THE EVENING NEWS JBLISHED DAILY, SUNDAYS EXCEPTED AT FOUR O'CLOCK.] DAVID O. CALDER, BDITOR AND PUBLISHER. May 9, 1876. EDITORIAL NOTES.

-A Neosho, Mo., correspondent of the St. Louis Republican tells a story of some crazy people in Newton County, killing a child in response to a "divine behest." The neighbors heard a loud and unusual noise, shouting, singing, and pray-ing, at the house of Rev. Mr. Lynch, but the doors were barred. They were broken open, and a nude man and woman, Rev. Mr. Lynch and his wife's sister, were found in the house, and also a beautiful two year old girl child, with its skull mashed in, which they had sacrificed in their religious frenzy. — North Carolina wants the whipping post re-established, to reand woman, Rev. the police, so the commissioners have issued an order to disband the force. —Don't laugh too consumedly. A German woman in Meriden, Conn., laughed herself to death recently.

-The complaint comes from the Eastern States, that both fractional currency and silver currency are scarce, and much inconvenience is felt in consequence. The silver coin is "new and novel," and as high as four per cent. premium, and the fractional is getting scar-cer. The New York Express says, "The silver business is beginning to create a muddle in the matter of small change. Fractional currency is worth 12 per cent. premium and and silver coin about 2 per cent., merchants and others who have to have either one or the other for change are becoming disgusted with this whole business." ——The New York Marl says, by trade-unions and other for is high the use of unlawfal means by trade-unions and others from taking apprentices. ——The New York Marl says, "Hygienic reform is progressing.
