

A MANAGER FOR TAFT'S CAMPAIGN

First Asst. P. M. Gen. Hitchcock
Will Quit Government Service
To Boom Secretary of War

TAFT ANXIOUS TO HAVE HIM.

Wanted Him Because of His Extensive
Acquaintance and Valuable Experience.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Announcement was made today of the approaching retirement of Frank H. Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster-general, Mr. Hitchcock will assume the management of the active campaign of Secy Taft for the Republican nomination to the presidency.

The exact date of the retirement has not been determined definitely, but it probably will be about Feb. 15.

Mr. Hitchcock will be succeeded as first assistant postmaster-general by Mr. Charles P. Grandfield, who for a little more than two years has been chief of the bureau over which Mr. Hitchcock presided. Dr. Grandfield has been actively identified with the postal service for about 20 years.

Several weeks ago Mr. Hitchcock was requested by Secy. Taft to undertake the management of his campaign. The secretary desired to enlist his services, not only because he is widely known throughout the country and has had experience valuable in campaign work, but because he felt the necessity of having a man in charge of the intricate details of the campaign to whom he could refer questions arising constantly and to which he was unable to devote the time they seemed to demand. It is no secret that Secy. Taft, in order to dispose of the great amount of work incident to the direction of his department, has been obliged for several weeks practically to exclude himself from visits to a part of the time. The work has been exceeding trying, as he is under a severe mental and physical strain for from 16 to 20 hours every day.

When Secy. Taft made the proffer of the management of his campaign to Mr. Hitchcock, he desired that he undertake the work immediately. As that in the view of Mr. Hitchcock, would have necessitated retirement at once from the office of first assistant postmaster-general, because he could not, with propriety, conduct a political campaign from the postoffice department, he told Secy. Taft that he would not assume the duties of campaign manager on the spur of the moment. He asked for time to consider the subject, and to confer with friends. The secretary entered no objection, but desired a decision as soon as practicable. Mr. Hitchcock finally informed Secy. Taft that if he could be given time to meet

FEELS WELL YET DYING

Many a man believing he is well has gone to an insurance company only to be told by the examining physician to put his affairs in order as he has only a few months to live due to advanced kidney disease. Thus, many people do not even know they have kidney trouble.

If you know it you have had notice. No matter how well you feel or look if you have kidney trouble don't feed it with delay. As above, it may be already chronic. Hence, the necessity for taking at the start the only thing known that reaches it in both the first and chronic forms. There is one successful treatment and we sent for it.

The census shows that 55,000 deaths the last census year were from a disease of the kidneys that was absolutely incurable up to the discovery of this treatment. It also shows that over nine-tenths of all the census cases, sooner or later, assumed this one form. How under the sun then can people who have kidney trouble afford to take anything but the only known specific for the serious forms?

If you have kidney trouble start right. We will give you full information.—F. J. Hill Drug Co., Salt Lake City.

his obligations and duties to the postal service, he would accept his offer. Practically Mr. Hitchcock has now concluded the work on which he was engaged, and in a few days he will tender his resignation and leave the postoffice department. Mr. Roosevelt joined Secy. Taft in requesting Mr. Hitchcock to undertake the campaign work.

It is not known what plans Mr. Hitchcock may have prepared for his new duties. It is known, however, whether he will establish headquarters in this city, but it is assumed he will devote his attention to the campaign of Secy. Taft in all parts of the country. He will, however, be looking after Arthur I. Vorys.

CONFIRMED BY VORYS.
Columbus, O., Feb. 7.—The following statement was given out here tonight by Arthur I. Vorys, manager of the canvass for the nomination of William H. Taft for president: "I have invited Frank H. Hitchcock to assist in the management of the campaign. He will tender his resignation as first assistant postmaster-general, to take effect Feb. 15. He will come here to be with me about the division of the work."

RAISULI SURRENDERS

CAID SIR HARRY McLEAN.

Tangier, Feb. 7.—Caid Sir Harry McLean, who has been held in bondage for the past seven months by the bandit, Raisuli, has been officially turned over to the British charge d'affaires here, in accordance with the agreement between Raisuli and the British government, under which Raisuli is to receive $100,000 as a ransom and a guarantee of protection for himself and family. McLean is in good health, but he seems to be weaker and older than before his capture. He says he will rejoin Abdel-Aziz at Rabat.

