BUSINESS IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Conclusion of Eccles Damage Suit—Special Jury Verdict—March Jury List.

PLANS TO REMODEL BANK.

First National to Expend $25,000 in Making Extensive Improvements—Veteran Firemen Elect Officers.

Ogden, Feb. 20.—After eight days of hard battle in the second district court, before Judge Howell and a jury, the case of A. I. Stone, administrator of the estate of James Eccles, against the Union Pacific, was concluded this morning and submitted to the jury. This has been the hardest fought case of any of those growing out of the Arizona wreck of November, 1905, when a number of people were killed in a head-on collision in Wyoming. It is claimed because of the negligence of the company's operator to properly write on his orders to the train crew of one of the trains. The damages asked for is $20,000.

BANK IMPROVEMENTS.

It has been decided by the directors of the First National bank to expend at least $25,000 in remodeling the building occupied by the bank. The first floor will be occupied almost entirely for banking purposes, and is to be furnished throughout in the most up-to-date style, making of it the largest banking institution in Ogden. An electric elevator is to be installed so as to make the upstairs office apartments much easier of access. The part of the building now occupied by A. M. Van der Vlies is to be improved and fitted up for the Ogden waterworks and Ogden Rapid Transit companies.

VETERAN FIREMEN.

The veteran firemen of Ogden held a rousing meeting last evening, which was better attended than any that has been held in Ogden for months. It was decided to give a reunion and banquet in the near future. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Joseph Paine, president; Joseph Wright, secretary; F. O. Gale, assistant secretary, and Hyrum Goodale, treasurer.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

There was a good attendance of relatives and friends yesterday afternoon at the first ward meetinghouse at the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Annie L. Bird, which were commenced at 2 o'clock, with Bishop D. H. Ensign in charge. The ward choir rendered several selections. The speakers were, Bishop Ensign, Elders Wm. Biddle, Daniel Stephens and James Nelson.

The funeral services over the remains of Miss Cecil McCord were held at the St. Joseph's Catholic church at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Rev. Father Ryan officiating. He preached a consoling sermon on the resurrection, and gave solemn high mass. The services were largely attended. The students of the Sacred Heart academy attended in a body. Special music was rendered by the church choir. Interment took place at Mountain View cemetery.

FLOWER SEEDS FOR SCHOOL.

The board of education has received a box containing 2,000 packages of the choicest flower seeds which are to be distributed among the school children of the city. A quantity of the seeds will be sent to each of the public schools of the city and the students will be given practical lessons in the culture of all kinds of plants. The pupils will be given a practical lesson in preparing the soil for the seed and how to plant so as to obtain the best results. Flower beds will be laid out on the school grounds thus beautifying the premises. Seeds will also be furnished the children for planting at home. The seed was furnished by the United States department of agriculture.

C. A. Watson and C. C. Ames have filed acceptance for the Southern Utah Independent Telephone and Telegraph company with the county commissioners of the franchise granted the company in this county.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL.

Speaker and Republican Whip Confer With President Regarding It.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Ship subsidy bill probably be considered by the house at night sessions late this week. Speaker Cannon and Representative Watson, the Republican whip, conferred with the president concerning the matter today, and although no positive agreement has been reached Mr. Watson said that it now seems likely that the latter bill will be considered on the floor.

In case the subsidy measure is taken up by the house it probably will be under a rule limiting the debate to two evenings, and the bill will be subject to amendment.

After the postoffice appropriation bill, which the house will dispose of tomorrow, the measure limiting the hours of railway employees to 16 out of 24 will be taken up at the day sessions of the house. The sundry civil bill will then be brought forward, and as there has been a general refusal to grant a subsidy at any time during the sessions its friends asked for consideration at night. They seem now to be about to win their point, although the general impression is that the subsidy bill will be bitterly attacked on the floor and amended in many ways, if not defeated entirely.

WILLIAM OPENS NEW REICHSTAG

Headed by Palace Guard, Imperial Procession Entered From The Picture Gallery.

GIVES ASSURANCES OF PEACE.

Has Accepted Invitation to Hague Conference—Pleased With Results of The German Elections.

Berlin, Feb. 19.—Emperor William opened the new reichstag today amid a gorgeous stage setting in the great white hall of the palace, identified for centuries with great events in the house of Hohenzollern. Members of the reichstag, in uniform or evening dress, assembled on the floor of the hall, but there was not a Socialist among them, for, being anti-socialists and Republicans, they refused to countenance the sovereign in any form. The empress, attended by the Crown Princess Cecilia, and numerous princesses of the German ruling houses, occupied a great box at one end of the hall, while from another box the diplomatic corps surveyed the scene. Among those in the latter box were Ambassador and Mrs. Tower and Prof. and Mrs. Burgess.

The emperor attended divine service in the private chapel of the palace at 10:30 a. m. and listened to a sermon by Court Preacher Faber. After this the emperor entered the picture gallery adjoining the white hall, until the ministers of state, generals, admirals and all the great officers of state had grouped themselves upon the steps of the throne, while upon the left were the members of the federal council representing all the states of the empire, the imperial chancellor, Prince von Buelow, standing at a pace in advance of the throne.

