AN IMPRESSIVES FUNERAL

Remains of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Jost and Also of Young Jesse Forbes.

A Correction Respecting Statements Made by Rawlins Correspondent Concerning F. S. Woodcock.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Jost, the wife of Samuel Jost, were held at the family residence yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. E. I. Goshen, of the Congregational church, officiated at the services. He preached a very impressive and consoling sermon. Some very sweet music was furnished by a double quartet under the direction of Prof. Joseph Ballantyne.

The home was crowded with sympathizing friends. A quartet furnished the music which was very sweet. Rev. Goshen, of the Congregational church, preached the funeral sermon which was filled with words of comfort to the hereaved family. Prof. Watson, of the High school, and Hon. G. H. Islaub, of the school board, made a few remarks eulogizing the noble character of the deceased and his haracter of the deceased and his brightness as a student.

Many beautiful floral offerings were laid on the casket. The remains were the 5th inst. there appeared an item from your special correspondent of Rawlins stating that one Frank Wood cock, express messenger, of train No 3, had become insane and had been taken in charge, upon arriving in Ogden, and that he being the same that was in the holdup of Wilcox and Tipton train robery. I wish to emphatically say that no part of the above statement is true, and that I was never in any hold-up or train robbery, nor was ever insane in any degree. It is true that I was sick with a savere pale in my head, a sick with a severe pain in my head, a complaint of which I am sometimes troubled with. The doctors pronounce it "phelicular tonsilitis," or congestion of the trifacial nerve, which is a severe pain in the head, but nothing akin to insanity. As to being taken in charge upon arriving at Ogden, it is a deliberate falsehood, as I walked three miles om the depot to my home, unaccom-

Logan Sugar Factory and Hyrum Electric Light Companies.

Special Correspondence. Logan, Cache County, Dec. 6 .- The old folks' entertainment passed off very pleasantly at Thatcher opera house, this afternoon. In spite of the incle-mency of the weather, the great building was nearly filled with the aged ladies and gentlemen of Cache Stake, who enjoyed to the utmost the good program presented. In addition to the features heretofore announced, there was a song by Miss Constance Thatcher and a recitation by Miss Alma Robinson. All the selections were Robinson. All the selections were beautifully rendered and proved that Logan has a wealth of talent. Great credit is due the committee, John Deakin, C. B. Robbins and H. J. were Professor Joseph A. Rees, David
Williams, August Swensen, Marinus
Larsen, Henry Thanning and Counselor Henry Gardner, who all spoke highly of the young man. "O my Father" was sung, after which the remains were six sisters, who despiy mourn the death of one they dearly loved, and they have the sympathy of the entire community.

CHOIR REORGANIZED. Last Sunday, the Third ward of Span-ish Fork reorganized its choir. The Bishop stated that he expected that all whose names would be read, would consider that a call had been made upon them, and that it was expected that every one would respond, and attend regularly to the duties. The clerk then read the names, which took quite a while, for when it was finished it was found that every resident of the ward but three were included in the call. We expect to have a choir now
