places co-operative silk societies were formed. George is determined to establish sericulture in Utah. Success attend his labors.

INFORMATION WANTED at President Young's office, of Thomas Hull, or of either of his sons, Thomas, Robert and William, who emigrated from Scotland about fifteen years ago.

WANTS TO KNOW.—Isaac Hames, of Memphis, Clark county, Indiana, writes to Mr. Street, postmaster of this city, for information respecting his brother, Elijah Hames, who emigrated to Utah eighteen or twenty years since. Mr. Hames says his brother had two sons, named Nathaniel and James. If any of the family be still living, and should see this notice, they are requested to write to their inquiring relative.

CORRECTION.—In our issue of the 7th instant a few lines were inadvertently inserted in our local column, respecting the arrival of Mr. Samuel Smith, U. S. mail agent, from St. Louis, in which it was stated that Mr. Smith will thoroughly investigate the mail difficulty that has been running so long, and, if possible, have the evil remedied. In inserting this paragraph we intended no reflection on any of the mail officials. We have had the pleasure to receive a call from Mr. Smith, whose name, by the way, is not "Samuel," but Marshall Smith, and he informs us that he has been credited with that which was neither contemplated by the Department nor himself; and that he came here solely for the benefit of his health. He also assured us that he knows of nothing to cause in the conduct of the mail service or the officials.

BODY DISCOVERED.—The Boise Democrat of the 2nd instant says: While Messrs. Mooney and—who have a lot of stock down on Snake River, were looking after some stray cattle, on Monday last, their attention was attracted by a gathering of muskrats and other birds, on a sand bar near the water's edge. On examination, they found it was the body of a man, partly drawn from the water, which proved to be the body of Joseph Bacon, who it is supposed, was murdered some weeks ago by Sam Walters. The head and face were greatly disfigured, and a portion destroyed. A light-colored coat, lined with blue, which is known as Bacon's, was found near the body, and immediately taken and the information, and yesterday the body was buried after the body for the purpose of holding an inquest.