When Raisuli arrived outside the walls of Tangier with McLean, he sent in a demand for permission to enter the city, accompanied by 700 of his soldiers. Sid Mohamed Gabbas, the Moroccan foreign minister, flatly refused to allow him to do so, and Raisuli, as the result of inducements by the British charge d'affaires, came in with McLean and three domestics. When McLean had been officially turned over to British forces Gabbas released the imprisoned Raisuli, and Raisuli then departed, undisturbed and almost unnoticed.

CHIEF OIL THEFT.

Tiflis, Feb. 7.—The state treasury has suffered a loss of 1,000,000 gallons of petroleum through systematic robbery of tank cars on the transcaucasian railways, with the connivance of employees. LONDON TRADE DECREASES.

London, Feb. 7.—The January statement of the board of trade shows decrease of $20,825,940 in imports and $3,214,000 in exports. The decrease in imports is principally in raw materials and metal manufactures, while the decrease in exports is confined to manufactured goods.

Atlantic Rate War Over.

London, Feb. 7.—The official seals of all the steamship companies engaged in transatlantic passenger traffic were put to an agreement late tonight which ends the recent rate cutting and by which the companies undertake to maintain certain rates for all classes of passengers, the figures of which will be made public shortly. The delegates to the conference gave out the following official statement:

A protracted conference, which has occupied the past week, has finally resulted in an understanding being arrived at among the passenger carrying lines in the North Atlantic trade. Working agreements have been completed, comprising first, second and third class passenger traffic, both eastbound and westbound, and a satisfactory solution has been found of the much discussed question involving a division of the continental third class traffic between the British and the continental lines. It follows naturally that an early restoration of rates to a normal basis will occur. The steamship lines which participated in the negotiations follow:

"Allan, American, Anchor, Atlantic Transport, Canadian Pacific, French, Canadian, Dominion, Donaldson, Hamburg-American, Harland & Wolff, Holland-American, Red Star."

LIFE HISTORY OF CARLOS' MURDERER

His Name is Manuel Res Silva
Buissa—Was Born in Vinhães
District, Braganza.

VERY VICIOUS CHARACTER.

Friend Who Furnished Facts Does Not Think He Committed the Crime for Money.

Rio Janeiro, Feb. 7.—The life story of Buissa, leader of the band that assassinated King Carlos and Crown Prince Luiz at Lisbon last Saturday, has been obtained in this city from a Portuguese clerk in a commercial house, who was a schoolmate of the regicide. He says the assassin's full name was Manuel Res Silva Buissa and that he was born in the Vinhães district, province of Braganza, Traz-os-Montes, Portugal. He was a son of the noble of Vinhães, and as a boy he went to the lyceum at Braganza. He had nine brothers and sisters and one of his sisters, named Felismina, lived until a short time ago in this city. Manuel was not the first criminal in the family. One of his aunts killed a servant in her employ when she found that her husband was making love to the woman. She was arrested and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment in Africa.

As a boy Manuel Buissa was quarrelsome and audacious, but cowardly. He left the lyceum with the reputation of a bad student and as having a vicious character. The life he led in Braganza made it necessary for his father to put him into the army, and he was consequently enrolled in the Seventh cavalry regiment of Braganza. Even in the army he was a hard youth to control, but in spite of off-repeated punishments he managed to gain the grade of sergeant. He continued a dissipated mode of life and was soon transferred from Braganza to a regiment on duty at Alvas, on the frontier. Here he had a serious brawl with six soldiers. For this offense he was court-martialed and condemned to serve a term in prison, after which he was expelled from the army. Buissa then returned to his native village of Vinhães. Thanks to the influence of his father, he was given an opportunity to become a school teacher and it then seemed to his friends that he was going to reform and settle down. He studied hard and after a year went to Braganza, where he graduated from the district school. Buissa was intelligent and as he devoted himself to his studies he was soon given a minor professorship and obtained his diploma. After this he was sent back to the National at Lisbon as a professor, a post which he filled up to the time of his death.

During the last few years Buissa was a Republican in politics, and he had friendly relations with members of his party. He became a free thinker and it was his custom to defend his political ideas in open discussion in the streets and in the cafes of Lisbon. Buissa's friend, who supplied the foregoing information, does not think that he accepted money for the commission of his crime. Manuel Buissa was vicious and wicked in many ways, but he was above taking money for murder. Buissa's family is well off, not to say wealthy, and still lives in Vinhães.

