The Intermountain baseball league sca-The intermountain baseball league sca-son opens tomorrow afternoon with a game at Walker's field and another at The local game will be between Bolse. Lake and Helena and the one at Baise is between Butto and Boise. The sfficial schedule of the league will be found on this page so Mr. Fan you can keep posted on just what is doing and when the doings take place. In tomorrow's game Mayor John S, Brandsford will pitch the first ball and then the rooting will start. The managers of the various teams are confident nd each feels he has the pennant winning bunch of ball tossers. That Salt Lake has a good team there is no doubt and the locals will give a good account of themselves. Manager Farnsworth has worked hard to gather up a fast bunch and he has succeeded. That the game will be well supported in Salt Lake City there is not a shadow of doubt, and if other cities will give as good suppart to the national pastime the success of the league is assured.

of the league is assured. The organization was brought about only after the hardest kind of work and great odds were surmounted to the accompaniment of "the hammer on the avoil." but the promoters stuck to their task and now we have a real league and the fans should see a first class article of ball. Of course, it is too early to make predictions as to which team will land the pennant, but at present Salt Lake has as good a chance as any other team and the management has a right to think the team will win. Every loyal Sult Lake fan hopes it will win and they are going to boost for all they are worth.

Salt Lake High, 72. Ogden High, 32.

The score tells part of the story of how the Salt Lake High school track team defeated the Ogden High school boys in their meet at Ogden on Saturday afternoon, but it does not tell how At-kins became the bright shining star of the Salt Lake athletes and captured 25 points for his team by his superb work, nor does it tell how he took a fifth of a second from the state record for the 100-yard dash, making the distance in 10.1-5 seconds. There were 13 events and Salt Lake took an even dozen; Bel-nap finishining first in the hurdles for Ogden.

GLENMORE WINS: It was a raw, cold day, just a-spittin' snow. It was my good fortune to be at the head of the stretch with William Jennings, owner of Glenmore, who gave signals to his jockey, Isaac Murphy, to place the horse. Mr. Jennings made the mistake of having Murphy lay away to far from the pacemaker, Willie D., and in the final quarter failed to ret up and was beaten by a neck in 7:29%. Jennings said if his horse was beaten Murphy had laid him up. I said that a mastah jockey wouldn't do that and only be beaten by a narrow margin. Theah was great glee among the east-erns over Willie D.'s victory, but in cooling Willie D. went lame, then it was the southerners turn to rejoice. There was great difficulty to get the winner out for the second heat, but after the applause had subsided the horse appar-ently forgot his lameness. Murphy's in-structions were to go after the leadeah and I want to say, it was a race. Willie D. led the entire journey up it 20 yards of the finish when Glenmore won by a neck in the time of 7:3%. This sent the balance of the field to the stables and after cooling out for the third heat Wil-lie D. was still lame. Theah was no chance for the tack, But his cour-age returned to him at the tap of the drum-they used drums to stabilish in these days-and he took the track and kept Glenmore busy as a nest of bumblebees for the entire four miles and was only baaten by a short head in the remark-able time of 7:314. SURPRISES LOCALS

Bert Margetts dug up a ball team yes-terday afternoon that walloped the Salt Lake Intermountain league team to the une of 6 to 3 down at Walker's. The game was a good one, too, and there was some individual work hard to beat. Scott, who played with Murray last sca-son, was in right garden for Margetts, and he not only fielded his position per-fectly but out of three times at bat he landed a couple of three baggers. Hall did some splendid work in the box for the picked aggregation and Salt Lake got only five hits from him. Annis did good work for the home team, holding the opposition down to half a dozen hits. Margetts played a good game at first as also did Gunn at third. They took in about everything that came their way. The detailed score follows: MARGETTS TEAM.
