UTAH DIVIDEND-PAYING MINES.

Nineteen Companies Paid During The Year $4,612,500.

5 NEW PROPERTIES ADDED.

Utah Exceeds Arizona, Nevada, Washlugton, Idaho and Montana in Number of Dividend Paying Mines.

With a dividend record exceeding that of 1900 by over two million dollars Utah may well be proud at the opening of 1902 of her position as a dividend paying state. During the year just closed more mining properties have been opened up, more development work has been done, and more dividends paid than ever before.

promise for the future. Not only are the present dividend paying mines being operated on a conservative basis, but there are a number of companies already nearly in shape to pay dividends. In the several comparatively new districts to which attention has been called particularly during the past year things are rapidly rounding themselves so that dividends may be expected during the coming year.

The settling price of lead will not effect those silver-lead mines now paying dividends, and it is the expectation that copper will soon be put at a figure that will enable the properties in Bingham and in Beaver county to be operated profitably to the shareholders of the various companies.

The situation in this state is very good, indeed, and it is hoped that before very long at least a few other mines will begin paying dividends.

Five new dividend payers were added to the list of Utah properties during the year. They are the May Day, Carlsa, Quincy, Uncle Sam and Utah Con. The total dividend record, excluding the paying mines, whose affairs are

BUSINESS NOTES.

The last issue of Dun's Review speaks thus of business conditions in this city: "The holiday quiet season is on, and trade in jobbing lines generally is seasonably quiet, though a very fair city and nearby business was had in groceries, provisions, liquors, holiday goods and supplies. Retail holiday trade has been quite active and colder weather has also stimulated trade in some lines, while merchants as a rule express themselves as well satisfied with the business done. Money continues plenty and quiet, with collections

The latest move by David Keith in the matter of the Walker house property, is pretty clear evidence that he intends to creet a great business structure on the old hotel site and covering also the premises south of the Raybould block, 132 feet in all. Mr. Keith has contracted for the demolition of the hotel building, and by March 1 next, the once famous hostelry will be entirely a thing of the past. Half a dozen architects have drawn competitive plans for the proposed new block, the most noticeable and pretentious being those by C. M. Neuhausen and J. A. Headlund. The plans prepared by Mr. Neuhausen are for a building of nine stories to cost about half a million, and Mr. Headlund's plans provide for a ten story structure to cost perhaps $200,000 more. The front elevations drawn by both architects show the highest architectural and artistic skill, they are of stone, and though varying considerable in the detail, are in general appearance considerably alike. The principal difference is the location of the entrance to one side in Mr. Headlund's plan. while in Mr. Neuhausen's it is in the center of the building. Then in Mr. Headlund's elevation the central section of the building sets back a little from the full front line. In either case Main street will have one of the finest business blocks in the West if the scheme carries through. Mr. Keith has been holding back because of the advanced cost of building material, cost of labor and the cold weather, but when he rely intended. The Sears-Utah Salt company, through its manager Issac Sears, has placed an order with Jos. W. Wilson, ocal agent for the Great Western Manufacturing company at Leaven-worth, Kans, for a new salt mill which is to be erected at Farmington.