IRON ORE PRICES HELD.

Cleveland, Feb. 7.—A conference of iron ore mine owners was held here today to consider the question of the price of ore for the coming year. Although no statement was made as to any action taken at today's meeting, it was intimated that the 1907 rate would prevail. Last year the rate for ore was as follows: Bessemer, $5 a ton; Minnabon-Bessemer, $4.75 a ton; Old Range, non-Bessemer, $4.30 a ton, and Minnabon-Bessemer, $4 a ton.

To maintain the price there is every indication that a reduction will be made in the amount of ore mined. This reduction was decided upon in the New York conference a few days ago, but no announcement was made at the time. The principal reason given for the refusal to reduce the prices was that it would necessitate a reduction in wages of the miners of the Lake Superior district, who are said to be now receiving the highest wages ever paid in that district. The curtailment will mean that many boats will be idle upon the great lakes this summer. Last year 41,283,755 tons of ore were mined. This year, one mine owner stated, it is not expected that the output will exceed 25,000,000 tons.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 7.—That the Burlington railroad directors have approved of a new transcontinental route from its connection with the Northern Pacific in Montana to its terminus at Kearney, Neb., was stated by General Manager Holdrege of the Burlington, in a hearing before the state engineer of Wyoming today.

way through the canyon, and it will interfere with its purpose to open the country a new transcontinental line if the canyon is blocked by a dam, this being the only route out of the Big Horn basin in Wyoming for the road the Burlington is now building. At the opening of the Shoshone Indian reservation, a few years ago, Asmus Boyesen was granted preferential right to 640 acres for mining purposes, and has since begun development on a large scale.

The Wrong Way.

Many Physicians Try to Cure Dyspepsia by Having Their Patients Starve Out the Disease.

This Method May Ruin the Stomach.

To become a physician one must study medical literature for a long time and attend several years at a medical college, dissect at least one human body, pass many quizzes and examinations, and at last receive his diploma, which entitles him to the M. D. degree.

Yet all this does not necessarily make a doctor. We have known many graduates, with their sheepskins, who could not apply the knowledge they had acquired to relieving and curing a patient of dyspepsia.

They were floored by their first attempt to cure such a patient. They were not to blame for this, for all the knowledge they acquired from medical works was wholly experimental. They were told to try the following:

Aromatic Ammonia.
Bicarbonate of Soda.
Bicarbonate of Potash.
Blue Mass.
Camphor Water.
Catechu.
Charcoal.
Cresote.
Hot Water.
Lime Water.
Magnesia.
Mineral Waters.
Nitric Acid.
Nitro-Muriatic Acid.
Nux Vomica.
Oil of Amber.
Oil of Cajuput.
Rhubarb.
Senna.
Spirits of Lavender.
Starvation.
Stychnia.
Sulphur.
Sulphate of Lime.
Tincture Cardamon.
Taraxacum.
Tincture Ginger.
Tincture of Iron.
Tonics.
Vegetable Bitters.

In the list hot water is the only remedy that will not do more harm than good, and its use is still an unsolved problem.

If the professor who coaches the graduate would hand him a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and tell him that it was a specific for dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach ailments, and should be his mainstay in such cases, that one grain of their active principle would digest 3,000 grains of food in the stomach, and that aided by the remedy, the stomach would soon regain its normal condition, he would find the student more good than sending him forth with a lot of uncertain knowledge about the cure of these diseased conditions.

The young doctor would gain a reputation by curing his first case of dyspepsia.

The patient cured would sound his praises far and near, as do thousands upon thousands who praise Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Instead of experimenting with the mess of medicine in the above list, and doing his patients more harm than good, he would always be gaining reputation by always curing his patient.

When he met any indication of a diseased organ, he should discover what hundreds of other doctors have, that the whole trouble started with imperfect digestion and assimilation, then take out of his pocket medicine case a few of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and tell the patient how to use them.

The result would be considered by the patient almost miraculous, and success after success would be achieved by him.

Many blood diseases, skin eruptions and heart troubles yield readily to Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they cure the incubating cause—dyspepsia. If the stomach is wrong, you are wrong all over.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold everywhere at druggists—50 cents per package.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address: F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
