Moyle Against Field In Governorship Race.

DEMOCRATS NOW BUILDING TICKET.

Will be an Easy Walk-a-Way for Powers for Congressional Nomination.

MOYLE'S CHANCES ARE STRONG

However, He Has Supporters of All Other Candidates to Fight but Will Probably Win.

HARMON, SECRETARY OF STATE.

Judge Henderson as Temporary Chairman and Judge Thorman Permanent Presiding Officer.

At the hour of going to press this afternoon the Democratic state convention is just settling down to business. In a short time it will have commenced the nomination of its candidates. There is little apparent change in the outlook over that of yesterday. That is, it would seem at this time, that Powers will be nominated for Congress by acclamation, and that Moyle will in all probability be named for governor on the first or second ballot. However, there has been a co-operative effort on the part of a few Salt Lake leaders headed by Blair and Sloan, who are by the way, not delegates, and a number of others, to accomplish Moyle's defeat, at all hazards. Like most delegates they could see that his nomination was well nigh a certainty. But it was argued that there was one way to prevent it, and that was to get as many other candidates into the field as possible, and thus cut up his strength. And to that end the names of Rulon S. Wells and Aquila Nebeker,

HON. JAMES H. MOYLE, Candidate from Salt Lake City for Governor of Utah.

J. Cannon of the state committee was received from Waterville, Me., where he is stumping in behalf of the national committee. His text set the delegates to cheering and applauding, when Chairman Henderson said, "get together and stay together."

BEFORE THE CALL TO ORDER.

When the delegates assembled at the ernment, instead of a spectacular government. (Cheers and applause.) "We are to be congratulated on the fact that the Democratic party has nominated for the highest position within the gift of the American people, a man who from the humble walks of life, has by consistent and energetic effort worked his way to a position of prominence in the nation." (Applause.)

A UNITED PARTY.

In referring to local conditions, Judge Henderson said: "We should meet in Utah as a united party, and to give our whole support to the nominee of the party. Our opponents have said that we are dead, that we are out of the race, but my friends we have achieved something that our opponents have failed to do. We have forced into retirement their nominee. For the last 30 days, he has remained in silence and no one can gain admittance to him without a ticket of leave. That is something they have failed to do with our candidate."

"GET TOGETHER."

"It is our duty to come together and consult upon the various questions at issue. It is laudable and commendable for men to work for office when they are the choice of their party, and it is of the utmost importance that the contest here be fair, and when our candidates are chosen, let every one of us go forth from this convention without bitterness and strife which characterize our Republican friends, and work for the election of our choice. If we nominate good men here today, and abide by that position and principle, we will elect them next November."

REPUBLICAN "ICE WAGONS."

Judge Henderson referred to the Republican convention and ratification meeting as cool affairs. He said: "I believe the papers stated that there were ice wagons in the parade, but there were no ice wagons; the day was entirely too chilly for ice. Many furnished excuses for not attending. Some sent telegrams of regret, and others explained that they had most important business in Park City." This was undoubtedly referring to Senator Kearns. The convention caught on in a second, and almost raised the roof with cheering and laughter. Judge Henderson concluded his remarks by again thanking the convention for the honor shown him, and predicted victory for the Democratic party.

Long before the convention was called to order, delegates assembled in the theater and groups were observed earnestly discussing various candidates and other topics of interest, including the question of the selection of a permanent chairman.

PEERY CALLS TO ORDER.

It was 10:30 o'clock when National Committeeman D. H. Peery stepped to the front of the stage and called the convention to order. His appearance was greeted with a round of enthusiastic applause, which was repeated when he announced that Judge H. P. Henderson would act as temporary chairman. That gentleman occupied a seat on the stage, and as he arose in response to Mr. Peery, the cheering was continued, and it was several seconds before his voice could be heard throughout the house.

JUDGE HENDERSON'S SPEECH.

Judge Henderson made a very brief but pointed speech, his remarks being continually punctuated with applause. He said in part: "Ladies and gentlemen of this convention: I feel highly honored in being chosen as temporary chairman of this convention, and I wish to thank you for the honor conferred upon me. I wish to congratulate this convention upon the bright prospects we have to inaugurate a form of good sensible gov-
