TROUBLE OVER CHILDREN.

Miss Alice Harris was in Ogden yes-terday from Salt Lake City, for the purpose of getting her two children from her divorced husband. In 1898

Mrs. Harris secured a divorce from her husband, and the court gave the cus-tody of the children, a girl and two boys to the mother. Mrs. Harris had the children and it is said cared for them well. She went to California with the children and returned to Utah some time ago with them. Mr. Harris asked her the privilege, so it is said, of having the children visit with him, which was granted, but a short time ago the little girl was sent home to her mother, but the two boys were kept by Mr. Harris, who refused to deliver them back to the mother who

NAPOLEON!

Napoleon is a modern. The centennial of his beginnings is just at hand. He was elected emperor of France May 18, 1804, proclaimed before the people in July, 1804, and crowned Dec. 2, 1804. But he reigned for ten years in prison, and his spirit dominated France half a century longer. A son born to him died only a generation ago, in 1881; a daughter of his brother Jerome died in January of this rear, and the grandson of his first sweetheart and of his stepdaughter, Hortense de Beauharnais, now reigns on the throne of Sweden and Norway.