The imperial procession entered from the picture gallery, headed by detachments of the palace guard. Then came two heralds, their tabards adorned with imperial eagle and wearing white plumed hats. They were followed by the chief of the general staff, Gen. von Moltke, with the imperial seal, Minister of War von Eilhem with the unsheathed sword of state, Field Marshal von Hahnke, with the imperial crown and Gens. Lowenfeld and Hefner, carrying aloft the imperial standard. Then came the emperor, in the uniform of the Guard, with the insignia of a field marshal, his golden helmet surmounted by a silver eagle, topped by a small golden crown.

The members of the reichstag cheered as the emperor and empress entered the hall.

Following his majesty was the Crown Prince Frederick William, the other imperial princes and the princes of the sovereign houses of Germany, forming a group upon the emperor's right as he took up his position on the lowest step of the throne. The imperial chancellor then advanced, handed his majesty the speech from the throne, and he, holding it in his right hand, and with his helmet on his head, read the speech in a clear, loud voice.

Referring to the foreign relations of Germany and to international peace, he said:

"The general political situation entitles us to the assurance that peace will continue to be preserved. My government maintains with our allies our old, heartfelt relations, and with the other powers good and correct relations."

"The treaty with Denmark signed Jan. 3, which was designed to remove disturbing differences by regulating the status of children in choosing their nationality will strengthen the friendly relations without northern neighbors."

In regard to the approaching conference at The Hague the emperor said:

"Following the suggestion of the United States and the proposals of Russia I have accepted an invitation to the second peace conference at The Hague which, in view of the results of the first Hague conference, will be qualified to develop further the laws among nations for the good of humanity and of peace."

Alluding to the results of the recent elections to the reichstag, the emperor said:

"The German people were called upon to decide a difference of opinion between the federated governments and the former reichstag, and demonstrated their resolve to safeguard the people and property of the nation by putting aside all narrow party spirit. The strong national feeling united, our citizens will effectively protect the fatherland in the future. Just as I am willing to observe conscientiously all my exceptional rights and privileges, so am I confident the new reichstag, composed of intelligent men ready to act, will acknowledge that it is its highest duty to preserve and strengthen our position among civilized nations."

Continuing, the speech announced the approaching of various government matters in parliament, among them being the supplementary budget, for the expenses in German Southwest Africa, upon which the reichstag was resolved, and measures providing for the construction of the projected railroad from Helmskop to Kubub, the development of other lines of communication with the colonies, the establishment of the colonial ministry and the indemnification of the farmers of German Southwest Africa as a result of the rebellion in that colony. The emperor said he hoped a considerable reduction of the number of troops in German Southwest Africa would soon be possible, as there were only a few rebels in the field.

Referring again to the elections, his majesty stated that the healthy spirit in town and country had asserted itself and had checked the socialist movement subversive of the state and society. It was the purpose of the federated governments to continue the social work in the spirit that had animated his majesty's illustrious grandfather.

"And now, gentlemen," said the emperor, "in conclusion, may the national sentiment and readiness to act which created this reichstag, rule its labors to the welfare of Germany."

The emperor ceased speaking and stepped down from the dais, the oldest members of the reichstag following the custom, proposed three cheers for his majesty, which were still resounding as the emperor left the hall.

TARIFF REVISION.

Rep. J. S. Williams Writes Gov. Guild Of Massachusetts on Subject.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Representative John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, minority leader in the house, today addressed a letter to Gov. Guild of Massachusetts, acknowledging receipt of a petition addressed to the president and Congress in regard to tariff revision.

Mr. Williams declares the doctrine of a maximum and minimum tariff is not new to him, but says that he does not favor the proposal of Senator Lodge, Speaker Cannon and Representative Dingley and Representative McCarley to make the present tariff the minimum schedules, with a maximum rate to serve the purpose of retaliation only.

The minority leader suggests to Gov. Guild that the "people" might well look to the Republican party for a revision of the tariff.

"My idea," he said, "is to make the present law the maximum tariff and to let by law the minimum tariff to all countries as do now or shall hereafter products of our markets free of duty, the products of other countries, foreign mines, and also to such countries as do now, or shall hereafter, admit all of our goods to their markets at minimum tariff rates."

WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS.

National Convention in Chicago Closes To Meet in October, 1908.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—With prophesies that before the delegates meet again in October, 1908, the society will have a membership of 45,000, with 1,800,000 more persons pledged to support its aims, the National Woman Suffrage association closed its convention here last night. The Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the organization, presided at the closing of the convention. According to the report of the treasurer, Harriet Taylor Upton of Warren, Ohio, the actual cash contributions to the association's work during the convention were more than $25,000.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of the Deseret News May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

Didn't Know I Had Kidney Trouble

"I was out of health and run down generally, had no appetite, was dizzy and suffered with backache most of the time. I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble, but somehow I felt that I must be taking Swamp-Root. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root, and it goes right to the spot and drives the case out of the system. It has cured me, making me stronger and better in every way, and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers."

Gratefully yours,
Mrs. A. L. Walker, 221 East Linden St., Atlanta, Ga.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering and many fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; make your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, make you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

To overcome these troubles take Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous Kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that has yet been discovered.

HOW TO FIND OUT

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly overcoming even the most distressing cases, that to prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands of testimonials received from men and women who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy they needed. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle.

In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say that you read this advertisement in the Salt Lake City Daily Deseret News. Swamp-Root is placed in a glass or bottle and you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
